

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAY 20, 1904

Acadia Second Forward Movement.

Last week we gave to our readers a report of Dr. Trotter's address on the above subject, delivered to the congregation of the Wolfville Baptist church on Sunday morning, the 15th inst. We also gave some account of the response made by the Baptist people of the town, and expressed our confidence that, when appealed to, the people of the town, without distinction, would do their utmost to make this comprehensive undertaking a complete success.

We understand that during the present week a general appeal to the citizens has been made, and once more we bespeak for the appeal that large-minded consideration which it surely should command. The exercise of a genuine public spirit at the present time by our citizens would greatly strengthen the hands of those charged with the task of raising the funds, and would furnish them with an example which could be quoted all over the country for the inspiration of other communities. On the other hand, if this community were the institutions are situated, this community which enjoys the intellectual and social advantages of them in the most direct way, and whose commercial life is largely the outgrowth and result of the presence of the institutions—if this community should be lacking in public spirit, it could hardly fail to have a depressing and harmful effect.

We have a large measure of confidence that the response will be worthy of the town, and of the important issues at stake. Six persons have pledged $5,000.00. The rest of the community combined ought to be good for an equal amount. With the privilege of spreading the payment of pledges over four years, it will be possible for many to do what otherwise would have been impracticable.

Good taste, the real basis of what is known as 'good form,' always marks the suggestions on social observances contributed to The Delineator by Mrs. Frank Learned. In the June number of this magazine Mrs. Learned discusses the timely subject of weddings, and apropos of home ceremonies she says: 'The chief aim at a home wedding is to have everything as simply arranged as possible. A few formalities are necessary in order that all may be done in a dignified manner and without confusion. But it is desirable to avoid anything that detracts from the serious nature of the ceremony.' For a simple home wedding Mrs. Learned suggests as a refreshment menu salads, croquettes of chicken or lobster, cold salmon mayonnaise, dainty sandwiches, ice-cream, cakes and bonbons; and in reference to the practice of rice-throwing she gives the guarded opinion that if indulged in at all, it should not be overdone. Probably Mrs. Learned would agree that private facings of the bride should be a guide to her friends in each case with regard to this custom.

For some time past the provincial government has been making enquiries regarding a suitable man as good roads instructor for the province. Last week the appointment of C. R. Coutlee, of Aylmer, Quebec, to the position was announced. Mr. Coutlee, who is a well-known member of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, is about 40 years of age, and was educated in Kingston. Since he has graduated he has practised his profession on many important works from Montreal to Vancouver. He has had considerable practical experience in the construction of roads, and is said to be well acquainted with the general conditions of highway construction. He is not an entire stranger to Nova Scotia, as he was at one time assistant to T. H. White, chief engineer of the Halifax and South-Western railway.

The Intercolonial Railway authorities are inaugurating a new feature—a passenger train between Montreal and Halifax, to be known as the 'Ocean Express,' and will be equal in every way to the famous Maritime Express. The new train will start July first and will accomplish the trip in twenty-four hours, four hours less than at present. At the outset the cars and equipment may not be equal to the standard ultimately intended, as appropriations for the necessary rolling stock have not yet passed, but temporary arrangements for the necessary stock will be made for the first trip on the evening of Dominion Day. The new train will leave Montreal at 8 p. m., so passengers will be able to view the scenery of the Metapedia Valley and New Brunswick in the daylight.

Digby is to have a new illuminated $5000 clock placed in the post office building by the Dominion public works department. Ferguson and Page, of St. John, have the order to supply it, and it is to be in place by the end of June. Wolfville, which is a larger and in many ways a more important town than Digby, cannot even boast of a government building—there is some one in the town with sufficient 'pull' with the government to move in the direction of getting one?

The members of 'Lily of the Valley' Division, Port Williams, are to give an entertainment in their hall this evening. A choice program of vocal and instrumental music, readings, tableaux, and an interesting dialogue (Mrs. Lester's Solace) is to be given, and a pleasant time will no doubt be had.

