

Readers may not fully understand certain Parts of this Discourse; but they will be so candid, as not to censure the Performance until they be better informed of the Course of Business in America. Such as are Judges of the Matter, if they see any reasonable Objections to what is proposed, will, it is hoped, for the Benefit of our Colonies, propose some other Expedient for the uniting of them: By which the Author will gain all that he aims at, as his Endeavours have been wholly calculated for the Service of the Publick, without the least View, or Intention, to reflect on any Persons, who either have been, or now are, in Power.
