Gillen was given cash for one month's rent, $41.75. Sept. 21, Bought stove for store by cash, $18.50. Sept. 21, Paid for postage, $5.00. Sept. 25, Lent A. D. Campbell, $3.75.

Always foot an account in the Ledger in small lead pencil figures, close up to the last item posted. See example on preceding page.

A comparison of the debit and credit footings of this account will show the debit side to be always the larger excepting when the money has all been paid out, in which case the account will be in balance. The balance on hand is a resource to the business.

To close the account write on the smaller side (which should be the credit) in red ink, the amount on hand and the word "Balance" together with the date. Then rule, foot and bring down the balance in black ink on the opposite side.

RESULTS.

Total receipts of cash	$2,758.20
" payments of cash	1,125.57
	—————
Balance of cash on hand.....	1,632.72