The money voted at the annual school meeting should be promptly collected during the first half of the school year, on the rate roll in existence at the time the money was voted, and before the new rate roll is completed. The delay to collect till the new rate is completed is illegal and trustees can be fined for this neglect of duty. See notes in Journal, page 98.

At the Provincial exhibition, prizes in money, medals and diplomas, are offered to the county and town schools only, for samples of drawing and other school work. For full particulars apply to Manager J. F. Wood, or Supervisor McKay, Halifax.

Colin W. Roacoe, Inspector of Schools.

Sir Henry M. Stanley.

Sir Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, died at London last week. He was 63 years of age, having been born on January 28th, 1841, near Denbigh, Wales, of humble parentage. For ten years he was educated in the poor house of St. Asaph. At fifteen he went as cabin boy on a vessel bound for New Orleans. There he was adopted by a merchant named Stanley, whose name he took in place of his original one, John Rowland. He was in the Confederate army; subsequently in Federal navy; afterwards newspaper correspondent for the New York Herald in Abyssinia war. He was finally sent by the proprietor of the Herald, James Gordon Bennett, to find Dr. Livingstone, of whom nothing had been heard for more than two years. Stanley succeeded after a perilous journey in finding Livingstone at Ujiji on Lake Tanganyika. His subsequent life up to 1890 was devoted to the exploration of Africa. Stanley left Livingstone in Africa in February, 1872, both starting for the coast in different directions. Livingstone never returned alive, but Stanley reached England in July 1872, and was received with royal entertainments. After discovering that Livingstone was dead, on his second expedition in 1874 he explored Lake Victoria Nyanza, and dissipated many false theories in regard to the topography in that hinterland of Africa, now in general so well known to every school child. He discovered the head waters of the Congo, believed hitherto to have been the Nile. Afterwards he relieved Emin Pasha, bringing him back from Equatorial Africa to Egypt. In this expedition the sources of the Nile were discovered, and returning to England in 1890, he received an unending ovation. Universities conferred degrees on him, and everywhere he was honored. After that he gave up exploration. He has written 'How I found Livingstone,' 'Through the Dark Continent,' 'The Congo and the Founding of the Free State,' 'In Darkest Africa,' 'My Dark Companions and their Strange Stories,' and 'Through South Africa.' He has lectured extensively in United States and United Kingdom. In July, 1892, he offered for a seat in the British Commons, but was defeated in North Lambeth. Among the Queen's birthday honors in 1899, his name appeared as G. C. B. The story of his life as an explorer has been one that has fired the imagination of all English people, and his work as a pioneer holds an exceedingly high place in the annals of explorers.

A Few Divorces.

For the first time in seven years an effort has been made to secure statistics of divorce in the United States and the result shows that in that time the yearly average of divorces has grown from 16,336 to about 70,000, or more than 400 per cent. Father Otten has prepared for the Roman Catholic Messenger a table of statistics of divorce for recent years which shows that the percentage of increase since 1877 has been growing steadily, and that in a few years the United States will have as many divorces as Japan, which now has nearly as many divorces every year as other nations combined. The estimate for that country is 100,000 divorces a year.

Rosy, Hearty Children.

If you want to keep your little ones rosy, hearty and full of life give them Rosy's Own Tablets the moment they show signs of being out of order in any way. This medicine cures all forms of stomach and bowel troubles, breaks up colds, prevents croup, destroys worms, allays teething irritation, and gives the little ones sound, natural sleep. No child objects to taking the Tablets and the mother has a guarantee that they contain no opiate or harmful drug. No other medicine for little ones gives this guarantee. Mrs. Geo. Campbell Killarney, Man., who has had much experience says:—'I find Rosy's Own Tablets a fine medicine for children. They are prompt in relieving little ills and gentle in their action.' All medicine dealers sell these Tablets or you can get them by mail at 25 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
