"Don't Call Me Dear." "Where will we stop in St. Louis, Char-lep?" asked a bride of her bran-new hubby as they were speeding westward on their bridal rour via the Wabash railroad.

"The Hotel Belvedere."

"Hush, Charley, don't call me 'dear' in public or every one will know we are newly married."

Trouble at Both Ends. "I have made more trouble than any living man, or dead one, for that matter," said a soldier of adversity's cross.
"What's wrong now?" inquired a friend.
"Why, you see, about two months ago I was trying to put a note in bank."
"Yes."

"Well, now I am trying to take it out Just why there should be trouble at both ends of such an affair I don't understand, could put up with trouble at one end, but under the present system of banking business

"I'm the runner of this hotel," replied a rery officious individual, "and I can give you all the information you want."
"You are just the man I wish to see. "You are just the man I wish to see, I like to make my grievances known to the proprietor only," said the stranger.
"But I am h t the proprietor," said the man; "I'm only the runner."
"Oh, you only run to the hotel, then. Be kind enough to show me the balance of the concern."

She Took it Because it Was a New Shade

"Say, you, have you got any buff trim-ming to go with that stuff?" asked a finshily ming to go with that stuff? asked a flashily dressed woman of a storekeeper.
.*I think so, miss," answered the urbane salesman, taking down a piece of goods and spreading it on the counter.
.*Buff? do you call that buff?" exclaimed the woman; "guess you don't know your business, young man. That's too dark for a huff."

"But, miss, that is—"

"It's too dark, I say."
"Why, of course it's dark, my dear young lady," persisted the man, "It's blind man's bug, the new shade, you see."
He sold the goods,

What He Would De in That Event. "Now, suppose you were a young lady," said the young man in a voice that sounded like the best effort of a cricket, "and I were to call at your papa's house and ask you to go to the theatre with me that evening, what would you do?" "Suppose I were a young lady?" said the

"And you were to call and ask me to go to the theatre with you?"

"What would I do?"

"Yes."
"Welf, if somebody had mislaid the gun, I suppose I should have to content myself with a club."

A Little Bit Too Previous.

A young lady who thought her parametrial charins gave ner the right to be disagreeable, was present a few nights since at a party, during which quarrels between husband and wife were discussed. wife were discussed.
"I think," sai an unmarried elder son who was present, "that the proper thing is for the husband to have it out at once, and thus avoid quarrels in the future. I would light a cigar in the carriage after the wedding breakfast and settle the smoking question "I would knock the cigar out of your

"Do you know, I don't think you would be there," quietly remarked the elder son.

A Basket Doesnt't Stop 'Zm. "Did you make any calls on New Year?"

asked Shooks of Green.
"No, I hadn't time. Busy all day. I received some, however."
"You don't say? I didn't know you kept open/house."
"I didn't, and I hung a basket on the hitch-

"And I." said Mr. Goodheart, " would give the Door fellow a quarter."
"I wouldn't." said Mr. Brunts. "I'd give him a nickel and that would be enough."
"And what would you give." was asked of a new man who had been very quiet all eveniug.
"Ah—ahem," he began hesitatingly, "you say he was dirty?"
"Yes."
"And ugly?"
"Yes."
"And villamous looking?"
"Yes."

"Well, I'd give him the road pretty quick and call the police if he didn't take it.

A Boston man who was coming East over the Northern Pacific a few days ago, rode for a day at the rate of twelve miles an hour, was side-tracked all night, and "stalled" in a snow bank all next day. When night came again, he asked the conductor:

"Will you push through to-night?"

"We may make twenty-five miles," was the auswer.

the answer.

"See here," said the Bostonite, as he lost his placidity of mind. "I've got $8,000 in stock in this line."

"Well?"

"Weil?"
"Weil, will you agree to make one hunded miles by daylight if I give you the stock?"
"Twouldn't do." was the reply, accompanied by a mournful shake of the head.
"If I owned stock in the road I'd ditch the train, put on show shoes, and get to some market where I couldsell the stuff for enough to bug me a burial lot outside of this infernal country! Royal Loan & Sav, Co............. WEEKLY REVIEW OF TORONTO WHOLESALE MARKETS.

THURSDAY, Jan. 17.

PRODUCE. PRODUCE.

The past week has brought no improvement in the condition of the local market. Offerings have been small, but sufficient for the wants of buyers, who have been few. They seem to agree in thinking that prices here are above what they should be in proportion to outside markets, and that they will not pay them saye for the supply of immediate necessities. Should this resolve be maintained we may expect to see a very quiet market here for some time to come—niless farmers and country holders should make concessions. How much grain there is held in the country, is a question which excites a good deal of interest, for on the reply returned to it may depend the action of country holders. So far these parties have been decidedly outstinate; but in view of the heavy decline in nearly all outside markets it may, perhaps, be well kets. Flour in London is stated to have decimed fot, to is, 0d. during last week. Imports for last week amounted to 220,000 to 235,000 qrs. of wheat and 175,000 to 180,000 bils. of flour, and home deliveries in the 187 towns of registry were filled to a correct result in the last mode of computing the sales in the whole of cheek ingdom by midiplyis by three those in the 187 towns does not lead to a correct result, and offers no true comparison with previous years. The following are the Liverpool questions for Aluc; there was a car of pagged sold last week it $12.50.

Oatmeal.—Cars inactive, with average qualicies offered at $4, but no sales reported. Small ots ranging from $4.25 to $4.50.

