ABOUT THE HOUSE.

Bleaching and Cleaning.

A correspondent writes :-- Men's stray hats, white leghorn, white obip-all lightcolored straws-may be bleached in the following manner : Dissolve oxalic acid (powder) in hot water and scrub the straw with the solution, then rinse the hat off in warm water. Use a small brush for the purpose, since the bristles can be pushed to the meshes of the straw better than a cloth can be. Besides, as the acid is poison, one does not wish to run any risk of getting any of it into a possible break in the skin of one's fingers, as might be the case if a cioth were used. Five cents' worth will be sufficient to cleanse a number of hats. Use bot water enough to theroughly dissolve powder. For one or two hats a fourth of five cents worth of powder will be enough. This is the method of bleaching used by millners now. Celored leaves of artificial flowers may be effectually re-stiffened by an application of musilage. Lay the leaves on a flat sur-face and brush over the under side with the musilage, and let dry thoroughly.

Don't Make Your Own Soan.

There is no article of commerce to-day There is no article of continence value that sold at a lower price for the value than soar, I f boaght by the box, from two to three dollars will supply an ordinary-sized family for a year. We recently sized family for a year. We recently beught a box of 160 bars of an excellent grade of scap for $3.75. And think of any grade of scop for $3.75. And think erauy busy, over-taxed housekeeper trying to compete with such prices. I would advise every busy farmer's wife to give all meat refuse to the dog, have the ashes scattered in the vegetable and fruit gardens, and relegate scap-making with the industries of

How to Keep Eggs.

Slake a piece of lime the size of an eggin a gallon of water, and when cold pour it over the eggs laid in a stone jar or large butter pot. The eggs should all be turned point downward. Cover them and keep them in the cellar or in any cool place. Be very careful to choose perfectly fresh eggs. as one bad one will necessitate removing all the others, washing the jar and pouring over freshly prepared limed water. Eggs can be kept in this way from one spring-time until the acst. They can be used in any manner except for meringues, for which the white does not attain the required stiffness. If laid down when eggs are very cheap and marketed as limed eggs when other eggs are very dear, they can be sold at a good profit to the salesman. --House-wife.

Here is a recipe which several of our eighbors have tried, and with satisfactory soulds. In a barrel or box that can be beaded up place first a layer of salt and then a layer of eggs on their ends, and so on, a layer of salt and eggs alternately. In the course of a few months the box should be turned from one end to the other several -A Subscriber

Children Should Rise Early.

One of the evils of the day seems to me to be the tendency to let children stay up ate at night and then he abed far into the day. Children need eight or nine hours' and through the mouthpiece in the second spectral spectral second spectral spect How few young people know the beauties of the early morn; its freshness, its stillness, its sweetners. To the early riser the world, in its freshness, as the birds are singing eir morning praises and the sun is coming in sight to smile on dew.wet leaves and In sight to smile on dew wet leaves and blades of grass, is not the same that it is hours afterward amid the heat, dust and noise of the active day. If the young once learned to begin the day with these lovely sights and sounds they would make them their mornings invocation ever after.

Recipes.

Frozen Peaches. - One can, or twelve

FIGHTING SMOKE.

A New Contrivance for the Protection of An invention has just been approved by the New York Fire Department which will enable the firemen to work in the denses smoke without being smothered. After trying many kinds of asbesto suits, rubber suits with cells containing water, and other inventions, it has been decided that the only practicable protec tion for firemen would be something in the form of a respirator.

The respirator which has just been ap proved consists of a reservoir strapped on the fireman's back, which is to filter and purify the air conveyed to his mouth by a purify the air conveyed to his mouth by a hose. The filtration is accomplished in three parallel tubes which constitute the reservoir. These tubes are about 8 inches long and 3 inches in diameter. The two outer tubes are charged with layers of bone, coal and cotton, the smoky air going through them being cleansed of its smoke and passing into the middle tubes to be cooled. This cooling is effected by glycer-ine, which also further purifies the air and ubsorbs all chemical poison.

