FEAST AT KINGSTON.

Anniversary of Most Rev. Dr. Cleary's Consecration.

Celebration of the Feast—The Archbishop at the Catholic Institutions of the City...

KINGSTON, Nov. 21. This was a red-letter day in the history of the Catholic Church in the city and diocese of Kingston. The feast of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin, it was also the fifteenth anniversary of the consecration of our revered Archbishop, the Most Reverend Dr. Cleary. His Grace was consecrated in the Church of the Propaganda College, Rome, by the late Cardinal Simoni, Cardinal Prefect of Propaganda. There is no prelate in the Dominion who is held in greater affection by his flock than the Archbishop of Kingston, and preparations were made in every quarter of his extensive diocese that his feat should be observed with unusual solemnity. People and priests have been looking forward to the day with the heartiest anticipation, and not only the clergy, but the laity, evinced piety and affection which have been offered to the Archbishop. Last evening many of the priests of the diocese who had come into the city were busy hearing confessions, and this morning an early Mass was celebrated at six o'clock to give the faithful an opportunity of receiving Holy Communion.

At 8 o'clock Pontifical High Mass was celebrated in the magnificent Cathedral. The sacred edifice was crowded to its utmost capacity. The celebrant of the Mass was Right Rev. Mgr. Farrelly, V.G., who was assisted by Vicar-General Gauthier, deacon; and Rev. Father T. J. Spratt, sub-deacon. Very Rev. Father Mastersone, Rev. Father J. S. O'Connor were vicars of honor, and Vicar-General Kelly and Rev. Father J. V. Noville masters of ceremonies. Inside the sanctuary were the priests of the diocese: Fathers Kolton, Collins, McDonnell and O'Brien, of Kingston; Father Carson, Belleville; Father McCarthy, Bloorington; Father Carey, Brewer's Mills; Father O'Brien, Brockville; Father O'Connor, Burgess; Father Hartigan, Camden; Father O'Rourke, Chateaufort; Father Gaudin, Father Connelly, Frankfurt; Father O'Gorman, Gananoque; Father Macdonald, Nepperville; Father McWilliams, Loughborough; Father Davis, Madoc; Father Murray, Marston; Father Mather, Massonville; Father McDevitt, Father Twomey, Morrisburg; Father Hogan, Napanee; Father Duffus, Perth; Father McDonagh, Picton; Father Killalea, Sharbot Lake; Father Stanton, Smith's Falls; Father O'Leary, Spencerport; Father Keenan, Trenton; Father Fleming, Tweed; Father Quinn, Tyendinaga; Father Twohy, Westport; Father Spratt, Wolfe Island; Father Kelly, Yonge.

After Mass His Grace assembled the clergy for the celebration of a diocesan business. Letters of regret at inability to attend were received from the Archbishop of Toronto, Bishop of Hamilton, and Bishop of London.

At 11 o'clock, accompanied by his three vicars, the Archbishop visited the Convent of the Sisters of Notre Dame, where in the hall of St. Vincent Academy all the children of the Separate Schools were awaiting him. The spacious rooms in that handsome edifice were tastefully decorated in red and white. Cut flowers were placed in vases in the windows, giving the rooms a bright appearance. Over three hundred school children dressed in black robes, the prettiest decoration in the building. When the Archbishop entered the children sang, and the occasion being his fifteenth anniversary fifteen children each representing a flower came forward and recited a verse. The children then sang a song of greeting. Both the song of greeting and the verses were composed by one of the Sisters of the Notre Dame. One of the children read a complimentary address to his Grace, expressing good wishes and thanks for the interest he has taken in their education and welfare. One of the little girls then stepped forward and presented his Grace with a beautiful floral offering in the shape of a harp. His Grace addressed the children in his own happy manner. He was accompanied by Messrs. Farrelly of Belleville, Vicar-General Gauthier of Brockville, Vicar-General Kelly of the Cathedral, and the Separate School Trustees. The affair was most enjoyable.

The choir, under the able management of Mrs. Donochors and assisted by the band of the 14th P. W. O. Rifles, rendered some excellent music. After dinner his Grace visited the other religious communities of the city to receive their congratulations.

Altogother the day was a joyous one for this archdiocese. And its most pleasant feature was the energy and youthfulness exhibited by the Archbishop, who seemed best to feel in the slightest the labors and hardships of the day.

