GOSSIP.

Messrs. Alfred Mansell & Co., live stock exporters, Shrewsbury, Eng., recently shipped from Avonmouth, per SS. "Memmon," of the Elder, Dempster Line, on behalf of Major McGillivray, the pen of three Dorset Horn ewes, bred by Mr. L. C. Attrill, which secured premier honors at the Royal Show at York.

On Tuesday, July 31st, Alfred Mansell & Co., of Shrewsbury, Eng., conducted sale of Harrington Hall Shorthorns on behalf of Mr. A. F.
Mansell. A large and numerous company assembled, including all the leading breeders and the representatives of numerous foreign buyers, the Australian Colonies being well represented, the highest price being 240 gs.
(Royal Blood, winner 1st R.A.S.E., etc., etc., to Mr. Smith, of Australia), and the general average £36 15s. 6d.

The estate of the late James Cooper, Kippen, Ont., is again to the front with a choice lot of Shorthorns, which were founded upon right lines of breeding. We always found the late Mr. Cooper extremely enthusiastic over his flock of Shorthorns, and since his death the sons are consistently continuing along the same lines, stirred to greater enthusiasm by shouldering the entire responsibility. It will be remembered by those who best knew Mr. Cooper, that his aim was always to breed the best, and he from time to time made selections from such useful flocks as Tanner, Minton, and Bradburn, employing such sires as in his judgment would strengthen the weak points and maintain the strong ones in the flock. When we called at the farm early in May, we found a few choice shearing rams, and a splendid, well-developed lot of strong ram lambs, which the firm are desirous of selling. See the ad.

MESSRS. C. & E. WOOD'S LEICESTERS.
While in the vicinity of Burlington, a member of the FARMER'S ADVOCATE staff called upon the firm of Messrs. C. & E. Wood, whose home is near Freeman, Ont., which is their post office. The Messrs. Wood were found in their usual good spirits, and full alive to the demands of the times in sheep circles. Leicesters and Leicesters only, is their choice, and much of their success lies in their determination to pursue the line of their conviction. The firm have established a solid reputation as producers and developers of a prolific, hardy race of sheep, combining size and quality, the latter applying not only to conformation, but to fleece as well.
Much care has been exercised in their ram selections. The best flockmasters in the breed have frequently contributed their best to head Mr. Wood's flocks. The present flock has 70 odd breeding ewes, their late crop of lambs, a dozen shedding rams, and about twice that number of shearing ewes; and among the two latter bunches may be found showyard material that would do credit to the breed in any company.
Watch the firm's offerings.

NOTICE.

The London Fence Machine.

The question of economy in fencing is one of interest and importance to the farmer. Fencing is a necessity under the present prevailing system of farming, and is likely to be for a long time to come. The woven wire fence commands itself on the grounds of efficiency and safety, and when properly constructed gives entire satisfaction. The advanced price of iron and steel makes it imperative that the farmer economize in the cost of his fencing by using the best material and the best and cheapest methods of construction. The London Fence Machine Company, a new claimant for public patronage in this line, place their advertisement in the FARMER'S ADVOCATE of the London Fence Machine, invented by Mr. A. E. Blashill, who has been for many years closely identified with the woven wire fence business, giving much study and consideration to the questions of efficiency and economy of cost, and has succeeded in producing a machine simple in construction, easily operated, not heavy or cumbersome, yet strong, being of the very best material, and sold at a price so moderate that farmers can afford to own one. Members of our staff have witnessed the machine in actual operation, and it certainly did its work very easily, rapidly, and in a most satisfactory manner. For the lateral wires, which are first stretched. No. 9 galvanized wire is recommended, which will only break at a tension of 130 lbs., overcoming the trouble of contraction and expansion in our changeable weather. The machine will take any number of running wires, which may be placed from two to five inches apart, as desired.
The upright stays may be woven on any distance upwards of seven inches apart. Twisted cable as well as plain wire can be woven. The machine may be adapted in two minutes to suit any style of fence, from a chicken-proof or rabbit-tight fence to one for horses and cattle alone, or for an all-round field or yard fence.
The grand principle of the London Fence Machine is that it makes a complete three-turn joint with a single revolution of the crank.
Here is a testimonial to the speed of the London:

Delaware, Mar. 3, 1900.

To Whom it may Concern:
I hereby certify that I have seen Mr. A. E.
Blashill, the inventor of the London Fence Machine, weave an upright stay on a ten-bar fence in nine seconds. Also that the machine operated easily and did its work neatly, making every joint very tight. I consider it a marvel of speed and efficiency.

Yours very truly,

W. C. HARRIS,

Clerk and Treasurer of Delaware (Ont.) Township.

It is claimed that a new beginner can with this machine weave 40 rods per day, while a man who has had practice can weave twice that amount. The Company also supply the best coiled spring wire for laterals, and galvanized annealed wire for stays, at lowest market prices. The London Fence Machine will be on exhibition at the leading shows this fall, and farmers should not fail to see it. Read the advertisement, and send for circular giving full particulars.
