This morning Canterbury street presented a lively and martial appearance. Quite a crowd had collected to witness the departure of D squadron of the 8th Hussars for Camp Sussex. About twenty members of the squadron strolled from the armory on their ride, A. J. Markham, major in command. The men looked well in the neat uniform of the Hussars, and the horses were mainly a good looking lot. A transport wagon accompanied the squadron. They will go as far as Hampton today and there they will be joined by other members of the regiment, and all will ride through to Sussex tomorrow. On the noon train today fatigue parties, belonging to the R. C. R. THE ST. JOHN STAR'S SUCCESS. Great Street Sales Saturday Night—Sunday's Bulletin From Buffalo. The Star is not without evidence that its efforts to give the people an up-to-date newspaper are appreciated. Its street sales Saturday night were the largest in its history, and the largest of those of any evening paper. As this ambitious young journal will be a year old tomorrow, it has reason to regard the outlook with cheerful confidence. Saturday night's eight o'clock Star extra, giving the latest news about President McKinley, was in such great demand that at nine o'clock the whole edition had been sold out. One of the boys sold 120 papers. Another boy came back five times for a fresh supply, and the only regret of all the boys was that there were not more papers to sell.

POLICE COURT. Three Drunks, Two Women and a Sewer—Partridge Island Case. The large cold bottle habit was the means of getting three men into the dragnet of the police on Saturday night. They were all arrested late, and this morning unanimously declared that they had had no liquor after half past six o'clock. The magistrate pointed out to them that this statement was entirely unnecessary, and showed how utterly impossible it was for any person to obtain a drink after seven o'clock. Andrew Irvine was picked up on Robinson's wharf, Charles McLaughlin on Union street and William Beckman on Sheffield street. They were each fined eight dollars or two months.

Elizabeth Josslyn was this morning arrested on a warrant charging assault on Annie Wilkes. Mrs. Wilkes made her statement to the effect that she had kindly allowed Mrs. Josslyn the use of part of her house in return the Josslyn woman had beaten her. The latter flatly denied every statement made by Mrs. Wilkes, but said that she was ready to leave the house at once, and upon the understanding that she would do so, the case was dismissed.

Charles Dunlop, also arrested this morning on a warrant charging violation of the Board of Health by-laws in that he failed to obey the notices sent him regarding a defective sewer, gave many reasons why he had not effected the necessary repairs. He was fined forty dollars or one month in jail, but was allowed a few days in which to have the work done.

The charge against David Richards, brought by George A. McBay, as a result of the disturbance which occurred a short time ago on Partridge Island has been settled. Richards pleads guilty to the charges against him and is bound over to keep the peace.

CIRCUIT COURT. The case of Morrison v. St. John Hallway Before the Court. The case of Morrison v. the St. John Railway was resumed this morning. Dr. LeB. Wilmut, assistant resident physician at the hospital, was called and produced the staff book in which visiting physicians register. Attention was called to a blot on the page of Feb. 17th, 1899. The blot was not there last Friday, it is near where Dr. Morrison's name was registered.

Dr. Morrison, re-examined, identified his signature in the staff book, but said it looked as though some one had tried to write over his name, the J. and H. do not look natural. The witness, after giving some testimony as to the state of his health before the accident, stated that his practice for January, 1899, was worth $1,863.91. For the year 1898 his income was $15,120.87. In 1897 his practice was worth $13,762.04. In 1896 it was worth $12,898.15. Since the accident, February, 1899, Dr. Morrison has earned $1,415.92. This falling off in his income is due, witness said, entirely to his incapacity occasioned by the accident to do the work.

A JOURNALISTIC LAPSE. To the Editor of the Star: Sir,—I was shocked on looking through the supplement of the Telegraph on Saturday to observe among its alleged humorous cartoons a study in black and white that grossly violated the ordinary rules of decency. What has come over this great censor of journalistic morality? The attention of "I. William Mulock" should be directed to this matter. Has he not forbidden the circulation of obscene literature through the mails?

Yours, QUERIST.