We join with his own people in wishing him many more such manifestations of the love and respect of his flock. Ad multos annos.

The Kingston Freeman.

To the Editor of the News:—

DEAR SIR:—In The Whirl of yesterday appears the published extract from The Orange Sentinel, published with the remark that "The Sentinel is edited by Mr. Clarke, and his opinions, therefore, on current questions are particularly significant." The Dominion Government is banking on the solid support of the Roman Catholic Church in carrying out its policy of coercion in Manitoba. That the Government's expectation will not be realized in this particular respect will find the Roman Catholics very glad to support the Roman Catholic Church in carrying out its policy of coercion in Manitoba. That the Government's expectation will not be realized in this particular respect will find the Roman Catholics very glad to support the Roman Catholic Church in carrying out its policy of coercion in Manitoba.

No newspaper in Kingston or in Canada is my organ in any sense of the word. Whenever I am required by a sense of duty to communicate my mind to the public, I do so in words, plain and without disguise. The paper which The Orange Sentinel has been pleased to style "Archbishop Cleary's organ" is, doubtless, The Canadian Freeman, published in this city; and the Editor of the Sentinel ought to be well aware that it is not my organ, and that I do not control or in anywise influence its political utterances. It was Mr. W. R. Meredith who first invented the story of my responsibility for the opinions of The Freeman, and announced it to a large meeting of the latter paper at a public meeting on Christmas, in the year 1889, when opening his second campaign against Separation. I called upon him publicly to retract his story, and his explanation was that he only gave it to me in confidence. He did not venture to repeat it after my retraction. But the host of newspapers that work with him throughout that fatal day, of the 24th of January, in the hope of thereby weakening my position in defence of the civil and religious liberties of my faithful Catholic people and their inalienable rights, have since then adopted the Constitution of the Dominion to rear their children Christians. We have heard nothing of that expelled fabrication since. I do not remember the date of the skilfuling preparatory to the war of positions in the Federal election commenced that forgotten story has been revived, and it is now being used as a part of the political strategy. Within the last week this story was set forth in the columns of a French paper in one of the cities of Quebec Province and commented upon in terms similar to those of the Orange Sentinel in this city. I published a contradiction of it in that same city. Now that the Orange Sentinel, whose love and admiration for the banner of the Great Seal, and who will make the Government of the day tremble in its shoes, should do to respect the Constitution and the judgment of the highest court in this Dominion, in order to resist the oppressor Catholic minority in Manitoba, I once again and most emphatically declare the story to be absolutely false.

The "abstruse" facility of the Editor of the Orange Sentinel in giving credence to the fables of truth and decency is apparent in the concluding passage of the extract from the journal, viz: "The men in power at Ottawa have no fear of going to the rights of the Catholics." Will they now cease to do wrong when the declaration of Archbishop Cleary is a plain warning that continued wrong-doing will not bring them the political profit they are counting on? A while ago it was boldly stated that a certain paper is Archbishop Cleary's organ, and that he controlled it. I am now required to see the political requirements; and to the sentences printed by the Editor of The Freeman are "Archbishop Cleary's declaration" conveying the same meaning as the government in the Dominion has their just must retrace to the persecuted Catholics of Manitoba the redress of grievances which the Constitution has charged them to redress and Her Majesty's Privy Council has decided to be grievances demanding immediate redress.

Had I the misfortune to publish a "declaration" such as this in substance and in spirit, I would regard myself as having forfeited my character for justice and honesty, and true manliness. I would be unworthy to act as a trustee for my fellow-citizens; I would be justly chargeable with dilatory to the Queen and the Constitution; my conduct would be treacherous to my country, and I would be justly chargeable with disloyalty to the Queen and the Constitution; my conduct would be treacherous to my country, and I would be justly chargeable with disloyalty to the Queen and the Constitution; my conduct would be treacherous to my country, and I would be justly chargeable with disloyalty to the Queen and the Constitution.

Very faithfully,
JAMES VINCENT CLEARY,
Archbishop of Kingston,
The Palace, Kingston, Ont., 27-1895.

A Good Deal in a Few Words
"I paid a Toronto specialist on catarrh a large sum of money but got no benefit. I tried a number of others, but they were not successful. I was assuredly without any faith, I tried Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. It is all that is recommended, which is saying a good deal in few words."—J. J. Rogers, Clerk, Division Court, Boston. ST. MICHAEL'S HOSPITAL

Addresses Delivered at the Opening.

