HUN FEELINGS MIXED.

By Courier Leased Wire. Geneva, July 18.—(Havas Agency).—In the pocket which the Germans have created south of the Marne, their losses, according to conservative estimates, reached the figure of 60,000 in the first two days' fighting. The Matin declares to-day. Treating of the situation in this sector of the front, The Echo de Paris says:

"Because of the counter-attacks delivered by the army of General DeGoutte and our American allies, the Germans were unable appreciably to widen or deepen this pocket."

According to the same newspaper forty German divisions have been fully engaged in the battle, while twenty support divisions were obliged to take more or less part in the fighting.

Premier Clemenceau returned last evening from a visit to the front, expressing himself very well satisfied with the situation.

DRIVE HALTED IN TWO DAYS

Forty-Eight Hours Sufficient to Stay Rush of German Masses

On the French front in France, July 17.—(By the Associated Press) Forty-eight hours have sufficed for the holding of the German masses launched in the crown prince's great offensive on Monday. The enemy units which were turned back from the direction of Paris and are endeavoring to ascend the Marne are being held in check by the French troops.

The position of German columns which had gained a footing on the south bank of the Marne have become perilous, while to the east of Rheims the German efforts to advance have each time been foiled. Comparatively slight progress has been made by the enemy on the front west of Rheims, but his hope of affecting a breach in the line was not realized.

The Allied method of defense proved wonderfully efficacious everywhere resulting in maintaining the armies intact.

ANOTHER SLIGHT ADVANCE

Bulletin, London, July 17.—Presses of the German crown prince advanced another three miles down the Marne valley yesterday, this makes a total penetration of the French line of about six miles at Pestiary, the most southern point reached by the invaders.

The six mile penetration of the German to Pestiary, noted in the foregoing dispatch, does not mean a German advance of that distance south of the Marne, as Pestiary is only about two and three-quarters miles south of the river at its nearest point. The penetration is calculated from the nearest point of departure at the beginning of the offensive. As a matter of fact, there appears to have been a penetration to approximately the same depth—six miles—north of the Marne, and this has been pointed to as probably more menacing to the situation.

regards Rheims than the German advance south of the river. The French already have begun to react strongly in the region below north of the stream, where the pressure of the Rheims salient is involved, seems on the basis of the last official advices not to have been as fully met.

BRITISH OFFICIAL

London, July 17.—The text of the war office statement reads: "We captured a few prisoners and machine guns during the night in a successful minor enterprise east of Villers-Bretonneux."

"A raid attempted by the enemy in the same sector was repulsed. A few prisoners were secured also in the course of a successful raid carried out early this morning by English troops in the neighborhood of Hulleuch."

"Hostile artillery has been active in the Somme and Ancre sectors, north of the Scarpe, northeast of Bethune and north of Bailleul."

CLOSED DOWN UNIONS.

Washington, July 18.—German factories which have been forced by the war to shut down are forming trade associations unique in the economic history of the world. Consular dispatches received here tell of the organization of the "Association of Closed-down Cotton Weaving Factories" with headquarters in Dresden, which is being joined by many important concerns.

The Association hopes to obtain for the idle corporations a representation proportionate to their number and importance in the war-economic organs, so that questions affecting their whole existence shall not be decided exclusively under the influence of the going concerns.

Government officials said the reply of the German government would be one of the most interesting economic phases of the war, as indicating what plans are in the making for safeguarding industry at large for the rehabilitation of the country after the war.

PARENTS ARE PROUD.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 17.—"Quentin's mother and I are very glad that he got to the front and had the chance to render some service to his country and show the staff there was in him before his fate befell him."

"The statement was issued by Col. Theodore Roosevelt to-day after press dispatches furnished confirmation that his son had been killed in an aerial battle."

Col. Roosevelt stated that his plans relative to attending the New York State Republican convention Saratoga Springs were unchanged and that he would deliver an address before the convention to-morrow.

FOR LOSSES HEAVY.

ONTARIO MASONS MEET AT WINDSOR

Six Hundred Delegates Already Assembled; More are Expected.

CONVENTION OPENS

By Courier Leased Wire. Windsor, Ont., July 17.—The annual communication of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Ontario opened here to-day with 600 delegates from all points in Ontario in attendance.

Most Worshipful Grandmaster W. H. Wardhouse, K.C. of Hamilton, presiding. Delegates will continue to come in during the afternoon and to-night it is expected 1,000 will have arrived.

Masonic greetings from the Windsor lodges were presented by a deputation of Harry Maw, Master of the Great Western Lodge, P. T. Howe, master of Windsor Lodge, Dr. Beasley, master of Rose Lodge and W. T. Turner, master of Ontario Lodge. Worshipful Master Howe read an engrossed address referring to the fact that it was 18 years since grand lodge met here before and in that time masonry had enjoyed a remarkable growth from two lodges with about 400 members to four lodges with more than 1,500 members.

