Mr. and Mrs. Pettie will leave today for South Clones where Mr. Pettie is a prosperous farmer.

LIVELY SESSION OF ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

To which Mr. Fowler retorted: "I've seen you too, and heard you. We could hear you roar three miles away."

On asserting that he had not been paid a commission on the horses he bought Mr. Carvell remarked:

"Mr. MacKay, I think that a saint like you ought to be in Holy Toronto."

Another amusing passage occurred when Mr. Carvell asked the witness if he had asked Mr. Stanfield to find Mr. Keever.

"I asked Mr. Stanfield sensible questions," was the quick reply, and Mr. Carvell subsided for a while.

In answer to Mr. Fowler witness said he had paid every dollar and every cent of the $19,630 he had received to the farmers for their horses.

Mr. Carvell asked if some of the horses had not been sent to the glue factory.

Mr. Fowler—"Not one."

W. H. Bennett—"Maybe those that Major Anderson bought from his brother."

Mr. Carvell—"Have you heard that horses bought by you never went on the cars?"

Mr. MacKay—"No, but that might have happened regarding those bought for the South African war."

Carvell Called to Order.

At this point Chairman Murphy objected to Mr. Carvell asking questions of this sort unless he was prepared to bring evidence forward to substantiate the allegations contained in the questions. He insisted that Mr. Carvell be fair. For a few minutes there was uproar in the committee and finally Mr. Carvell interjected that "we have no Keever in my county and I am glad to say we have no MacKay's either."

E. N. Rhodes sprang to his feet and defended Mr. MacKay warmly. "I have known Mr. MacKay intimately for 25 years," he said, "he bears the reputation of being an honest and honorable man. I have always found him so. I say this in common decency to Mr. MacKay, because of what you have said. I do it in consequence of what you have been blurring out for the benefit of the press."

No Vouchers from Liberals.

Records produced by the auditor showed that the following average prices had been paid for horses: Lieut. Col. H. I. McLeod, of Sydney, $190.07; Major S. B. Anderson, of Moncton, $235.70; Major General Lessard, of Toronto, $171.24, and A. Dewitt Foster, M. P., $170.54.

There were no vouchers produced for the horses purchased by Anderson or McLeod, who are strong Liberals, in the Maritime Provinces, and the Liberals of the committee avoided the subject, but it was shown that Major Anderson's first purchase of horses had been from his brother, W. H. Anderson. Anderson also bought three from his brother-in-law, W. H. Copp, for $565, an average of $188.33.

The average price paid by the department east of the Great Lakes was $173.31, and west of the Great Lakes, $151.14.

The auditor general stated that between the horses given to the permanent force and those sent across the water for the first contingent there was a balance of 379 unaccounted for. So far as he knew, he said in reply to Mr. Rhodes, these were still in the possession of the government.

Philip Parent, a chauffeur who was at Valcartier a good deal, as often as four times every day, testified that he saw only five horses shot, and saw six others being carted to the glue factory at Quebec.

Col. Stoneman, of Hamilton, who was 45 years in the militia, and who has been retired for seven or eight years, was called by Mr. Carvell regarding the combined spade and shield which has been patented by Miss McAdam, private secretary to the Minister of Militia, claimed he had invented the spade in 1902.

On cross examination Col. Stoneman admitted that his invention was not a spade at all. It did not have a handle even.

OFFICERS OF 55TH BATTALION APPOINTED PROVISIONALLY

Capt. Brown appointed Junior Major of 26th Battalion — 50 men for Railway Construction Corps arrived from West—Army Service Corps quartered in Exhibition Buildings.

Following the announcement of the appointment of provisional officers of the 55th Battalion, it is the intention of Col. Kirkpatrick to take more active measures to recruit the battalion up to strength, and a recruiting campaign, with public meetings, will be started in various provincial centres next week. Yesterday Col. Kirkpatrick called on the Mayor, and was offered the use of the Belgium Relief warehouse on the Pettingill wharf in connection with the work of the officers of the battalion for the next few weeks.

The men are being given training in the regular infantry drill. Every member of the corps is an expert in some particular line of railway construction or repair, and their training while here will be on military lines rather than of a technical character.