The, which also further purifies the air and absorbs all chemical poison. From the glycerine tube the air passes up the hose into the valve box and thence to the mouth through a rubber mouthpiece. When the air is inhaled it passes from the simply goes out through an opening is the mouthpiece. Thus the fireman need never remove his mouth from the mouthpiece.

SOME " DON'TS " FOR FISHERMEN.

Don't yank.

Very Important Piscatorial Mints Whie Will Save You a Whole Lot of Trouble and Melp You to Fill Your Basket.

Don't get snagged. Don't troll too fast. Don't forget the bait. Don't try fancy casts. Don't step on your rod. Don't try to cast too far. Don't sit on your rod tipe. Don't buy "cheap " tackle, Don't forget the back cast. Don't let your reel overrun. Don't strike on a slack line. Don't He ; it's been overdone. Don't fish with untried tack he Don't put your fish in the sun. Don't grab a catfish by the fins. Don't keep your bais in the sun. Don't neglect to dry your lines. Den't strike a fish with both hands. Don't carry your rod tip foremost. Don't wear strange sporting clothes. Don't try to land your fish too soon. Don's try to cover too much ground. Don't cast across your neighbor's lim Den't put pickerel in trout streams. Don't let your fish run under the b r's line Don't snap off your bait when you east. Don't give slack line to a fighting bait. Don't stamp in the bottom of the boat. Don't try to steal theother fellow's bite.

MB. AND MRS. BOWSER.

NOW AN UMBRELLA DISTURBS THE DOMESTIC PEACE.

Mr. R. Didn't Have it When Caught in The Rain-Mars. B. Hold Responsible for the Dreaching-Other Trifling Inci-dents That Break the Marmony of Life It was pouring rain when Mr. Bowsen ame home the other evening, and Mrs. Bowser, who was watching for him from front window, saw that he was soaking wet and realized that a scane was at hand. She opened the front door for him with the remark:

"I'm so sorry ! Get into some dry clothes right away."

Mr. Bowser made no reply. He hung up his hat, walked into the sitting-room with his feet all muddy and the wet drip. ping from his clothes, and then turned on her with:

"Mrs. Bowser, what did I say to you as I left the house this morning ? Don't attempt any evasion, now, but tell me what I said !"

"Why, I remember you said it looked bit like rain," she answered. "I said it would rain before night, and it as! I'm wet to the hide !" "That's too bad !"

"Teo bad ! And whose fault is it ? My mind was occupied with business affairs, and you knew it was, and yet you saw me walk off without an umbrella ! Mrs. Bowser, I--- !'

"Why, you took your umbrella along." she interrupted. "Never !"

"Oi course you did ! Don't you remem ber dropping it at the gate ? You walked right out of the office and left it there." "I did, ch ? Why don't you call me first class idiot and be done with it ?" "You must have done so, for you surely arried it away with you."

That's exactly what he did do, and he knew it, but he squirmed ont of it by offer-ing to bet her a million dollar to a cent that the front door had been left wide open all the afternoon, and that a hall-thief had carried off half the things down status. One morning there was a smell of gas down cellar, and Mr. Bowser went down to see if he could discuss a left. We not see

One morning there was a smell of gas down cellar, and Mr. Bowser went down to see if he could discover a leak. He put on an old hat kept for "poking around," and when he left the house he wore it away. It was rusty and spetted and broken, but it was only when the boys down town began to "shoot that hat" that he tumbled to it. Then he flew back with his eyes hanging out and his face plum-colored, and he was no sconer hadde the house than he shouted "Look at it, Mrs. Bowser-look at that infernal old junk-shop which you deliber-ately saw me wear away on my head and never said a word about t?" "Did I' Did I!" he shouted, as he banged it on the floor and jumped on it. "But I didn't see you go. I was up stairs when you went. Mr. Bowser, you are cer-tainly very absent-m nded." "I am, ch ! 10 is wonder that I con't

"I am, ch! it's a wonder that 1 con't forget to come home, ish't it! Mrs. Bow-ser, if there is another house in the United States as badly mismanaged as this I'd like to see it !

