WHY WE ARE CHERFUL

Let us see. There is a prospect that large pulp and paper mills will be erected at Grand Falls within the next two or three years. Premier Fleming expects soon to see pulp and paper mills at Bathurst. The Harrington Pulp & Paper Co. are expected to erect a large paper mill at St. John, and may, after a survey of their timber area on the Nashwaak, decide to erect a pulp mill there as well. All this looks very promising. The provincial government is pledged to encourage the development of the pulp and paper industry during its present term in office.

Then there are the coal areas. Sir Thomas Tait and his associates will be shipping large quantities of coal over the Gifford & Minto Railway to the C. P. R. system before the end of the year. Montreal capital is interested in outcroppings of coal in Kings county and will have some prospecting. Also, it is said, the iron mines in Gloucester find business conditions very encouraging, and an expert has just come down to look over the Vernon Consolidated Company's copper mine. Then there are the oil shales and gas wells. There are many days ahead in New Brunswick.

Sheep-raising, orchard culture, poultry-raising and other branches of agriculture are to be given a boost. Why should New Brunswick capital seek investment elsewhere? There is opportunity for new industries in various parts of this province, only awaiting the advent of enterprise and capital. The general outlook is more promising than at any former period in our history.

Look at St. John. The Courtenay Bay works, the west side wharves and C. P. R. elevators; the great new wharf and boom factory; the new wharves, the new post office, the new army and navy new theatre, the proposed new sewage refinery, automobile factory, lime and cement plant and garage; the new residences at East and West St. John; the street improvement; the proposed new bridge at the falls; the proposed new works at Courtenay Bay and the proposed reclamation of a large area below Rockaway Beach. All this means progress of the most substantial character.

COMIC OPERA TORIES

The Tory press in London is rapidly making itself ridiculous. The Daily Mail now proposes that Premier Asquith and Mr. Winston Churchill come to Canada in a Dreadnought, as soon as possible after Mr. Borden returns. Of course, Mr. Asquith and Mr. Churchill will do nothing of the sort. They understand that the people of Canada would resent any action which would imply that they needed a spectacular demonstration of this sort in order to make up their minds. It is only necessary for Canadians to be assured from an authoritative source that their aid in any direction is needed to strengthen the position of the Empire, and that response will be hearty and immediate. They are told that the danger is not immediate, but that it exists, and it is clear that something must be done by this country. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's policy was a Canadian navy, to be an integral portion of the navy of the Empire; and he was prepared to do whatever more any emergency might demand. The people were well pleased with this policy, and it was approved by the Admiralty. Mr. Borden advertised his going to London, and the Tory press on both sides of the Atlantic hailed his visit as a great imperial event. But there was too much advertising. The thing was overdone. The visit of the Canadian ministers lost dignity and took on some of the character of comic opera. Regarded in this light a voyage by the British Premier and First Lord of the Admiralty to Canada in a Dreadnought might be a very diverting spectacle, but as an act of statesmanship it would be a last desperate ridiculous.

The Dreadnought might frighten Mr. Borden, and impress Mr. Monk, but the loyal citizens at large do not need any such reminders of their duty to the Empire. They are waiting, not to see Mr. Asquith or Mr. Churchill, either of whom personally would receive a most hearty welcome at any time in Canada, but to learn what Mr. Borden, after his great blare of trumpets, has to propose in the matter of naval policy.

Natural gas has revolutionized the industrial and domestic economy of Montreal. St. John's turn is coming.

The astounding revelations in the New York police department explain the prevalence of crime in that great city.

Sir William Mackenzie says the war menace is more serious than many people had thought. But Mr. Asquith says the danger is not immediate.

Since harvest workers are so much needed in the west they should be able to make more reasonable terms regarding railway fares back to the east.

An Australian statesman once suggested that his country seek immigrants from Canada. Australia is just now Canada's chief competitor in the mother country in the search for immigrants.

The Hon. Sam Hughes should give some attention to St. John. This national port is utterly without more effective defence than is provided by steam whistles and the fire alarm system. Within a few years St. John will have great public works of unusual value, and it is worth while to make some provision for their protection and for the protection of this great trade route of the Empire.

