WHAT SOLDIERS NEED

(Somewhere in Belgium)

Cigarettes + tobacco are rather overdone. Mamma in doubt as to what to send the men,
always depend on Zam-Buk
+ socks. Socks are in demand
Zam-Buk is much in demand for skinned heels, barbed wire cuts, + similar sore
places + injuries.
Yours truly,
A. Brookes (Capt.)
7th Battalion.

When you send your parcels to the front, don't forget to include a box of Zam-Buk. Nothing ends pain like Zam-Buk, and prevents festering. Remember, too, it is just as useful in your home. Mothers should always keep it handy for it is a sure cure for eczema, ulcers, piles, and skin diseases generally.

Especially suitable for the skin troubles of young children. All druggists sell. box.

Lens in Ruins; Mines Flooded

Paris, Oct. 4. The deputy mayor of Lens, M. Basly, says the liberated city is in ruins and the coal mines flooded and otherwise damaged. To reclaim the mines will require an enormous amount of work. The government has made a loan of more than 2,000,000 francs to Lens to cover the first expenses.

such as the buying of tools and other implements. Several of the mine owners declare that all efforts will be put forward to get the mines on a working basis as soon as possible.

WHY not give your lad the same training?

"When I was a growing lad, and came upon many words in my reading that I did not understand, my mother, instead of giving me the dictionary when I applied to her, uniformly sent me to the dictionary to learn it, and in this way I gradually learned many things besides the meaning of the individual word in question—among other things, how to use a dictionary, and the great pleasure and advantage there might be in the use of the dictionary. Afterwards, when I went to the village school, my chief diversion, after lessons were learned and before they were recited, was in turning over the pages of the 'Unabridged' of those days. Now the most modern 'Unabridged'—the NEW INTERNATIONAL—gives me a pleasure of the same sort. So far as my knowledge extends, it is at present the best of the one-volume dictionaries, and quite sufficient for all ordinary uses. Even those who possess the splendid dictionary in several volumes will not find it a great convenience to have this, which is so compact, so full, and so trustworthy as to leave, in most cases, little to be desired."—Albert S. Cook, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of the English Language and Literature, Yale Univ. April 28, 1911.

Excitement in Berlin Intense

Amsterdam, Oct. 7.—(By The Associated Press.) Excited crowds in the streets of Berlin yesterday evening tore special editions of the newspapers communicating the speech Prince Maximilian, the new Chancellor, from the hands of the new dealers. Everywhere shouts of "peace has come," "peace at last," were heard.

Conservation Has Been Successful.

Conservation measures and voluntary saving in the homes have reduced Canadian consumption of flour from 800,000 to 600,000 barrels per month, as compared with per-war consumption. This means a saving at the rate of 2,400,000 barrels per year, or counting the savings by lengthened extraction of milling, of 2,640,000 barrels per year. This is equivalent to a saving of nearly 12,000,000 bushels of wheat.

American Shipyards Produce 100 New Ships in September

Washington, Oct. 4.—One hundred sea-going vessels, forty-six steel and fifty-four wood, aggregating 301,439 gross tons, were completed in American shipyards during September and officially numbered by the bureau of navigation. In addition, seventy non-sea going vessels of 7,037 gross tons, were built during the same period. This is a greater tonnage than was built the whole fiscal year of 1915. During the nine months ended September 30, the total of sea-going and non-sea going vessels, built was 1,357, of 1,722,730 gross tons.

City Renders Practical Help in Greater Production

It is not often that the residents of a city have an opportunity of seeing farming operations on a large scale carried on right at their own doors. Even in Western Canada, where hundreds of thousands of acres of virgin land are being turned over and cultivated in order to raise increased crops of wheat and other food grains to supply the needs of the Allies, the spectacle witnessed by the citizens of Calgary, Alberta, recently was an unusual one. Not far from the centre of the city—about a mile from the city hall to be more exact—two hundred acres of vacant land were to be put under the plow. The use of the land had been granted to the city of Calgary through the courtesy of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, the owners.

But how was such a tract of land to be plowed when all available machinery was being used to the utmost capacity in the country; when the demand for all kinds of machinery is so great that it cannot be delivered to the farmers fast enough. That was the question asked by many of the city fathers. The implement companies came to the rescue. A day was set when the work should be begun. Telephone and telegraph wires were put into operation. And by the date set seventeen tractors and the requisite plows and other implements were got together. One large tractor rolled sixty miles over the country in order to participate in the event.

Seldom has such an array of farm machinery been concentrated on an area of two hundred acres. Never, perhaps, has such an area been broken up and cultivated in shorter time. Although there was no competition all engaged were animated by the good they were doing in the cause of greater production. Furthermore, the machinery was wanted in the country, and it must not tarry in the city. Unfortunately rain prevented the work being completed in one day, an achievement which, if it had been accomplished, would no doubt have constituted a record not easily surpassed.

A crop of oats, potatoes and flax is now grown on the land and it is hoped that this will add considerably to the production now so earnestly desired. The illustrations show the workers on the land.