"But can you blame me because you wore our old hat away ?" she protested. "That's it—that's it! Shoulder it off on during which Mr. Bowser tarned red and white and breathed like a foundered horse. "Mrs. Bowser I" he said at length, and in a broken voice, "this is the limit-the last straw I Our lawyers will get together to-morrow and fix things up, and you can return to your mother. I don't want any dinner, and I shall be very basy this even-ing. Good-night !"

MONEY MARKS.

The World Has a Way of Doing Things Backward.

Did it ever strike you as being at all peculiar that we should use the dollar mark ($) before instead of after the figures in expressing the sum of 5, 10, 20 or any other number of dollars ? We may say " twenty-five dollars" plain enough for any one to understand, but as soon as we put the expression into figures and characters it is "dollars twenty-five" ($25) instead of 253, as it should be.

Nor is this all that is peculiar in this connection. In every country which has a written language and a system of coinage the abbreviation for the unit of value precedes the figures.

In England the pound mark(£) is used in the same manner that the dollar mark is used in this country, while the same peculiarity is noticeable in Germany, where the abbreviation m. (for mark) appears preced-ing the number, just as the French abbreviaion fr. (for france) is used in France. If abbreviations are not used the legend

If abbreviations are not used the legend is more spt to be correct. We find that in Maxing they have a "2g pesce" instead of "p 2g," as one might expect, and in Newfoundland they have a plain two-dollar piece. So, too, in France, where the abbreviation is not used we find such pieces as "10 francs," "20 france" and "40 france."

"" 40 francs." In Germany they have a piece marked "X thaler," which is all very plain, but the moment a clerk, bookkeeper or other per-son makes an entry or jots down a mem-orandum he tells you that it as a "th. X." The English pound sign, which is believ-ed to be the oldest monetary abbreviation now in use, is the old initial letter by which the Romans expressed "peunds," just as we use the "lba." It has been suprested that we use our money abbrevia-Which the Komans expressed "peunds," just as we use the "flbs." It has been suggested that we use our money abbrevia-tion backward because the Komass in expressing "pounds" always said "libra decem" instead of "decem libra," the first being "pounds ten" and the latter "ten pounds." When their initial letter or character "as used it always proceeded the former was used it always preceded the figures thus: " $\pounds 10$ " instead of the reverse. Thus the whole world has got in the habit of doing these things backward.

MYSTERIOUS MISS DECKER.

Peculiar Afflictions of a Young Woman Caused by a Fall.

Miss Belle Decker, daughter of Wickham Decker, of Brunswick, N. Y., died a few days ago. She was a mystery to physicians, and many prominent experts from New York City examined her, but were unable to diagnose the case.

Just about a year ago Belle fell down a stairway in her father's house. When she was helped up the girl complained of her back hurting her. She continued to attend school, however, for two weeks, when she lost the power of speech entirely, and though suffering from no apparent physic cal trouble, began to waste away.

What puzzled the physicians the most. however, was her sudden loss of the power of speech. Her sense of hearing was une usually acute, and yet she could not up ter a word, although before this illness ter a word, although before this illness Belle had been a good conversationalist She learned the dumb alphabet, and from before this illness that time on was able to carry on conver-sation with the members of her family and others.

During the year's illness she gained foot in height, but just before her deat weighed but thirty pounds. Last Monday at midnight Belle's older sister, who was

FIREMEN USING RESPIRATOR

In other respirators each exhalation is In other respirators each exhibition is accomplished by taking the mouthpiece away, expelling the air from the lungs and replacing it for the next inhalation. There is danger in this method of the fireman making a mistake and filling his lungs with smoke. The simple process of draw-ing in the breath sucks the smoky air up through the purifying tubes, up the hose and through the mouthpiece into the lungs.

for nearly as hour, it is said, in an atmos-phere which would choke him in twenty seconds if unprotected. The whole ap-paratus only weighs five pounds, and can be adjusted in a few seconds.

lot of rags, sulphur and grease was ignited and the door closed, so that the interior soon became full of gas and stifling smoke. An ordinary citizen would have been in-smoke. When thus equipped a fireman can work

A test of the apparatus was made some time ago. In a temporary wooden hut s stantly overcome by the fumes, and the firemen who tried it could not stay more than a few a Den't keep too many lines going at once. Don't drop a fish into your creel tai Don's strike a black bass at the first rush. Don't keep your lunch where it will get

Don't carry hooks in your trousers pock-

Don't let your shadow fail on the brook line. Dont buy patent "catch-alls;" they never

Don't strike a fish when the rod is ner-pendicular. Don't leave oars sticking over the side of the boat.

