

ASSOCIATION OF RATEPAYERS FOR PARIS FORMED

Large Gathering Heard Addresses Last Night and Took Action in Matter
OTHER NEWS OF PARIS
Pte. James Skinner, Formerly of 84th Battalion, Wounded

(From our own Correspondent)
Paris, June 22.—There was a good representative meeting at the council chambers last night, some fifty being present, to hear Controller Jutton of Hamilton, discuss the advantages of a ratepayers' association. To Aid. Wooler must be given the credit for initiating the movement. Mayor Robinson occupied the chair, and during the evening expressed himself as being fully in accord with the movement.

Aid. Wooler briefly outlined the aims and objects of the association, which were for the assistance and protection of the small property owners, as also for the bringing about of necessary improvements, and last but not least, to endeavor to obtain the best men to represent the town at the council board. In England large numbers of these associations were in existence, but he did not wish it thought that he desired to introduce English methods here. This was Canada, and the association could be so adapted to meet Canadian views and ideas for the betterment of the community. The association was non-political, non-sectarian, whose sole object was for the welfare of the community, the betterment of conditions and to assist the council in bringing about the same.

Controller Jutton, of Hamilton, gave a most interesting and instructive address, during which he showed, without question, the good results that had been attained in Hamilton since the introduction of a Ratepayers' Association, or, as they termed it in Hamilton, Ward Improvement Societies. The Controller showed how the average citizen was ever ready to find fault, but very few of them had any practical remedy to suggest. Since the introduction of the societies in Hamilton, much had been accomplished, since the individuals of a ward were more conversant with what was needed in their own particular locality for its improvements than really honest with the corporation. In hand with the council in the promotion of the general welfare of the city, and had committees formed for the following movements:

Streets, sidewalks, beautifying the city, more healthy surroundings, the establishment of industries, the building of houses to accommodate workmen for same, and also to see that the officials and workmen were honest with the corporation.

The association also advocated a two year term for mayor and aldermen at least, which was found to be beneficial to the city's interest, as the first year, both mayor and aldermen were learning. He also advocated day labor, under a competent officer for all municipal work, as against contract jobs. He also showed that the associations had been instrumental in bringing about garden clubs for the workmen, there being upwards of three hundred and fifty garden lots of about 60 by 100 ft., under cultivation by the working men around the city.

Regarding the garbage system, he pointed out how Paris might save by working in conjunction with the Red Cross Society followed the garbage rigs and picked up the bundles of paper and old clothes which had been placed in a bundle by the garbage can, by the citizens. The bundles were not taken by the garbage men, but by the other collectors, and after paying all expenses, the Red Cross realized $1,000 per month from this saving, that had hitherto been destroyed.

In closing, he showed that Hamilton, with a population of 100,000, had sent 10,000 men overseas, and had raised over three and quarter million dollars for patriotic purposes. One thing to remember was that the association was to help the council at all times.

Messrs. R. E. Payne, Walter Broomfield, E. Pitts, and others, spoke, and an association was formed with the following officers:

President—W. Wooler.
Vice-Pres.—R. E. Payne.
Secy-Treas.—D. A. Briggs.
Executive Committee—W. Broomfield, A. W. Roussel and E. W. Burton.

These will draft a by-law and constitution and also canvass for membership.

The funeral of Annie Brooks, beloved wife of Alex. Lovren, Burford Township, took place this afternoon from her late residence, to the Princeton cemetery. The deceased was in her 39th year, and had been ill with heart trouble for some months. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, and well known to many in town. A husband and two daughters survive.

Word was received in town yesterday afternoon by Mr. Thomas Skinner, that his son James Henry, had been wounded in the left leg. Pte. Skinner went overseas with the 84th battalion. Word was also received that Pte. Alex. Johnstone had been shot in the right leg. He left here with the artillery. His relatives live at Paris Station.

Acting-chiefs D. Brockbank and M. Skelly are having a pretty busy time issuing summonses against citizens who are letting their dogs run at large without muzzles. Some dozen young fellows who beat their way to Woodstock on freight trains, also received summonses to appear at Woodstock on Monday. Then tomorrow morning a serious case will be heard against a Paris man, who is charged with brutally thrashing his wife. Fortunately for the good name of Paris, such things are very rare here.

With the Fingers!
Says Corns Lift Out
Without Any Pain

Soft corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost you can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries in a moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting "corns" on practically every woman's feet.

The Red Cross is asked by the commission "to do everything possible to send to Copenhagen at the present time a quantity of bread sufficient at least for the first month."

that the origin of, and sole basis for defendants' despatch is a bulletin posted in New York by a member of plaintiff as a result of the plaintiff's efforts and certainly without any such information given by the defendant.

The International Service admitted this practice but attempted to justify it, by asserting it was a legitimate outgrowth of the newspaper habit of utilizing "tips."

To this the court replied: "There is no difficulty in discriminating between the utilization of 'tips' and the bodily appropriation of another's labor in accumulating and stating information. The word 'tip' signifies a bare intimation that something has happened."

The defendant called this appropriation, arguing that all the plaintiff ever had was facts, and all the defendant took was facts, that there had been no property in facts, and if there were it would be lost the instant any member of the Associated Press published the facts in news not facts alone and that in news there is a property right not exhausted by the act of a single member of the Associated Press.