Hon. F. D. Monk says he has no thought of resigning, and that his relations with Mr. Borden are most cordial. Mr. Monk is not in favor of a big naval programme.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has more faith in the future of St. John than some of its own citizens have shown in years not so long past. But the pessimists are a rapidly diminishing quantity.

The Canadian customs receipts for July were the largest on record. The country has an abundance of money to expend on needed public works, and the development of the ocean ports is one of the most needed. Hon. Mr. Monk should come east and look over the situation.

Now that there are no political reasons for not telling the truth, there is no reason why the roads of the province are, as Mr. Fowler, M. P., has said, "in a disgraceful condition." The like of this summer's roads has not been seen since the days of the corduroy roads of the pioneers.

Mr. W. Burton Stewart says that more British capitalists than have yet visited Canada will come this fall. Let us hope they will come east. The premier of France, declares that his country is much interested in Canada, and a German baron bears similar testimony concerning Germany. Let 'em all come. There is room here for British, French and German capital, and for capital from the United States. We have the resources, waiting for development.

A report of an Albert county case in yesterday's papers created Judge Joseph's indignation. He expressed some doubt about his power to send a youth to the reformatory at St. John. The youth was given a short term in jail. While this course under the special circumstances of the case may have been best, and his honor would be the best judge of that, there can be no doubt about his authority to send such a youth to the reformatory. And in most cases the reformatory is infinitely preferable to any jail in New Brunswick.

Mr. Borden and the other Canadian ministers must have sadly misrepresented Canada if anybody in England believes it is necessary to send Mr. Asquith and Mr. Churchill to this country either to tell the people their duty or to beg for their assistance. On this point the Montreal Witness says: "Surely what we do want to do is to do our own best, because we think it ought to be done. It is to our own ministers and not to the imperial one to whom we look for a Canadian policy. Glad as we should all be to welcome Her Majesty's ministers as visitors, we do not relish the idea of appearing to do our share in defence under any sort of pressure."

Touching the matter of Canada's part in imperial defence, Mr. Harold Spender says in the London Daily News: "It is perfectly natural that Great Britain should rejoice at the willingness of the Dominions to help her both in defence and offence, but it was the dream of the earlier school that the British Empire should be a League of Peace. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, that great man who guided the fortunes of Canada for nearly a generation, always had that end in view, and has ever striven to save his country from the vortex of militarism. Sir Wilfrid was defeated. Canada has for the moment turned her back on his counsel. But will the present mood always last?" If Sir Wilfrid Laurier instead of Mr. Borden's ally were in London today, there would be less speculation about what Canada may do.

SHORTER WORKING HOURS JUMPS PRICE OF CLOTHES

New York, Aug. 1.—The price of clothing is going to be advanced next year. This increased tax on the already high cost of living is clearly indicated, merchants say Friday, by the prices named by leading producers of cloth, who have lifted the prices for the spring 1913 season from 7 1/2 to 20 cents a yard higher than those which prevailed last year when the values for the past spring season were announced.

How much more the merchant tailor or the retail clothier will charge the consumer, because of the advances that have taken place cannot be stated accurately, because there is every likelihood that the quotations just made will be further advanced before the season is very old.

Cloth prices are higher for the next spring season, agents say, because of conditions over which the manufacturers have no control. They say that the most important element that brought about the advance in domestic wool clips this year, being about 20,000 pounds smaller than a year ago. The price of wool has also gone up abroad while mill owners say that the high scale of wages and the shorter working hours will also have their effect on the increased price of cloth.

SOCIALISTS LEAD AUSTRALIAN BOYS TO EVADE MILITARY DRILL

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 1.—Influenced to a certain extent by the open-air preachings and discussions of a number of extreme Socialists, who denounce militarism in strong terms, the youthful future defenders of the Commonwealth of Australia are setting a hard problem for the government to solve.

Under the compulsory military training bill, every boy must attend a scheduled number of drills per year, and the fact that the government issued last month, 1,721 summonses in this city alone, proves that either there is some flaw in the act, or else the youth of the country is not taking kindly to enforced training.