Don't yell "I've got one" until you've landed him Don't try to lift a big fish into the boa by the line.

Don't leave your rod tips in the bottom of the boat

Don't fail to make the end of your line fast to the reel.

me! The papers talk about the startling number of divorces. It's a wonder to me there are not five times as many !" One day Mr. Bowser brought home a patent cork-srew, which some fakir had sold him, and Mrs. Bowser saw him drop it into a wall-pocket. A week later, after wan-dering around the house for half an hour one evening, he halted before her and said: "I'll be hanged if I don't get some chains and padlocks and see if I can't have things

"I brought home a can opener a few days ago and left it on a bracket in the dining-room. It's gone, of course-probably given left where I put them !' "What is it now?"

room. It's gone, of course—probably given away to some big, lazy tramp ! It's a won-der we have a thing left in this house !" "A can-opener ?" "Yes, a can-opener ?" "Yes, a can-opener I fyou never heard of a can-opener I'll hire some one to write you out a history of it. It was invented to open cans." "Why, we have two or three in the kitcher. Do you mean a can-opener ?"

large peaches, two collee cups of sugar, one pint of water and the beaten whites of three eggs ; break the peaches and suir all ingredients together. Freeze like ice cream. Delicious.

well and let it stand about one hour, make batter of two eggs, one pint of milk, a a batter of two eggs, one pint of milk, a lttle salt, and flour enough to make a good batter, stir the chicken into this and drop it by spoonfule into boiling fat; fry brown, drain well and serve hot; cold veal can be utilized in this way, and will be found mearly as nice as the chicken. Salad Dressing.—This valued recipe for Salad Dressing .- This valued recipe for salad dressing is a well-tried favorite, and will be liked by those who prefer to use cream rather than olive oil. It will keep cream rather than olive oil. It will keep iy welcomed on the payment of a small for two or three days, or more : One egg ; sum towards the expense of the entertainbutter, the size of a filbert ; one large teaspoonful of white sugar. Beat these well together, and slowly add two tablespoonfuls of cream, a little pepper and salt, one-half teaspoonful of mustard; when all is beaten to a smooth cream stir in quickly four tablesponduls of vinegar, and set in boiling water until .. is cooked. [Some will prefer it sweeter and with less vinegar, in which case reduce the strength of the vinegar and increase the am unt of sugar.] It should be of a rich, creamy consistency when done, and should be strained through fine sieve unless perfectly free fro lumps.

A HOLIDAY LOVING FOLK.

How the People of New Zealard Enjoy Themselves.

cream. Delicious. Chicken Fritters.—Chop cold chicken, but not too fine, seaon with salt, pepper and a little lemon juice, mix all together month, and it is a common practice for all working people to take two or more days at Christmas, the New Year and Easter. s.

attended by large and wen-boundary amuse The commonest of all holiday amuse ments, however, is the picnic. The several trades, sects and societies have picnics of trades, sects and their own, to which the public are cordialment

It is amusing to the railway traveller to note, as he passes through some pretry countryside, not one or two, but perhaps fifty, different picnics in full swing, each numbering scores or hundreds of guests It has been said, with much more truth than is usually to be found in epigrams of this kind, that "in New Zealand people are like cattle. You need only turn a number of them into a pasture and leave them alone, and they will be perfectly hanny." happy.

happy." On a warm and tempting New Year's Day an enterprising burglar might walk through a New Zealand city and help himself undisturbed, to the contents of Dwellings and streets most of the houses. Dwellings and streets are alike desorted, and the casual sojourner who does not understand the ways of the place seeks in vain for somebody to speak to. By six or seven in the evening the streets are lively with returning crowds,

Don't leave a baited hook where chickens can get at it. Don't despise a faint nibble; it may be your biggest fish.

Don't pick out the best pools; give your friend a chance. Don't rase along the bank when a friend is following you.

