

G 12.5
M68
1849

ADVERTISEMENT
TO THE FIRST REVISED EDITION.

The publication of the Sixth Census of the United States, (1860,) has enabled the Author to complete the first periodical revision of his School Geography and Atlas, in conformity with the plan proposed in the preface of the former edition, and which will be repeated regularly hereafter, every successive period of five years.

In the present revision, all the new facts developed by the late census, that are applicable to the subject, have been embodied in the Geography, together with such notices of recent public works, &c., throughout the Union, as a due attention to the progress of improvement rendered necessary, and the plan of the book permitted. The various political changes, also, that have occurred in foreign countries since the first publication of the book—such as the reunion of Upper and Lower Canada; the accession of the State of Yucatan from the Mexican Republic; the dissolution of the Peru-Bolivian Confederation; the retrocession of Syria to its former masters; the annexation of part of New Zealand to the British Empire, and other similar events, have all been carefully noted. In addition to which, such mistakes as have been detected by a close examination of both sections of the work, and which are more or less unavoidable in compilations of this kind, have been thoroughly corrected. Each emendation has been likewise made in the Statistics of various European and other States, as could be collected from a strict examination of the latest Geographical and Statistical works.

On the engraved plates of the Atlas, the population of the principal Cities and Towns in the United States has been accurately inserted, so far as the last census has furnished the means; also, all such Counties recently established in the various States and Territories of the Union, as were required to make the maps correspond with the important national document; together with all the requisite alterations, corresponding to the political changes noted above, that have taken place in different parts of the world. In the Geographical and Statistical Tables appended to the Atlas, such improvements have been made as will, with the addition of two new pages of American Statistics, render that part of the work much more valuable than before.

The numerous testimonials of approbation bestowed on, and the extensive patronage obtained for, Mitchell's School Geography and Atlas, in every section of the United States, are highly gratifying to the Author and Publishers, and prompt them to use such reasonable endeavours to improve each future revision, as to render the work at all times worthy of public favour, and satisfactory to their patrons.

Philadelphia, October 1st, 1862.

Entered, according to Act of Congress, in the year 1862, by S. Augustus Mitchell, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

PRINTED BY SMITH AND PETERS,
Franklin Buildings, 6th St., below Arch.