The summonses issued are for the metropolitan area, and this with the three times as many more to be followed. These wholesale prosecutions are of boys ranging from 14 to 17 years, and in the majority of cases a fine of $25 with $1.00 costs has been levied, or one month's imprisonment. The lads are given thirty days to pay the fines and are also required to make up for the time they are deficient in their drills.

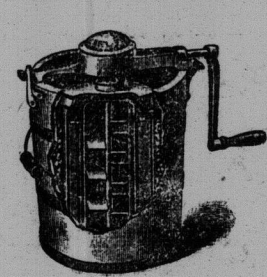

NELSON PREPARING TO WELCOME NEWSPAPER MEN
Nelson, Aug. 1.—Nelson is prepared to give a right royal welcome to the fifty delegates to the eighth annual convention of the Alberta and Eastern B. C. Press Association, who will reach the city on Thursday night. During the two following days the delegates and their wives will be shown some of the resources of the section of the Kootenay in the big power plants at Bonington Falls, the famous Blue Bell mine at Bonington, and the ranches on the west arm of the Kootenay Lake in the vicinity of the city. Bonington will be spent entirely on the water, a steamer having been chartered for the occasion. Receptions of the ladies of the party, and a smoking concert for the men will take place on Friday, and the entertainment will close with a banquet at the C. P. R. tourist hotel on Kootenay Lake.

WHEN THE DANDRUFF BEGINS TO FALL
You'll know there is something wrong. No one with a healthy scalp has Dandruff. It's not natural. Healthy, strong hair cannot grow under these conditions and what's far more disturbing, the hair that you have will soon turn grey and fall out. Then comes "PREMATURE GREY HAIR," and that "Has Been Look" about them.

Health and Beauty Helps

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Mrs. G.: Powder covers up but does not correct complexion faults. Use this simple lotion and your skin will assume its former youthful clearness and take on a charming tint. Dissolve 4 ounces sparmax in 1 1/2 pint witch hazel (or hot water) and pour in 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. Using the sparmax lotion in place of powder overcomes the shabby, city appearance and gives to a coarse, lifeless skin an exquisite fineness and healthy look. Even in hottest weather it is only necessary to apply the sparmax lotion once a day, because perspiration does not spoil it, and, also, it is invisible when on.

Mrs. W.: I never advise the electric needle for superfluous growth, because the electric paste does the work quicker, more thoroughly and is devoid of pain. Mix some powdered talcum with water, then apply to objectionable hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This leaves the skin smooth and firm.

M. M.: Soap was never intended for shampooing, because the "free" alkali it contains raises lavoce with the scalp and hair roots. Use castor oil, and you will find your dull, straggly, brittle hair will grow bright and even in color and be of a soft, silky texture. A teaspoonful castor dissolved in a cup hot water is the simple for a delightful shampoo. This creates a wealth of rich, penetrating lather that thoroughly rinses the hair and scalp of dust, dandruff and excess oil; and after rinsing, the hair dries quickly and takes on its former rich color and gloss.

Mrs. M. W.: Your blotchy, pimply skin proves that the blood is in a very unhealthy state and demands prompt action. Get 1 1/2 pint alcohol and in this put 1/2 cupful sugar, 1 ounce karoide and hot water to make a quart. A tablespoonful before each meal is the proper dose. This soon cleanses the blood of impurities and clears the skin of pimples, blotches and sallowness, as well as builds up the system. For a complete health and full strength. For a face lotion, see answer to "Mrs. G."

P. A.: You will find my quinine hair and scalp tonic very invigorating for lifeless, itching scalps. To prepare, mix to—

Nuns For The West
Montreal, Aug. 1.—There was a crowd of several hundred French-Canadian nuns of the Windsor station today to bid farewell to a party of five nuns of the Carmelite order, who are going to St. Boniface, in the diocese of Bishop Langevin, to establish a new convent. Of the five nuns, one was a daughter of Hon. Charles Maclellan, late speaker of the house of commons, who was among the farewell party at the station today.
