MET TEDDY BEARS AND GOT ARRESTED

But Montreal Magistrate Let Zanesville, Ohio, Man
Go Free

MONTREAL, July 3.—Charles H. Shaw of Zanesville, Ohio, was today set at liberty by the police magistrate after being detained for nine days on the complaint of Charlotte Webster, a young woman, who declared that he had promised to marry her and was intending to leave the country for the purpose of evading his promise. Shaw's story was that he had been taken to the residence of the young woman's mother by a friend named Bayne, who wanted to introduce him to the Teddy Bears, as he designated the girl and her sister. There was considerable wine consumed at a supper that followed, and Shaw does not remember any promise of marriage. Anyway he couldn't marry the girl, as he was already a married man. The magistrate accepted his story.

ORANGEMEN TO HAVE BIG CELEBRATION

Horse's Legs Cut by Shunting
Engine in Moncton—
Grant to Band

MONTCTON, N. B., July 3.—The Orangemen of Westmorland are preparing for a big celebration of the twelfth at Petticoat. As the twelfth comes on Sunday the walk will be held on the preceding day. A special train will be run from Sackville. The Moncton Orangemen will attend in large numbers and take the Orange band with them. The Citizens' Band will receive a grant of three hundred dollars for the series of fifteen outdoor concerts to be given during the summer.

There is a report to the effect that the I. C. R. division, formerly under the jurisdiction of the late G. M. Jarvis will be divided into two districts, the dividing line to be Springfield Junction. In this event J. T. Hattley, who is acting district superintendent, and H. B. Fleming, chief train dispatcher here, would be appointed to different divisions.

A house belonging to the Wallberg Company was killed at the new I. C. R. shops yesterday. The scraper being hauled by the horse was struck by a shunting engine and the animal hauled beneath the trucks. Its legs were cut off.

QUEEN WHO IS A GREAT CLIMBER

Queen Helena of Italy is very fond of children, so fond, indeed, that she is called the "Babe's Queen," and she has founded several creches in Rome. Gossip says that while she was still a mere child a pipsy foretold that she would be chosen to share one of the greatest thrones in Europe. If the Sybil had condescended to be a little more explicit, Prince Nicholas of Montenegro might have had his second daughter taught Italian in her school days. For want of such guidance, he only stipulated that she should learn the tongues of Russia, Germany and France, as did her sisters—Melitta, who became the Grand Duchess Paul of Russia, and Stana Duchess of Leuchtenberg.

As a girl, the dark-eyed Princess of Montenegro was intended by the powers that be to become the wife of the Czar, but Czar and Princess, though they liked each other, could not fall in love according to order, so the match was never made. At the funeral of Alexander III. in 1894 the Princess met the King of Italy.

Queen Helena's position at first in Italian society was somewhat difficult, but she has gradually overcome all obstacles by her sweetness of disposition, her beauty, and intelligence. She is, like the Queen of Roumania, a poetess, and one of her recreations is painting Italian scenery. Her complexion is one of extreme loveliness, her black hair and fine dark eyes light up a countenance which is arresting. Her voice is strong and "retentive."

Good shooting is as much a feminine as a masculine accomplishment among the Montenegrins, and almost the first act of the Princess Helena's married life was to have targets set up in the beautiful gardens of the Capo de Monte, and here she and her husband used to while away much of their leisure in shooting matches, which often ended in the lady's favor.

LADIES OF THE COURT.
In addition to being an excellent shot, she is a wonderful climber. When in Montenegro she announced her intention of visiting on foot the mountains about Cetinje. Her Italian ladies-in-waiting glanced at each other in consternation, and all, with one exception, heaved to be excused, the request being good-naturedly granted. One, however, young and lovely, anxious for the favor of her mistress, determined to brave all and go too. The next morning at six all had gathered except the venturesome lady, who at last appeared in a gown with a train, which, however, had been all carefully pinned up, sent bottle in hand, and in high-heeled, thin kid slippers. The Queen took in this vision, and remarked, smilingly, that she looked pale, that evidently she was not feeling well, and had not better undertake so arduous a climb. The hint was accepted, she stayed behind, but lost nothing, as she has since been prime favorite, and often lauded over the incident with her Royal friend, who says, "Never forget again that you are ornamental!"

AMUSEMENTS.

COLE BROS. CIRCUS.

Monday is Circus Day in St. John, and incidentally the only circus day of the season, for Cole Brothers' Circus will be the only show to visit New Brunswick this year. Two performances will be given at the Shamrock baseball grounds, and the circus will spend the Sabbath here, arriving from Moncton some time tomorrow, the exact time of arrival being indefinite because of the long run. However, but little work will be done on the Sabbath, because of the stringent rule observed by the management in making the Sabbath a day of rest so far as is possible.

