By the samey smale you gave me,
When you taught this soul to sigh,
By the charms which still enslave me
Breathing joys that he er can die;
By the magic love sheds o'er thee,
By youth's mingled hope and fear,
By all that makes the heart adore thee,
Thou alone art loved and dear!

By the rosy crown you wreathed me
In the noomtide of our bliss,
By the hallowed words you breathed me
Sealing plight with holy kiss:
By the tess which freadship twineth,
By love's bands more bright, more dear,
By that wows which Truth ensimineth,
Thou alone art loved and dear!

By that bark which, carless, floating,
Love's light sail first urged along,
By that shell which maiden, deating,
By the hand which traced delighted
The shadowy form of lover near,
By each ow that man e'er plighted,
Thou alone art loved and dear!

APPETITES IN COLD CLIMATES.—In the frozen regions of the North, the appletite fo food, and the power of digestion, are commonly excessive. Capt. Cochran, in his account of a journey through Russia and Siberian Tartary, gives some remarkable illustrations of this fact. Admiral Saritchef states that a Yankut informed him, that one of their men was accustomed to consume at home in the space of 24 hours, the him dunter of a large ox, 20 pounds of fat, and a proportionate quantity of melted butter for list drink. The appearances of the man not justifying the assertion, the Admiral had anind to try his germandizing powers, and for this purpose he had a thick portridge of rice boiled down with three pounds of fat, and a proportionate quantity of melted butter for list drink. The appearances of the man not justifying the assertion, the Admiral had anind to try his germandizing powers, and dronk particles and Shawits, selected the proportionate quantity of melted butter for list drink. The appearances of the man not justifying the assertion, the Admiral had anind to try his germandizing powers, and a proportionate quantity of melted butter for list drink. The appearances of the man not justifying the assertion, the date of the pr

Tax on Luxuries.—It appears from a report to the British Parliament, on the import duties of Great Britain, that the Government derives from the single article of tobasco, an annual revenue of about three million pounds. In 1839, it exceeded this sum £495,686, amounting to nearly seventeen millions of dol lars! About twelve hundred different articles are subject to import duty, which yield an annual revenue of £22,962,610.

Mourning—Europeans, for mourning, put on black; the Chinese, and the ancient Spar-tans and Romans, put on white; the Egypt-ians, yellow; the Æthiopians, brown; the Turks, violet; and kings and cardinals indi-cate their grief by purple.

BALDNESS.

BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR

Is the grandest ornament belonging to the human frame. How strangely the loss of it changes the countenance, and prematurely brings on the appearance of old age, which causes many to recoil at being uncovered, and sometimes even shun society to avoid the jests and sucers of their acquaintance; the remainder of their lives is consequently spent in retirement. In short, not even the loss of property fills the generous thinking youth with that heavy sinking gloom as does the loss of his hair. To avent all these unpleasant circumstances, OLDRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA stops the hair from falling off on the first application, and a few bottles restores it again. It likewise produces eyebrows and whiskers; prevents has heir from targing area, make air card heavifully. It likewise produces eyebrows and whiskers; prevents the hair from turning grey, makes it curl beautifully, and frees it from scurf. Numerous certificates of the first respectability in support of the virtues of Oldridge's Baim are shown by the proprietors.

The Read the following:

ROBERT WHARTON, Esq. late Mayor of Philadelphia, has certified, as may be shown below, to the high character of the following geattlemen:

A CASE IN POINT.

t had unfortunately lost nearly all the hair from the top head, when I commenced the use of the Balm of Columbi d have, by the use of two bottles, had my head covered wine growth of hair. There can be no mightake in the mattain of my of ing friends can see by calling on me. I had also the many of ing friends can see by calling on me. I had also the own in, as the Balm says, of the natural color. If any be over in, as the best facts, but them can I upon me and see. I boug to Balm of Constock & Co., 2 Pictcher-street.

HEADACHE.

DR. E. SPOIIN, a German Physician of much note, having devoted his attention for some years to the cure and removal of the causes of the NERVOUS AND SICK HEADACHE, has the satisfaction to make known, that he has a remedy which by removing the causes cures effectually and permanently this distressing complaint. There are many families who have considered Sick Headache, a constitutional incurable family complaint. Dr. S. assures them they are mistaken, and laboring under distress which they might not only alleviate, but eradicate by the use of his romedy.

It is the result of scientific research, and is entirely of a different character from navertized patent medicines, and is not unpleasant to the taste.