Don't give an eel slack line so that he can tie it full of knots. Pon't fish where the fish don't bite

Ton't hen where the hen don't bite; move on to another spot. Don't peep over the bank to see where fish are in the brook. Don't-don't-don't ever call a brook trout a "speckled beauty." Don't fail to commune with nature; shat's half the fun of fishing. Don't think that the best fishing tackle is made by saloon-keepers is made by saloon-keepers. Don't forget to change the water fre-quently in the minnow-bucket. Don't boast that you can wind your brand-new rod around a barrel.

Don't put bait in your pocket where it s liable to get into your pipe. Don't hang dead fish over the side of the boat—water will apoil them. Don't let your boatman stop rowing if you strike a fish when trolling. Don't let a fish leap into the air, and then fall back on a tautened line.

Don't use a two-pound sinker for brook fishing—half a pound will do. Don't forget when you cast that your companions have feelings and ears. Don't think that a four-ounce rod will work better in both hands at once.

Don't ridicule the small boy with a beanpole for a rod; he generally gets a ### Different Now.

He loved her so he said he could Forever keep awake; But now at midnight with those twins He sees his great mistake. open cans." "Why, we have two or three in the kitcher. Do you mean a cansopener ?"" "I don't mean wind-mills or thrashing

You had it in a pink paper?" Yes, ma'am.

"It was the day the man fixed the gate?"

"It was the day the man fixed the gate?" "It was." "Well, I saw you drop it in that wall-pocket, and it is a corkscrew and not a can

"It is, eh? Perhaps I don't know a "It is, on? Fernaps I don't know a hitching-post from the city hall !" he growl-ed as he reached for the parcel and unroll-ed it. It was a corkscrew. It could only be used as a corkscrew. It was made and add for a corkscrew." sold for a corkscrew.

"Did'nt I tell you ?" queried Mrs. Bowser. "Tell me what! You told me it was a corkscrew, and it's a can-opener, just as I said it was !"

'It's a corkscrew, Mr. Bowser, as every.

"It's a corkscrew, Mr. Bowser, as every-body will tell you." "I say it's a can-opener, and if all the world was to say to the contrary it would still be a can opener. Mrs. Bowser, I don't like your demeanor. No wife should stand up and dimute mithers the back of the stand up and dispute with her husband. When I don't know how to run this house I'll step down and out. While we are on the subject let me ask where that screw.driver is I was using upstairs a week ago? If nunted for it two whole hours last evening. Perhaps you'll call that a corkscrew, too?" "You were boring a hole to put up a hook !"

"Yes'm-boring a hole."

"And you used a gimlet and left it lying on the window-sill !"

"Woman !" shouted Mr. Bowser as he pranced around, "don't I know a gimlet from a screw-driver !" Brokis (indignant) river ?" she queried in reply. D. Then there was deep silence for a minute, css. driver ?"

hours thereafter she died

May Lead to War.

The patience of France is to be put to a severe trial by the celebrations of German victories which are to take place during the next few weeks. There will be cheap excursions to points of interest, including such battlefields as lie within the territory which was transferred from France to many as a result of the war. A congress of veterans' unions will be held at Strasbourg. The fall of the city will be commemorated, and the vetrans will receive medals struck from the captured cannon. It would be generous for the victors to refrain from these demonstrations, but the truth is that the value of war as a breeder of noble and chivarlous sentiment has been much over-estimated. Zola, in the " Debacle. has done a service to humanity by stripping war of its illusions and showing its and repulsive features.

Liquidation.

Northside (as he and Spiffins move toward the bar).-There's Birmingham yonder. I owe him $10 which I can't pay, so I'll have to ask him to take a drink with us. Spiffins-In other words, as you can't satisfy his claim you'll liquidate it.

His Golden Wedding.

Dibbins-Coming around to my golden om a screw-driver ?" "Does any one bore holes with a screw-tiver ?" she queried in reply. The the queried in reply. The the queried in reply.

An Unsteady Light.

Why? asked her husband. I'm sure I never could learn to read by the light of Roman candles.

I'm very glad I don't live in Rome, remarked Mrs. Bickers.