THE LAST SENTENCE,

THIRTEENTH YEAR. TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 6 1893. ONE CENT.

NAMING THE IRISH JUDICIARY

WILL REMAIN IN THE HANDS OF THE SOVEREIGN.

But the Dublin Parliament Will Be At Liberty To Make Recommendations—Parnellites Protest Against the Suggestion—Ireland Cannot Interfere In Extradition Proceedings.

LONDON, June 5.—In the House of Commons to-day, Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that Attorney-General Sir Charles Russell received £2000 for six weeks' services as counsel before the Behring Sea tribunal of arbitration.

J. Powell Williams, Liberal-Unionist member for South Birmingham, gave notice of a motion to reduce the amount.

Errors in Excise Accounts.

The Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain brought up the question of discovery of grave errors in the excise accounts, which almost obliterate the £500,000 sterling with which Ireland, according to Mr. Gladstone, was to begin her Home Rule career. Mr. Chamberlain asked whether the Government had completed the inquiries being made upon the subject.

Prime Minister Gladstone replied that the estimates upon which the financial clauses of the Home Rule bill were based were being revised and would shortly be presented to Parliament.

Ireland Cannot Interfere With Extraditions.

Immediately after the House went into committee to consider clause three of the Home Rule bill Mr. Gladstone accepted the amendment proposed by Sir Henry James, Liberal-Unionist, that the Dublin Legislature be forbidden to interfere in proceedings for the extradition of criminals.

Appointment of Judges.

Gerald Balfour (Con.,) for Central Leeds, moved that the Irish Government be forbidden to appoint judges and magistrates.

Mr. Chamberlain, leader of the Liberal-Unionists, said that the acceptance of this amendment would tend to satisfy those opposing the bill but favoring local self-government. [Ironical cheers.]

Mr. Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, opposed the amendment.

Mr. Gladstone said the Government intended that the appointment of judges in Ireland should remain in the hands of the Sovereign, but the Irish Government could not be prevented from making recommendations.

The Parnellites Protest.

John J. Clancy, Parnellite for North Dublin County, protested that his party would not bind themselves to accept Gladstone's suggestion. This was a question for Ireland to decide.

The amendment was rejected by a vote of 291 to 255.

GLASGOW MARKET GLUTTED.

Lungs of One Canadian Animal Arouse the Inspectors' Suspicions.

LONDON, June 5.—Shippers of Canadian cattle appear to be poor hands at their business. The Glasgow market has been glutted for weeks past, and in consequence prices have fallen £3 to £5 a head, but cattle continue to be poured in in such numbers that, although additional slaughtering accommodation has been improvised, the wharves are blocked and ruinous delays continue to occur.

It is now said, with some show of authority, that the restrictions on the importation of Canadian cattle will not be removed for six or eight weeks to come, although so far the extremely industrious Board of Agriculture inspectors have been able to find only one suspicious case among the slaughtered animals.

The lungs of the suspected animal have been brought to London and are being subjected to all manner of tests, but it is confidently believed that no trace of pleuro-pneumonia will be found.

THE ANGLO-RUSSIAN AGREEMENT

Regarded as a Strong Argument Against U.S. Behring Sea Claims.

PARIS, June 5.—The British members of the Behring Sea arbitration tribunal regard the conclusion of the Anglo-Russian agreement as to sealing during 1893 as a strong argument against the American claim of exclusive rights in the sea to the exclusion of the British.

Great Britain's representatives are determined to abide by their interpretation of the arbitration treaty.

E. J. Phelps, counsel for the United States, will not sum up the American case until the argument on the question of regulation shall have been concluded.

A STATE CONCERT.

The Princess of Wales and Her Daughters Reappear in Public.

LONDON, June 5.—A state concert was given to-day at Buckingham Palace. It was an occasion of unusual splendor, more than 1200 of the nobility and gentry and of persons of distinction, British and foreign, being present.

The Princess of Wales and her daughters, the Princesses Victoria and Maude, were present, being their first share in a court function since the death of the Duke of Clarence.

INDUCING ICELANDIC IMMIGRATION

A Steamship Agent Sent to Arrange For Another Shipload.

LONDON, June 5.—The Manitoban Government is so satisfied with the quality of the Icelandic emigrants who settled in the Northwest last season that the Beaver line people have been commissioned to obtain another shipload and have sent an agent to Iceland to make the necessary arrangements.

The Icelanders will be brought to Liverpool in the middle of July and thence forwarded to Montreal.

