SMASHED BY AN AUTO

the Weekly Papers of the Conti-ent are Making an Appeal for Support During Next Week

Among local lumber operators the prospect for the coming season has been to a recent date been rather uncertain but of into things have been disaring up so that plans for restricted operations are now being pushed and samps are being organized. The style concern will cut about three million all under contract. Chute's nave a contract with the Nashwaak people. The Juniper Company will cut from three to five million on their permits in the Miramichi territory. Adair Bros. will put in by the thousend, under contract with these people. Hill Bros. also have a lear winter's operation under contract. Improveall of them should be regular yearly subscribers. In this constituency The Observer claims the largest circula tion among its contemporaries, but George Rideout had a thrilling few there are still those that should take seconds last Wednesday night, when a fast going auto clashed into his team on the West Side road near Barnett's their birthplace, but who are now tair to set a high mark for this pro-vince by continuing on the coming week. The Orser-Purlong-Chute case went to the jury at a late hour Tues-day when, after short deliberation, a verdict was brought in favoring Orser and Furiong. This suit came out of a dispute over the scale of number in an operation in the season 1919-20 and resulted in a finding of $2,500 in a suit involving a claim for $2,800.

CLOVERDALE LUMBER CASE

bridge. He saw that the oar was approaching at a dangerous city and made a desperate effort to evade the speeding machine, but a collision resulted. The driver was thrown and eligibly approach but managed to get suited. The driver was thrown and slightly stunned but managed to get control of the horse. The occupants of the car came to his assistance and made certain that nothing more serious than a scared horse and somewhat bruised driver and a wrecked wagon had resulted from the collision. The auto party readily adjusted the damages and went merrily on their way while Mr. Rideout was left to nurse his bruises and to wonder why so many take it for granted that the mere fact of possessing an auto license, conveys a right to both sides of the road and the middle as well.

who pay their subscriptions promptly year after year. We ask nothing more from them except that they continue to be subscribers and that next week they will endeaver to have The Observer placed in one new home in the two counties, or will send it to a distant triend, once resident of the counties—or will send us the names of such triends of theirs so we may send them sample copies.

Any one of our subscribers may send the name of a new subscriber along with $1.50 and we will send the new subscriber the paper until the end of 1922. We will also notify the new subscriber just who their friends.