Yesterday three companies of the Army Service Corps which arrived from the West on Monday marched over to the exhibition buildings and took up quarters there. The officers of No. 7 company which came from Winnipeg are Major H. F. Freeman, Capt. R. A. Laird, Lieut. E. O. Leadley and R. W. Marshall. CHIEF SIMPSON SOLVES TERESA MULLEN CASE

After many days of hard work and a great deal of correspondence, Chief Simpson has been able to unravel the identity of one Teresa Mullin, nee Casey, and the matter is rather interesting. In being able to give the information requested the chief says that the newspapers both in St. John and Boston worked an important part in it.

The inquiries at first came from New Zealand of a small sum of money that had been left to Teresa Mullin nee Casey, and it was stated at the time that persons in Ireland who claimed to be brothers and sisters were asking that the money be paid to them as the party in question was dead. From the information received by Chief Simpson it appears that the Teresa Mullin is no relation to the people in Ireland who are seeking for the money, but the person who died and has the Irish brothers and sisters was a Margaret McCready who was born in Ballysagar, County Donegal, Ireland. The late Teresa Mullin has a son and daughter in East Boston, Mass., and instead of the money going to the people in Ireland who requested it, the cash will become the property of the son and daughter.

Teresa Mullin married Patrick Mullin of the 15th Regiment in St. John and afterwards removed to Elgin, Albert County, where they purchased a farm and settled. She died in New Ireland, Albert County, in 1899, and Patrick Mullin died about eight years ago at the residence of his son, 84 Brook street, East Boston. Records of interment were not regularly kept in the parish at the time but witnesses can be furnished. She left four children, viz., Michael, who died in Philadelphia; Teresa, who died in New Ireland; John, who died in New Hampshire; and Mary, now Mrs. McDonald, still resides at 69 Benington street, East Boston, Mass.

BOY SCOUTS MOVEMENT INCREASING IN INTEREST

Progress reported at meeting yesterday—Six active troops now in St. John.

A meeting of the executive of the Boy Scouts Association was held last evening in the board room of the Y.M.C.A., A. C. Skelton, president, in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. The term of the appointment of Mr. Legge as secretary, pro tem, was, by request extended until the end of the scouts' year, October next. Progress was reported in all the churches, and the revival of the Boy Scout movement was reported as very promising. The total number of Boy Scouts in the city was stated to be 148, in six troops. It was agreed that the different troops in the city should be classed as follows: (1) Waterloo street church; (2) St. Paul's; (3) St. James; (4) German street Baptist church; (5) Queen St. Methodist; (6) St. Jude, West End. These troops are active and are registered and recognized. Additional troops are expected to be in evidence soon, Centenary church and the churches in Fairville and other outlying parts being active in the matter. Troops amongst the Catholic community are in course of formation, and it was stated at the meeting that before long there is sure to be a fine assemblage of boys upon the plans approved by Sir R. Baden-Powell and his followers. Richard Ingelston was appointed city commissioner of troops for St. John.

MR. WILLIAM FARNUM

In Wilson Barrett's Drama

"THE SIGN OF THE CROSS"

A STUPENDOUS AND IMPRESSIVE VERSION

THIS PLAY derived from the symbol which to scores of millions has for many centuries borne so profound a significance, has been filmed by the Famous Players Film Co. with an extravagance of scenic and spectacular effects and a faithfulness to the original settings and atmosphere seldom seen in motion pictures. Everything has been done to give the most sumptuous and lavish production to a play which lends itself admirably to spectacular effects. For many years the original play has fascinated the imagination and swayed the emotions of audiences throughout the civilized world as has no other drama of its type. For the most part, it glows with Titianesque luxuriance of coloring as befits a fearless picture of life in the Rome of Nero. But this exciting world of intrigue and unbridled luxury covers but a portion of the canvas, and the play also reveals, through its Christian characters, the exquisite reverence and saintliness and the serenity of unquestioning faith; and it is through a gallery of startling scenes, now splendid with throned sensualities and stately luxury, now beautiful with pious suffering and illumined with holy hope and love, that Mercia and Marcus, the unfaltering Christian and doubting Pagan, march to their decreed doom. It would be impossible to overestimate the emotional power of the film. In the role of Marcus Superbus, William Farnum is noble and dignified, both in the tender love passages with Mercia or when turning in fierce wrath upon his enemies and calumniators. The production will undoubtedly be conceded the foremost film classic ever produced in America.