A broad Catholic spirit permeates all References to the work of St. Michael's—The new Addition to be known as the Hugh Ryan Wing.

We give to-day the balance of the account of the opening of the new addition to St. Michael's Hospital (the generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ryan), which was too late for insertion in last week's issue.

The Archbishop having concluded his short address Mr. Hugh Ryan was called upon. He received a perfect ovation, the hand clapping being renewed again and again. He thanked His Grace for his kind words, and those present for the kind manner in which they had received them. Speaking of the motive which had inspired him to help St. Michael's Hospital he said that he had been a great deal among the poor, the laboring class, and his experience had been that accidents, such as a fall from a building or a scaffolding, which required immediate surgical treatment were of most frequent occurrence. He had known cases in which speedily surgical aid been attainable he believed the result would not only have been the alleviation of much pain but the saving of life as well. Here was St. Michael's Hospital in the centre of the city of Toronto, perhaps in the best situation attainable to render prompt service in such cases as he alluded to, and he could not hesitate to give help where it was so desirable. The only condition he had laid down was that the hospital should be kept open night and day for the reception of such cases. That was the only condition mentioned in the deed. He thanked the Archbishop for his reference to the character of the hospital, that its benefits were extended alike to all without any distinction of creed, color or nationality. (Applause.)

Mr. O. A. Howland, M.P.P., responded to demands for a speech. He made a graceful reference to the well-known speech of the Archbishop, and said he had seen that the work of the hospital is truly Catholic. Christ-like the Archbishop had said the work is, and essentially Christian all hospital work must be, since it follows the teaching of the Master in the parable of the Good Samaritan. Mr. Ryan had given the city a generous gift, and his generosity they might expect would result in ton fold good, for such an example as he had set could not be wasted, and must, as the Archbishop had said, prove contagious. He referred to the need for a hospital in the centre of the city, and to the modern equipment of St. Michael's to fill the need. He hoped that the hospital might prove a great blessing and be the means of preserving many lives.

Dr. O'Reilly, superintendent of the Toronto general hospital was next called upon and said he responded with great pleasure although he had not expected to be asked for a speech. He had always been in favor of a hospital in the centre of the city, and had always been an admiring observer of the work done by St. Michael's. He repudiated any impertinence which would attach to him an unfriendly spirit towards this hospital on religious grounds, for although he was an Irish Protestant he had many warm friends and relatives who were Irish Catholics (applause). He was delighted with the references which had been made to the Christian Catholic character of this hospital, and declared that no spirit of unfriendliness could rise up in the rivalry between it and the Toronto General Hospital. He was glad to acknowledge that he had seen in the equipment of St. Michael's things which were new and superior to the General Hospital, but that could only result in a general improvement and all round to the benefit of the city to such an extent, he hoped, that the work for the doctors would be defused.

Rev. John Hunt said he had been a regular visitor, at St. Michael's Hospital for two or three years attending such patients as might desire to see him. He was happy to have such an opportunity as the present of acknowledging the unfailing kindly welcome which he had always met from the Mother Superior and the Sisters. He too, could say from experience that St. Michael's Hospital is an institution catholic in the broadest sense of the word. He could also testify to the great care and skill with which the sisters attended to the patients. The hospital was doing the blessed work of the Saviour.

Our Lady of Good Counsel Society, Branch 10, of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Union, held the first of a series of open meetings on Tuesday evening, Nov. 12, in their Hall, Bazaar-st. An excellent programme was rendered, which received the hearty approval of all present. Very Rev. J. J. McCann spoke of the vast amount of good which societies have accomplished. Short addresses were delivered by Mr. C. J. McCann, Grand President, Mr. D. A. Carey and Mr. P. Shea, Grand Secretary. The meeting was opened by a prayer from being members of the Society. It is the intention of the Committee to charge to have open meetings once a month, the object being of course to increase the membership. It was a great success at the first meeting we prelude a large membership for these particular Branches of I.C.B.U.

