It has been remarked that the French surgeons are very brilliant and the Germans learned, but none so sure of hand, so steady and thoughtful of the result, as the Englishman. When Sir B. Brodie was looking over the Paris hospitals, a case in point occurred. The eminent French surgeon who was acting the part of cicerone, speaking of a particular operation, said, "It is a very difficult and a very brilliant thing to do; I have performed it one hundred and thirty times." Sir Benjamin looked astonished, and said he had only performed the operation nine times in his life, and added, "How many of the patients' lives did you save?" "Not one!" said the Frenchman, with a shrug. "And you, Monsieur Benjamin, how many you save?" "All of them, sir," quietly replied the English surgeon.