The grandmaster made an appropriate reply, thanking local committees for their efforts in looking after the comfort of the delegates and the welfare of the grand lodge, thus helping to promote the greatest moral institution in existence, which masonry has become. Grand lodge was shown to be in a flourishing condition when the grandmaster read his report showing more than 66,000 members and receipts in the amount of about $23,000. He paid a high tribute to the late John Ross Robertson, referring to him as one of the outstanding figures in Canadian life whose death caused an almost irreparable loss to the grand lodge.

Prominent among those on the platform with the grandmaster were: F. W. Harcourt, of Toronto, deputy grandmaster; P. T. Howe, grand treasurer; A. T. Freed, editor of the Hamilton Spectator; Hon. W. D. McPherson, Judge McWatt, Sir John Gibson, former lieutenant-governor, and S. A. Luke, past grandmaster.

W. W. Logan of Hamilton, is acting grand secretary and will likely be continued in office. There will be no changes this year in the principal officers.

ESSAY COMPETITION ON NATIONAL CREDIT

Prizes Offered by Foundation at University of Berne

Ottawa, July 17.—The Department of the Naval Service is informed that the Board of Management of the Travers-Borgstrom Foundation, University of Berne (Switzerland), has received a donation from Arthur Travers-Borgstrom for the purpose of establishing an international competition on the subject of "The Nationalization of Credit."

The competition will include a critical study of the organization of credit in a given country and proposals for its nationalization.

Essays which are submitted on the subject may be written in English, French, German or Italian, and the competition is open to everyone without distinction of nationality or profession. Three principal prizes are to be awarded, the first amounting to 25,000 francs, the second to 20,000 francs, and the third to 10,000 francs. In addition to these there will be 15 secondary prizes of 3,000 francs each.

The competition will close not later than March 31, 1922, and the final result will be published before the close of the year 1922. Copies of the regulations for the competition may be had on application to the Bureau of the Travers-Borgstrom Foundation, Room 50, University of Berne.

USE OF AIRPLANE EVER EXTENDING

Need For More and More Machines Proven by the Aerial Successes

Behind British Lines in France, July 18.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press) The use of the airplane as an auxiliary to infantry in action are being continually extended. It is the opinion of military leaders here that the need for more machines and trained men is shown by the success of the low-flying airplanes in operating against the Germans during the past two months.

On the Western front, this spring two factors, German recklessness of life and the success of the Allies in holding the German airmen, gave the opportunity of developing on a large scale this method of harassing attack.

The success of the low-flying airplanes is of two kinds, the slaughter they inflict, and secondly, the discouraging effect of the Berlin Warrents factor is of more importance than most people realize. An unexpected check to troops on march is always troublesome. Men wonder what has happened. Suddenly bombs begin to fall, men are killed, horses stampede, wagons are smashed and the road blocked. Until the Allied airplanes are seen with the irrefragable implication that the German planes have failed to drive them off, the psychological effect is very severe.

The work of the British airmen received a reluctant tribute in a recent issue of the Berlin Warrents which was captured in a raid on the German trenches. The German news paper, in an article full of apparently sincere admiration for British flying, said: "Never before have the English thrown their airmen in such masses behind our front as they are doing in their present retreat."

But the higher command of the British air force is by no means satisfied. A high official pointed out to the Associated Press correspondent in discussing this phase of air work, that "never before was the need of the air force for trained men and finished material so urgent as it is to-day." He added: "It has been said loosely that the Allies are masters of the air and have achieved supremacy in flying. But the aerial situation is too fluid to justify such words. As a cold fact, complete mastery of the air could only come if there were no German machines able to take the air."

It is another matter and it is true that at the moment this may be claimed by the Allies. For example, the British record of bombs dropped in April shows 12 to one against the Germans. The present situation can be maintained and must be maintained, not only on general grounds, but particularly for the development of the new tactics of the low-flying airplane.

KAISER WATCHED FIGHT.

Amsterdam, July 18.—Emperor William watched the opening of the latest German offensive from an advanced observation post northwest of Rheims, his favorite correspondent, Karl Rosner, in a despatch to The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger states.

"The Emperor," says the correspondent, in his customary florid style, "listened to the terrible orchestra of our surprise fire attack and looked upon the unparalleled picture of the projectiles raging toward the enemy positions."

DRIVE FROM MARNE BANK

By Courier Leased Wire. Washington, July 18.—General Pershing's communique for yesterday reports that in the American sector on the Marne, the enemy has been entirely driven from the south bank.

The dispatch follows: "Headquarters American Expeditionary Forces, July 17.—In the Marne sector our troops have entirely regained possession of the south bank of the river. Northwest of Chateau Thierry, the enemy yesterday repeated his attempts of the preceding day to penetrate our lines near Vaux. His attempt was completely broken up by our infantry and artillery fire before reaching our lines. Yesterday in the region of Thiancourt, a hostile airplane was shot down by our aviators."
