FINE ASSORTMENT OF

Gents' and Ladies' Gold and Silver Watches.

WOMEN.

When Eve brought woe to all mankind,
Old Adam called her wo-MAN;
But when she woe'd with love so kind,
He then pronounced her wo-WOMAN.
But now, with folly and with pride,
Their husbands' pockets trimmings,
The ladies are so full of WHIMS,
The people call them WHIM-MEN.

LOCAL NEWS.

Three bridal parties put up at our hotels last Wednesday.

Divine service in St. Paul's Church on Sunday forenoon, at half-past ten.

The contractors for the Baptist church broke ground on Tuesday last.

The Brockville, Westport & St. Lawrence Railway is suggested as an appropriate appellation for our little road.

The building boom has again commenced for the season, and already quite a number of buildings are well under way.

The Brockville Times publishes a very neat exposure of the Recorder's plagiarism. It is reproduced in another column.

A gang of men are now working in the Cornhill quarry. Parties wanting stone should leave their orders with Frank at once.

The Oddfellows' anniversary sermon will be preached in St. Paul's Church on the 29th inst., at 10:30 a.m.

Now the head of the family goes home to get a warm meal, and instead thereof finds nothing but devastation and cold, second hand hash.

Our staff of district correspondence continues to increase. The next news-gatherers from Mallorytown and Toledo being the latest acquisitions.

Miss Eva Foster of Brockville, will sing the beautiful contralto solo, "Calvary," at the singing service in the Methodist Church next Sunday evening.

Those of our readers who, during the house-cleaning season, decide to add to the furniture of their homes, would do well to inspect the stock of Messrs. Brown.

The Perth town council have granted the Mechanics' Institute of that place $100. Wouldn't a small grant to the Farmersville Institute from our municipal council be about the right thing?

Messrs. Moulton & Mackay, Delta, have added a military shoe room to their business. This department will be under the supervision of Mrs. Kilbourn, whose reputation as a milliner ranks high.

The young ladies of the Mission Band, in connection with the Methodist Church here, are busily engaged in preparing a box of clothing to be sent to the McDougall Orphanage, in the North-west.

The anniversary services of the Salvation Army were very successful. There was a large attendance of the public, and the local and visiting officers and soldiers made the meetings lively, and no mistake.

Wm. V. Sherman, of Plum Hollow, claims to be using the oldest tin sap buckets made in Canada. They were manufactured for him by James Brooks, tinsmith, Brockville, 36 years ago, and are apparently as good as new. Can any of our readers beat this record?

The Unionville Fair Prize List is now being printed. An advertisement in it is about the best means business men can have for reaching the farming community, as one is sent to nearly every farmer in the district, and in most cases they are preserved till after the exhibition takes place. Prices very reasonable. Parties wishing space should leave their orders at once with the Secretary of the Society, at this office.

We are often asked "What about incorporation?" In reply we would say that the matter of incorporation is simply lying in abeyance until the meeting of the County Council in June, when the petition, asking that an enumerator be appointed, will be presented. As soon as this is done, the question of incorporation can then be brought before the ratepayers and upon their decision will rest the question whether we will become incorporated or not. The columns of the Reporter are open to any of our citizens who wish to say anything for or against incorporation.

A bright-witted girl in Manchester, England, telephoned to her father at his office, asking if her dog, "Curly," was there. He replied that he was. "Well, take him up in your arms and hold the receiver to his ear," said the girl. Her father did so. The dog's conversation was very gratifying to the managers of the Sunday School.

Telephoning to Her Dog.

This has been a great sugar season here. The roads are drying up well now.

The Government have, through Mr. S. J. Dawson, M.P., notified the people of the fact that the canal will be built without any unnecessary delay.

We would advise a couple of people in this village to let the blind on the window of their bedroom down at night and put out the light, so as to prevent passing by from looking in.

COUNTY NEWS.

Interesting Letters from Various Points in the County.

MALLORYTOWN.

FRIDAY, April 13.—Cherry White has moved back on his old place again. The cheese factories here will open on Monday, the 16th.

Mr. F. M. Kelly, of Farmersville, is at the station waiting to operate. We wish Fred every success.

Rev. Mr. Tighe, of Lansdowne, intends holding English church service in the town hall here every other Sabbath, at half-past two.

Division Court will be held here on Monday, the 30th. Some very interesting cases are on the docket.

ELBE MILLS.

MONDAY, April 16.—The "storm signal" was out in all directions on Sunday last.

There is a rumor that the office of division court clerk, rendered vacant by the death of Col. McCrea, of Franklinville, will be filled by the appointment of Mr. Cyrus A. Wood, of Elbe Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Munroe, of Edinburgh University, have received and accepted the unanimous call of the Farmersville and Plum Hollow churches, and a council of the pastors and delegates of the churches has been called to ordain him at Farmersville, on May 2nd, at 2 p.m.

We had practical evidence the other day of the speedy transmission of matter over the route between the Pacific Coast and Farmersville. A letter from a subscriber at Tacoma, Washington Territory, mailed on the 3rd inst., reached us on the morning of the 9th inst.