Rev. John Pearson made feeling and eloquent address, in which he compared Mr. Ryan to the apostles of the old country who used that country as familiar words on every lip. Here in Canada, where such Christian generosity is yet in its infancy, he regarded Mr. Ryan's gift to St. Michael's as a hopeful sign for the future, and he believed Mr. Ryan's name would live as other worthy names have lived in the affection of humanity. The greatest blessings were sure to follow this work, for they knew Mr. Ryan's single motive was the inspiration of Him who said, "Inasmuch as ye do it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye do it unto me."

Dr. O'Connell, Inspector of Prisons, spoke of the impetus which the charity of the Roman Catholic people had given to hospital work in Ontario. He had been an advocate of St. Michael's Hospital from the beginning and he believed there was room for the institution to grow as large as the General Hospital. Last year it had treated more patients than any hospital in Ontario except the Toronto General Hospital, and more poor patients than any hospital without exception. He regretted that the city of Toronto did not see its way to making a per capita grant to St. Michael's, which was the only true basis upon which justice could be done to so deserving and beneficial an institution.

Dr. Nevitt followed. Ald. Hubbard was greeted with applause. He said he belonged to a Council which he regretted made mistakes, but he was glad to say that he also belonged to a Council which admitted the mistake and rectified it. (Loud applause.) He regretted there were not more aldermen present to listen to what had been said, especially to what Dr. Chamberlain had said. He for one, whether he should sit on a new council or not, would advocate that the city should follow the rule referred to by Dr. Chamberlain in giving aid to hospitals. (Applause.)

Mr. Robert Jaffray and Mr. George A. Pratt commended the spirit which pervaded all the addresses of the day, and hoped it would lead to good results. The hospital was a truly Catholic institution. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Hugh Ryan on motion of Sir Frank Smith, seconded by Warden Massey. Mr. Massey said that he had the most favorable opinion of Roman Catholic charity. At one time when a patient in Guelph sick from a contagious disease could find accommodation nowhere else in the city he had gone to St. Joseph's Convent and had only to make known his need and the man was taken in, cared for and restored to health. St. Joseph's Convent had thus become an hospital and was doing great good.

In closing the proceedings the Archbishop expressed much pleasure at the broad social Catholic spirit which had prevailed; he hoped it might rule all civic and social relations. Bigotry was the worst perversion of religion; it had nothing whatever to do with religion. The spirit of Christ was a spirit of charity and brotherhood, and as citizens we should all try to build up a great and harmonious people in a great and free country. He said those associated with him would always be glad to cooperate with any gentlemen engaged in a movement for the betterment of their fellow-men. His Grace stated that hereafter the new addition to the hospital would be known as the Hugh Ryan Wing. (Loud applause.)

NATIONAL CONVENTION

Decision of the Irish Parliamentary Party.

Resolutions of the Archbishop of Toronto Launched—Mr. Healy proposes an Amendment which falls through without a Division—Mr. Healy and Mr. O'Connor Expelled.

The Freeman's Journal is now at hand containing full reports of the proceedings of the Irish Parliamentary Party and Federation on the 13th and 14th, which culminated in the expulsion of Mr. T. M. Healy, M.P., and others and in the calling of the national convention proposed by His Grace the Archbishop of Toronto.

The following summons was issued to all the members of the Party: House of Commons, Saturday, 9th Nov. 1895. DEAR SIR.—Mr. McCarthy desires us to summon a meeting of the Irish Parliamentary Party for Thursday next, the 14th, at half past two o'clock, in the 23rd Rowland square, Dublin, for the purpose of considering whether any, and if any what action by the Party ought to be taken with regard to the South Kerry election. Yours very truly, DONALD SULLIVAN, Hon. Secy. WILLIAM ABRAMSON, Hon. Secy.

Mr. Healy immediately wrote a public letter demanding that the proceedings be open to the press. There assembled at 21 Rowland square on the 13th 90 members of the council of the Federation—67 members of parliament, 22 county delegates and 11 civic delegates. An official report of the proceedings was furnished on both days to the press. A motion to admit reporters was defeated on division.

THE MOTION OF EXPULSION.
The following was moved by Mr. William Lunden, Co. Limerick, and seconded by Mr. Joseph Davlin, Belfast: "That in consequence of the conduct of Messrs T. M. Healy, MP; Arthur O'Connor, MP; Dr. Fox, MP; William W. Murphy, and Joseph Mooney, in openly defying the decision of the Nationalist Convention, in South Kerry at the late election, and thereby leading to scenes of dissension, which, if tolerated, must inevitably end in the ruin of their country and of this organization, they are hereby removed from the executive of this organization, and Messrs Murphy and Mooney are also removed from the position of treasurers of it."