Whear—The decline in prices outside has diled out any remains of a shipping demand, and the closing of mills is operating in a like manner on the local enquiry. There seems to have been scarcely any business done all week. No. 2 fall has been very scarce, and a demand has been heard for it to a small extent of $1.03; No. 3 has sold a couple of times at $1.05 \cdot \text{.o.o.} \text{ pring was nominal until Tuesday, when No. 1 hanced hands for $1.10 at a point east and No. 2 here for $1.00 on track. The market closed incitive and with values apparently unchanged from the above prices, with a sale of one car of ed winterfor $1.00 on track. On street fall sold week and Monday, and at 31c. on Tuesday and resterday. Street prices have declined, and closed at 31c.

Barley — Considerable quantities changed is a street part of last week, but there all on p.t., though admittedly at week, but there all on p.t., though admittedly at steady prices, Some further sales have been made at 71c. for No. 1; at 56c. for No. 2, and at it 10 52c. for extra No. 3 f.o.c., No. 3 was inactive until the close, when cars of T. G. and B. were sold at 51c. fo.c., and one car of extra No. 3 at 51c. fo.c., and one car of extra No. 3 at 51c. fo.c., and one car of extra No. 3 at 51c. fo.c., and about 65 to 66c. for No. 2, and 71 to 72c. for No. 1. On the street prices closed at 51 to 68c.

Pala-Strady and readily taken; No. 2 have sold in car-lotelat 75c., f.o.c., and on Tuesday No. 3 brought 71c., and rejected 68c, on track, which prices would probably have been repeated at the close. On street the range has been 73 to 75c.

HYE—Quiet and steady, at about 62c. either for car-lots or on the street.

SEEDS—Very quiet: the only movement reported has been in red clover, of which dealers have taken a few small lots at a yout $6.75 per bushel. Other goods almost nominal with cuyers and sellers apart.

HAY—Pressed quiet and easy, at from $11 to $12. Market receipts have increased and brices declined from $6 to $9 for clover and inferior, and $10 to $13 for timothy.

STRAW—Supplies have increased and been sufficient. Prices closed easier, at $5.50 to $6 for loose, and $7 to $9 for sheaf.

YOUNDED OF THE ADD OF THE PRICE ADD OF THE ADD OF TH

Street receipts scarcely any, and prices as before at 85 to 99c.

APPLES—Nothing doing; cars nominal, and if pressed for sale not likely to have brought over 33 to $3.75. Street receipts mia, and prices nominal at $2.75 to $3.75.

POULTRY—Receipts on all sides small, and prices firm; box-lots up to 10½ to 12c, per 1b, for turkey and ducks, and 8 to 8½c. for geese. Street offerings very small and readily taken; fowl, 50 to 60c., and ducks, 65 to 75c. per pair, and geese to 20, each with turkeys 80c, to 21 for hens.

60 to 80c. each, with turkeys 89c. to $1 for hens, and $1 to $1.50 for gobblers.

PROVISIONS.

TRADE—Has remained quiet since our last.
BUTTER—Still inactive; the only business doing has been that of the local market, and in it scarcely anything has been moving save the best tubs oriered and box-lots of roils. The best dairy has very seldon sold over 18c.; indeed it is decidedly improbable that any more can be got for it. Medium and inferior have been neglected, and though not wanted, have continued to accumulate; there was 15c. bid for one lot of good shipeing quality and refused, but the universal opinion is that lots worth this price to-day will not bring so much a month or two hence. Box-lots of roils have come forward freely and have been pushed off as quickly as possible at 11 to 18c., as holders felt sure that they would not keep. Street receipts small and prices steady at 22 to 21c. for pound rolls and 18 to 20c. for tubs and crocks of dairy; no large roils offered.

CHEESE—Quiet but firm at 12; to 18c. for small lots of fine and 11sc. for medium, with a further advance generally expected.

Eggs.—Supplies have decreased but have remained sufficient as the demand has been slack. Prices unchanged but steady at 24c. for fresh and 22c, for limed in round lots.

Pork.—There has been some little movement in small lots, sales of which have been made at 516.

Bacon—Prices have remained unsettled and Porks.—There has been some little movement in small lots, sales of which have been made at $15.

BACON—Prices have remained unsettled and sales have been few. One lot of old long clear sold in the latter part of last week at $6.0 but he had at 100 and Cumberland at 90, with scarcely anything doing. Rolls and belies seem rather easier at 110.0 for rolls and 1230, for belies, with small lots of both.

HAMS—Scarce and wanted; holders have been firm at 130, for smoked, which are the only sort offered, but no sales reported, save those of very small parcels.

LARD—Has continued to sell steadily at still advancing prices. Small lots have been going off at 12 to 12/c. for tinnets and pails.

HOSS—Prices continued to advance until Tuesday, when a check was experienced; thence to the close $7.50 was the best price for rail lots; receipts slightly increased, but all, and more also, wanted. On street prices closed at $7.50 to $7.75, with all offered wanted.

SALT—Quiet at unchanged prices. Liverpool coarse in car-lots still offered at $6.4 and small lots selling at 75 to 80. Liverpool face unchanged at $1.45, and dairy at 50. Canadian as before, at $1.25 by the car and $1.32 to $1.40 for small lots to single barrels.

HOPS—Have stood much as before; sales few and of small lots only at 23 to 26. for the best qualities offered. Supplies small, and holders seem unwilling either to push sales or make concessions. Under these circumstances the future of the market must depend very much on the amount of stocks held.

DRIBD APPLES—Seem rather casier; dealers have been selling small lots of barrelled at $9.0, and the best bids for country lots seem to have been selling small lots of $2.25.

HIDES, SKINS, AND WOOL.

HIDES, SKINS, AND WOOL,

LOCAL LIVE STOCK The run of cattle was fair during the week, but the quantity was scarcely up to expectations. Prices, however, stand at the level mentioned last week, having declined fractionally from outside quotations, but showing an advance over those of the closing weeks in the year, but the polymer chose of the closing weeks in the year, and prices were unchanged. We quote.—
