OTTAWA REPORT ON SARDINES

Ottawa, June 11—Thanks largely to the loyal support of the Canadian women in giving preference to the Canadian product, the sardine industry of the maritime provinces has so improved that some of the firms have reopened several weeks before it was anticipated. The old stocks, which amounted to a glut, are now being moved, and the new pack is in hand. Other firms are expected to re-open, according to the information of the Canadian Trade Commission, in a week or two.

In making the announcement, the commission mentions the response made by large and small grocers and dealers. Everything has been done to safeguard the public from being exploited in price, and it is worth noting that for both Canadian sardines and salmon have been sold wholesale at figures from fifteen to fifty per cent below any imported sardines, though the nutritive value, as shown in a government analysis recently made of these home produced fish, are for both classes higher than in corresponding but more expensive fish imported.

NEW DRUG STORE IN NORTH END; THE CROCKETT-McMILLIN PHARMACY

Two popular members of the drugist fraternity, J. Herbert Crockett and Wm. J. McMillin, have opened a bright new drug store at 638 Main street, under the name "The Crockett-McMillin Pharmacy." Both are registered druggists of long and reliable standing and their experience should be valuable especially in the prescriptions end of the business on which they aim to concentrate particular care. Considering how few registered druggists there are through the province, this new firm is very fortunate in having two, as it ensures of one at least being always on hand. An up-to-date line of sundries of various sorts is being carried with a full complement of medicinal stocks as well as a soda fount, without which, it means no modern drug store is complete. Messrs. McMillin and Crockett are both specially regarded by many friends, who will wish them success in their enterprise. The telephone number is Main 4028, and all orders by this means will receive prompt and careful attention. The new store is in that formerly occupied by J. Morgan & Co.
