DRILLING DAILY. Cairo, Egypt, March 21.—The British and Egyptian troops are drilling daily. The Englishmen are enthusiastic at the prospects of fighting. The natives are not so jubilant. The war correspondents of the London press are the most active of all in preparation for a cam-paign. Many serious-minded observers predict that the attempt to carry England's long-continued policy in the Sou-dan into effect will provoke a European war, as it will afford Russia and France the opportunity which they have been

MR. MORLEY'S VIEW.

London, March 21.—The Conservative force of about 2,000. The best arms force of about 2,000. The best arms force of about 2,000. The best arms they have are the Remington rifles, and they are quite out of date now. The talk about the Dervishes being able to put 100,000 fighters in the field is absurd. Not half that number of about 2,000 fighters in the field is abourd. Not half that number of about 2,000 fighters in the field is abourd. Not half that number of about 2,000 fighters in the field is abourd. Not half that number of about 2,000 fighters in the field is abourd. Not half that number of about 2,000 fighters in the field is about the Dervishes being the field is about 2,000 fighters in the field 2,0 while out riding, and sprained his right arm and wrist. The House was occupied for an hour With various questions put by Mr. John Morley, Sir Wm. Harcourt and Mr. John Dillon, regarding the expenses of John Dillon, regarding the expenses of the Nile expedition and the understanding with Italy in regard to the steps being taken. Mr. Morley, during his tremarks on the subject, pointed out the unfortunate nature of the expedition decided upon by the Government, saying that it was not only a derogation Ang that it was not only a derogation of the pledge of Great Britain that she Would not assume a protectorate over Egypt; but, he added, it was likely to withdraw from that country some of the benefits and blessings of the Brit-ish administration of its affairs. LABOUCHERE'S PROPHECY.

Henry Labouchere said the Govern-ment should wait before taking action until Egypt is attacked by the Dervishes. The reluctance on the part of the Ministers to disclose their plans, he declared, concealed a large scheme.

Mr. Labouchere predicted that the expedition, unless checked by disaster, would go to Dongola, Khartoum and

STANLEY TALKS. H. M. Stanley, the explorer, who represents the North Division of Lambeth in the interests of the "Unionists," asserted that Egypt had a right to reclaim her former frontiers, and that the opportunity to do so had come. The total defeat of the Mahdists, Mr. Stanley declared, must precede the independence of Egypt. THE GOVERNMENT'S PLAN. Mr. Curzon, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, said that the exredition would take a strongly defensive position at Akasheh, where it would remain until the hot season, if it was thought desirable, it would proceed to Dongola. The Government, he added, possessed proofs that there was a general ferment among the Dervishes, and that they were threatening Kassala and the Nile

The position of Egypt could not be satisfactory until that country retained control of a large part of the Soudan. Everything gained for Egypt would be gained ever. It would not be an advance followed by a retreat. He was convinced that in the interests of Egypt, and Egypt alone, that the Government was well advised in initiating this policy.

During the debate on the estimates Mr. John Morley, amid cheers from the Liberal benches, moved to re-duce the vote for the Foreign Office THE CASE OF THOS. Mr. Urban Soulard, of continuation of that occupation had St. Louis, Que., pronounces this remedy been fraught with many disadvan-tages to Great Britain. It was an unfortunate step the Government was taking to delay the evacuation of Egypt, and divert Egyptian funds from the purposes of Egyptian de-Velopment, and the application of the money to England's own purpose. (Protesting cries of "Oh, oh!" from the Conservative benches.) The new policy, he declared, would impose upon Egypt the duty of governing one of the most difficult territories on the face of the earth. The Government, Mr. Morley said, had not explained their policy, and the Ministers declined to treat the House with that confidence that the country had reason to expect on the eve of so great an undertaking. So hazardous a proposal, he held, could never be justified by a reason so meager, flimsy, irrelevant and hollow as the one advanced. Mr. Morley's remaks were received with prolonged Liberals'

THE SEAMAN'S FRIEND.

London, March 21.—Samuel Plimsoil, ex-M. P., who was reported yesterday as seriously ill, is known the world over as the seaman's friend. His name is identified with the little circle in white paint, divided in the canter by a line of white, which appears on the hulls of all British ships, making the line to which the vessel may be safely loaded. The affixing of this mark was made compulsory by an act of the Italian Chamber of Deputies of the Parliament, in the passage of which Mr. Plimsoll was the prime mover, the object of the law being to protect seamen from the dangers of shipping on vessels which, through the cupidity of owners, had been overloaded. To load a ship until this mark is submerged is a punishable offense, and Mr. soll's efforts to secure the passage of the bill earned him the appelation of "The British sailor's friend." Mr. Plimsoll was born in 1824, and is the author of "Our Seamen" and "Coffin Ships."