SIR T. G. ESMONDE'S AMENDMENT.
Sir Thomas Esmonde moved as amendment: "That this Council, acting in the interests of unity, and desiring to prevent the spread of dissension among Irish Nationalists, with the injury to their organization and their Party certain to result from it, deems it advisable, without expressing any opinion upon the merits or demerits of recent occurrences in Ireland—to let by-gones be by-gones. And, with a view to preventing dissension in the future, suggests that a committee be appointed to reconstruct the organization of the Irish Parliamentary Party, the recommendations of the said committee to be accepted by all members of the Party as final, and that any member of the Party who publicly dissenting from the action of the Party after full and free discussion within the Party be forthwith called upon to resign his seat."

THE FOLLOWING OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS WAS APPLIED BY THE HON. SECRETARIES OF THE PARTY: The meeting of the Irish Party was held on Thursday, 14th November, 1895. There were fifty-seven members present. Mr. Justin M'Carthy, Chairman, presided. The Chairman read the circular convening the meeting. Letters of apology were read from Mr. John Pinkerton and Major Jameson regretting their absence from the meeting. Mr. T. M. Healy moved that the press be admitted. E. F. Vesey Knox seconded the amendment. Mr. John Dillon moved that the press be not admitted. Mr. E. Crean seconded the amendment. On a division the motion to admit the press was rejected by 32 votes to 21.

REMOVED FROM THE LIST.
Mr. D. Kilbride first moved the following resolution: "That Mr. T. M. Healy, M.P., and Mr. Arthur O'Connor, M.P., in openly defying the decision of the National Convention in South Kerry acted against the discipline and endangered the existence of the Irish Party, and should accordingly no longer remain members of the governing committee of the Party, and are hereby removed from membership of the Committee of the Party." Mr. Finucane seconded the motion. Mr. P. F. V. Knox moved the following amendment: "That in order to prevent future conflicts regarding the power and authority of electoral conventions, the Committee be directed to prepare for submission to the next meeting of the Council any and all necessary rules for the conduct of the Federation, and for the summoning and holding of such conventions."

Mr. J. Jordan seconded the amendment. The amendment was lost by 23 votes against 24, and the original resolution was carried by the same division. THE DIVISION LIST.
The following is the division list: For the amendment—Messrs T. J. Healy, T. M. Healy, M. P. M. P., T. D. Sullivan, Donald Sullivan, O'Connor, E. Barry, P. G. Carrill, T. B. Curran, J. Jordan, D. A. O'Keefe, Wm. O'Malley, P. J. Power, J. Roche, J. J. Shee, D. Sheehy, Dr. Tannor, S. Young.—33.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTION.
Mr. John Dillon moved and Mr. J. O'Flynn seconded the following resolution: "That this Party approves of the suggestion made by the Archbishop of Toronto in favor of a National convention representative of the Irish race throughout the world, and that with this view of carrying this resolution into effect the Chairman and Committee of the Irish Party are hereby authorized to communicate with the Executive of the National Federation and jointly with them to make arrangements for the holding of such a convention."

AN AMENDMENT.
Mr. T. M. Healy moved and Dr. Fox seconded the following amendment: "That a convention of the people of Ireland be called forthwith, and that the Council of the Federation be asked to appoint a committee to arrange the basis of representation and invitations of the delegates and clergy according to established precedents in times past; that invitations to prominent and representative Irishmen or organizations should be issued by the Chairman of the Irish Party."

The amendment was negated without a division, and Mr. Dillon's motion was carried without a division. The Freeman points out that the actual numbers that voted for Mr. Healy's expulsion from the Executive Committee of the Federation by no means denotes the overwhelming weight of the condemnation when the representative capacity of the majority comes to be regarded. The majority included almost all the country delegates, and represented the great centres of the National movement.

DISCIPLINE ENFORCED—A CONVENTION DECLARED.
The Freeman says: By a decisive majority the Irish Nationalist Party has expelled Mr. Healy from its Committee. The punishment is unquestionably severe. It is unquestionably deserved. To have escaped such an emphatic condemnation by a narrow margin. Continued on Page 3.)