Ten acres of water-proof canvas will be erected on Monday morning, and the street parade will be the feature of the day. A wonderful system is introduced in this parade, and one frail little woman is the custodian of all the paraphernalia used in the present. Miss Sarah Forbes is responsible for every inch of gold braid, every uniform, each piece of gilded trapping used on the animals—in fact everything used in the parade comes under her personal supervision. Each rider receives his or her costume and trappings from Miss Forbes and is directly responsible for them until the procession returns to the grounds. Then they are handed back and checked.

In the afternoon the daily procession is begun, for the circus management fully believes that "a stitch in time saves nine," and for that reason three sewing machines and a wagon stocked with yards of cloth, gold braid, buttons and thread are carried with the aggregation. This is Miss Forbes' domain, and here all the work of repairing is done. The department is a never-failing source of interest to the ladies, and claims its audience of spectators in every town and city visited.

Two band concerts, one in the afternoon and again in the evening, are given before the performance. Prof. Tinney's combination of forty soloists provide the musical entertainment, and are famed throughout Canada because of the honor bestowed upon them by the Governor General two years ago. Each member received a letter from His Excellency, while Prof. Tinney himself was decorated for the manner in which he conducted and arranged a selection including the songs of Britain and Canada.

The performances on Monday commence at 2 and 8 o'clock, but the doors are opened an hour earlier to permit spectators to view the menagerie, ethnological congress and listen to the band concert.

Early Morning scene with Cole Brothers' Circus at St. John on Monday.

BIG NICKEL MATINEE TODAY.

This is children's day at the Nickel again, and the little ones will be on hand bright and early after dinner. A rattling good show awaits them too, headed by the new "Tos. A. Edison novelty," "Curious Mr. Curio," and backed up by the Pathe comedies "On Bad Terms With the Janitor" and "An Interrupted Romance." Miss Foley will conclude her great success, "Sweet Adeline," and Mr. Cairns' latest hit, "Eileen My Own," will be sung for the last time today. This evening the same show will be put on, and during the latter part of the evening for the information of those men who like to hear the latest sporting news the Nickel will furnish special wire bulletins of the Gans-Nelson fight in Nevada, which commences in the afternoon. This is the boxing event of the year and great interest is being evinced in the outcome. The bulletin will give the progress of the bout by rounds.

THE CEDAR.

The Cedar Moving Picture Theatre holds a grand reopening this afternoon. This theatre is now under new management and have a brand new lot of pictures never shown to St. John people before. Their titles are: "Returning Good for Evil," "Life in a South African Gold Mine," "Akwavard Overly," "After Thirty Years." The management have also engaged Miss Margaret Lee, who needs no introduction to St. John theatre patrons.

BUSTER BROWN AT THE PRINCESS.

Do not forget that this will be the last opportunity to see Buster Brown and his dog Tige at the Princess. During the past week they have played to a full house at every show and it is safe to predict a record business today. This afternoon after the show Buster will hold a reception on the stage for ladies and children to which all are invited. At this matinee souvenir photos of Buster will be given to all who attend. The pictures today are especially good and are brand new. A. Dorr will be heard in the latest illustrated songs.

HAPPY HALF HOUR.

The new programme at the Happy Half Hour consists of as is usual at this house all new pictures. The meeting of the King of Italy and the Emperor of Germany, taken a few weeks ago at Naples, shows the elaborate preparations that are made when royalty meet in Europe. One of the best dramatic pictures ever seen here is "The Face of an Evil." The story is a pathetic one and the acting and photography superb. Comedy lovers will enjoy The Enchanted Hat and a Mandy Servant. Harry Leroy is making a hit singing When the Robins Sing Again, and Prof. Titus has a splendid song in I Like Your Way. A splendid programme for the children's matinee. Tonight as an extra attraction pictures of Gans and Nelson will be shown, and the fight by rounds right off the wires will be announced. No extra admission. No matter how big the crowd there will be lots of room.

NEW SINGERS AT THE UNIQUE.

Beginning Monday next two new singers will be heard at the Unique—Miss A. Cantow, mezzo soprano of London, Ontario, will sing "Two Blue Eyes," Mr. Will Harrison, baritone, of Halifax will be heard in the latest illustrated songs. The pictures today are above the average, and those who did not see them yesterday should see them either this afternoon or evening. The feature film is entitled The Old, Old Story, and tells in few words the story of woman's faith and love and the deceptions of man. Hunting Teddy Bears, this is a rollicking comedy and shows what happened to a man who boasted of his hunting powers to his friends. The other picture, Nocturnal Thieves, is one of the best dramatic comedies on the road.

Don't forget that this is the best ventilated house in the city. It is cooler in the Unique than on the street.

HE CALLED IN.

Peggy—Now, will you listen to me, while I tell you the plain truth, Peggy? Peggy—I'm all ears, Peggy.

Peggy—That's just what I was going to say, only I should have put it different—illustrated bits.

WHERE IT HITS HIM.

"Cubbin's eye" is costs him a quarter every time he goes to church." "I have never seen him contribute a cent"—illustrated bits.

"He has to get his trousers pressed."
