TRUSTEES UNGALLANT TO WOMEN TEACHERS

Request for General Salary Boost Didn't Succeed—L. V. McBrady's Little Protest.

HAMILTON, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The board of education was almost rude to-night in its treatment of a gentle petition from the female teachers in the city schools for a readjustment of their salaries. The ladies asked that salaries of teachers with four years' experience be raised to $350 a year, and to $400 for teachers with six years' experience. A bonus of $100 for entrance teachers, and a maximum salary of $1000 was also asked. The petitioners also wanted the minimum salary of kindergarten teachers raised from $250 to $300, and the maximum from $500 to $600.

When the petition was read by Secretary Foster, Trustee Allan asked that it be tabled, and stated that he intended to introduce a motion providing for salary increases for ten teachers.

No General Increases.
"It is just as well to let them understand that we do not intend any general increases," remarked the trustee. "The subsequent motion gave $50 increases to ten teachers, and $25 to another. Three department masters at the collegiate institute were also granted $20 raises, and nine caretakers each received a $50 boost, while one got $75 and another $25."

Had Tilt With Magistrate.
An exchange of amenities between Magistrate Joffe and L. V. McBrady, K.C., of Toronto, was an interesting incident in the trial in police court this morning of Joffe's case. McBrady was charged by the police with a breach of the liquor act, for selling beer from a wagon. The Toronto lawyer appeared for the defence and contended that it was necessary for him to sell beer from a wagon. The magistrate said that he had made a sale. The magistrate ruled that Joffe had violated the law in delivering liquor from his wagon without an order, and imposed a $200 fine, which is the maximum for the offence.

Judge Monck Better.
The condition of Judge Monck, who was operated on at the City Hospital last night for appendicitis, is reported to-night as greatly improved, and the patient is thought to be out of danger.

DOOMED TO LIVE IN CEMETERY.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The House of Refuge Board has refused the request of the city to allow Thomas Griffin, suffering from an infectious disease, to be housed in a separate dwelling at that institute. Griffin still remains in a shack, attended, in Mount Hope Cemetery, and his predicament is a pitiable one.

Make Outside Pupils Pay.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The Collegiate Institute Board will memorialize the Ontario Government to increase the percentage of the cost of tuition from 80 to 100 per cent, which must be paid by the county and outside pupils attending the institute on the ground that rural municipalities do not contribute to the cost of building or equipment.

POLICE STOPPED ERECTION OF POLES

Toronto Electric Light Company Prevented From Extending on Yonge Street and Indian Road—Don Improvements Will Cost Nearly Half a Million.

The police force were called upon yesterday in order to prevent the Toronto Electric Light Co. from erecting poles on the northern end of Yonge-street and on Indian-road, which poles were not in the city in 1889, and the company's charter only permits them to do business in the city limits, as defined on that date. At the last meeting of the city council it was decided to restrict the operations of the Electric Light Co. to the area mentioned in this charter.

For the last few days the company has gone ahead and erected poles without consulting the works department, but yesterday the city engineer gave orders that this work should be stopped. The city has ordered that these poles be taken down by March, and if the company does not comply, the works department will in all probability remove them.

New Central-street Bridge.
In his third report City Engineer Rust gave it as his opinion that it would be better to erect a new Central-street bridge, than widen the old one. A new steel bridge, similar to the one at Wilton-avenue, would cost about $15,000, while a concrete structure would cost about $200,000.

Mr. Rust estimates the cost of dredging the Don River from the G. T. R. tracks to Winchester-street at $200,000. The proposed concrete embankment with side walks on both sides would add some $200,000 to the cost of the Don River improvements.

Numerous estimates and suggestions were included in the report which will be taken up by the works committee to-day. It will be a busy year for the department since already their program calls for an expenditure of $1,500,000.

Exhibition Directors.
The exhibition directors will meet on Saturday to elect the executive for the ensuing year. The chief contest will likely be that of first vice-president for which office Mayor Geary and ex-Mayor Oliver are both candidates.

THE CITY STREET.

To you, a narrow way, stone-set and eternally
House-rimmed and noisy with the city's cries;
Over-arched by pallid lengths of sky
Where roof-lines just and struggling steeples rise:
By day crude prose, by night a gloomy lane
Where all disconsolate the night wind
And solitary footsteps pass apace
Between countless sepulchres of sleeping homes.
To me, an aisle whose tree-arched vistas frame
Glimpses of dawn or burning sunset
red
A byway echoing to the city's call,
And sanctified by passing human tread:
With frowning fronts of homes, but masks at best.
Behind which all life's throbbing passions leap.
By day all vibrant with the sounds of toil,
At night poetic thru the spell of sleep.

JAPANESE DENTISTRY.

Japanese native dentists conduct their business in a manner which would undoubtedly cause any European practitioner to open his eyes in amazement.

The victim is seated on the ground, the dentist bends over him, and forces his left hand between the patient's jaw, in possibly a manner that the mouth cannot possibly be closed. Then he grasps the dooped tooth between the thumb and forefinger of the right hand, and with one deft wrench removes it and throws it into the ground.

So great is the skill of these native dentists that many of them are able to remove six or seven teeth a minute. Indeed, their skill is hardly to be wondered at, when one considers the course of preparatory training they are obliged to undergo.

A number of holes are bored in a stout plank and this is fixed firmly to the ground. In the holes are driven wooden pegs, and finally the dentist has to extract them with his fingers without dislodging the board. This process is repeated with a board of pine wood, and finally with one of steel, and it is only when he has succeeded in extracting the pegs from the oak plank that the Japanese considers himself qualified to practice upon his fellow men.

That Most Dreaded Disease: TUBERCULOSIS

More people die of tuberculosis annually, than of any other disease—in fact, 1/4 of the total death rate.

WILSON'S INVALIDS' PORT

(A la Quina du Pérou)

is a most excellent tonic for patients suffering from tuberculosis of the lungs, because they can take it continuously and rapidly absorb and assimilate it, and above all it has a directly curative effect upon the tubercular process itself.

Wilson's Invalids' Port increases the appetite in a most remarkable manner and directly improves digestion.

The results attained in the various Sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis depend entirely upon the increased carbonic acid formation in the body from enhanced nutrition. Wilson's Invalids' Port by its appetizing and digestive qualities causes constitutional improvement and increased strength, thus attaining the same end as the sanatoria in a more simple and potent way.

It must be remembered, however, that tuberculosis is a more or less chronic affection and that months of treatment are required to attain results—a cure cannot be expected in a week or two.

Dr. P. E. HUGHES, Mayor of Leamington, Ont., says: "I like 'Wilson's Invalids' Port' very much as a tonic and am prescribing it for convalescents. It fills a place in medicine I have often sought for help."
