When Tolerance Becomes a Vice.

BY RUTH GAMERON.

"Vice is a monster of such frightful mien As to be hated needs but to be seen. Yet, seen too oft, familiar with her face We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

All of which is a rather more grandiloquent and severe introduction than I meant to write for some very simple remarks.

Some two or three years ago a young girl in our neighbourhood had a new evening gown made quite scant and with a small slit down the right side. The slit was not more than three or four inches in width and was filled in with accordin platted chiffon. But my what a lot of talk that gown did create! For two or three days after the dance at which it made its debut, we talked of little else than sheath and slit gowns. The conservatives raved about the fashion; the radicals engaged dressmakers and sent for patterns. To-day how much attention would such a gown excite?

Fashions and Fads.

The fall coat promises to be long. Sashes appear again on tailored suits. Two linen skirts should be in every wardrobe.

The Parisienne has adopted moire for her street costume.

Vatican purple is the most fashionable shade for the parasol.

Deep tulle pleatings form a finish to extremely short sleeves.

Linen are always in good style, being smart, cool and durable.

Even tailors have adopted moire as a possibility for the tailored suit.

Side sashes in color are effectively introduced on the bolero costumes.

Some charming evening cloaks are made of beaded net and brocade silk.

A simple, pretty hat is a floppy leg-horn trimmed with a band of red, darned wool.

Two pairs of white canvas pumps are necessary to complete the summer footgear.

The small dolman coats, cut with a shawl-pointed effect at the back, are novel.

Bright-colored silk hose are worn with lingerie frocks. The color should match the sash.

Tulle covers many hats and tulle pleating borders the brims of some of the newest hats.

There are many fine lingerie embroidered batiste robes draped over colored transparencies.

Checks in neat shepherd patterns will hold a place in the smartly dressed woman's favor.

For the young girl the amber necklace is at the top notch of popularity. Coral is also in favor.

Lace and chiffon or lace and tulle are favored for sleeves and upper portion of décolleté waists.

A popular fad in footwear is the low shoe having ribbon straps which cross the ankle in sandal fashion.

A delightful and becoming illusion is gained by using a flesh-colored chiffon yoke finishing the bodice.

In every young woman's wardrobe there should be the white top coat. It is very smart and practical.

Wraps of black chiffon are embroidered with roses in pink crimson and gold and lined with two layers of pink chiffon.

The pelisse dresses, over which are arranged scarfs, oriental draperies and net effects, will be very much in fashion.

Broken timbers, showing evidence of decay and the corrosive action of salt air from the ocean were under guard to-day. Several construction engineers who were appointed on behalf of the city began an official inspection.

One of the principal witnesses will be James Twombly, member of the Long Beach Board of Public Works, who was charged with the duty of inspecting public buildings. C. White Mortimer, British vice-consul at Los Angeles, will be represented at the coroner's inquest.

Daughters of the Empire and Sons of St. George, the two principal organizations which had charge of the celebration, started a campaign to-day for the relief of the victims. While this seriously hurt numbers not more than 65, nearly 200 were injured, so that aid will be given them.

At the Yarmouth Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp, held at Tuskett Falls in August, I found MINARD'S LINIMENT most beneficial for sun burn, an immediate relief for colic and toothache.

Exhibit for Inquest—Responsibility for the Collapse of the Long Beach Pier to Be Placed—Two Hundred Injured.

Long Beach Cal., May 28. — Evidence to be presented Thursday at the inquest over the thirteen persons who lost their lives in the collapse Saturday of a portion of the municipal pier will bear directly upon the question of who was responsible for the condition of the structure which proved too weak to withstand the weight of several thousand women, men and children who had gathered to celebrate the birth anniversary of Queen Victoria.

Dont's for Girls.

Don't paint the rose. Don't use rouge or powder when under thirty, after that age there is hope that you will have too much sense to care to.

Don't be continually using your hands to brush your hair back or brush it forward, to readjust your hat, to rub your forehead, to feel of your collar, to play with your neck-lace, to button and unbutton your gloves, or in any of the countless ways a girl employs them that prove she can't get her mind off herself.

Don't laugh in a manner indicating that your idea of a good time is just noise. Leave that method of mirth to boys under ten.

Don't take five minutes for repeating a joke that should be told in half a minute, and expect it to be funny.

Don't mark a favorite quotation in a book. It is an untidy habit, and serves only the purpose of projecting your personality before the mental vision of the next one who reads, to his confusion and annoyance.

Don't preface your remarks with "As Homer says," "According to Emerson," etc. It is both priggish and stilted.

Don't look with a superior air at those who neither have read nor heard of the books published yesterday.

The latest books are not the best, and so many are worthless that it is a sign of a cheap intellect to find satisfaction in them, when so many old and good books lie unread on the shelves.

Don't be humble before fine raiment and scornful before raiment that is plain. This is the first and last proof of the snob.

Don't overestimate the strength of a friend, nor underestimate the power of an enemy.

Don't repeat a compliment paid you to any one on earth but your mother.

Don't think that excessive politeness when a guest in the home of a friend gives you the privilege of criticizing your entertainment after it is over.

Don't talk sickness. The most deadly bores in the world are those who linger on the memory of aches, pains and operations, and the longer they linger the less likely are they to get well.

Don't flirt. It makes your own sex mistrust you, and leads men to regard you as one who could easily be led around by the nose.

Don't squander your money. Take pride in the thought that so far as you can prevent you will never be a burden to others.

PRESCRIPTION "A"

CURES INDIGESTION & DYSPEPSIA IN ALL ITS FORMS.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing.

I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.

Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Prescription "A".

A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at