A BRUTAL COUNT.

Twice Rides Over a Horse Trainer, Almost Killing Him.

VIENNA, June 5.—Count Zdenko Kenski, the owner of a number of race horses, became involved yesterday in a dispute with his trainer. The Count, infuriated with the trainer, drove his horse at him, the horse knocking the man down and trampling upon him. The Count then wheeled about and again rode over him. The trainer was very seriously injured. As yet the Count has not been arrested. The quarrel is supposed to have arisen in connection with the running of one of the Count's horses.

OPPOSE AN EXCHANGE.

Spanish Newspapers Object to Giving the Canaries for Gibraltar.

MADRID, June. 5.—A suggestion having been made that Spain should cede the Canary Islands to Great Britain in exchange for Gibraltar the Spanish newspapers concur in disapproving the proposition.

The Madrid Epoca expresses the belief that Great Britain will ultimately cede Gibraltar to Spain if indemnified for the cost of the fortifications which Great Britain has constructed there.

THEY'VE LOST THEIR SITUATIONS.

Many C. P. R. Ticket Agents Throughout the City Dispensed With—Concentrating the Company's Business.

Some months ago District Passenger Agent Callaway of the C.P.R., with a view to accommodate the public, established 15 branch offices for the sale of tickets in different sections of the city. Yesterday a circular was sent to the various agents notifying them that after July 1 the offices which are located at the Rossin House, in the Board of Trade building, and in drug stores would be closed.

The Grand Trunk will also close their outside offices at North Toronto and Parkdale, in pursuance with an agreement with the C.P.R.

The erstwhile agents are naturally disappointed, as their percentages on the sale of tickets netted them a considerable amount, at least one agent realizing about $90 per month.

But it was not alone on the ground of expense that the offices were closed. Many of the agents could not master the book of rates, and as a consequence complaints were numerous.

It is not likely that the experiment will be repeated when the new Union Station is erected, but the plan in vogue in all the leading American cities of confining the sale to the head ticket offices of the companies.

FORESTERS' BANQUET.

Honoring Important Officers And Recounting Their Merits.

At the Rossin House last night a complimentary banquet was tendered to Dr. Oronhyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Foresters, and to Judge Fitzgerald, Past Chief Ranger of Ontario, in honor of his elevation to the bench. Members of the order from all parts of Canada and the United States were present, amongst whom were Mr. Justice Wedderburn, Moncton, N.B., supreme councillor; Chief Ranger E. Bottrell, Ottawa; Hon. D. D. Aikens, vice-chief ranger, Flint, Mich.; J. A. Macgillivray, Q.C., supreme secretary, and T. G. Davey, London, supreme treasurer.

The repast was a sumptuous one, and after it was partaken of the following toasts were given: "The Queen," "Our Country," responded to by Judge Dartnell, John E. Bryant, M.A., and Dr. McConnell; "Sister Societies," replied to by Robert Birmingham, Orange Order; Capt. Robertson, Sons of Scotland; Daniel Rose, sr., Sons of Temperance; "Our Guests" was responded to by the judge and the doctor; "Our Order" by Hon. Mr. Aikens and I. F. Barclay; "The Ladies" by A. H. Backus Aylmer and William Ormiton Whitby; "The Press" by A. F. Campbell, M.A., Attwell Fleming, London, and Daniel Rose, jr.

SAYS IT'S NOT THE WORD OF GOD.

Rev. Lyman Abbott, D.D., of Brooklyn, Criticizes the Bible.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, in his sermon on the Briggs case yesterday at Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, endeavored to prove that Dr. Briggs, and not the General Assembly, during the last two years, had defended the true Christian faith; that it was not Dr. Briggs who was heretical, but that the stand taken by the General Assembly was one whose logical result was infidelity.

"The Bible," he said, "is not the word of God," and repeating almost the words and certainly the sentiment of Dr. Horton, who lectured last year before the students of the Union Theological Seminary, he went on: "I charge any man who calls the Bible the word of God to find that phrase, 'the word of God,' ever employed in the Bible to designate the Bible or even employed in one part of the Bible to designate any other part. When a man takes the book, that is what men have written, puts it up and says: 'You must hear the word of God, you must hear only the echo of that word,' I don't wonder that misplaced indignation goes out against the book, which the would-be defenders are misusing."

A NEW SCHEME

To Improve the Navigation of the St. Lawrence River Near Cornwall.

OTTAWA, June 5.—The Government has decided on a scheme intended to substitute free navigation of the St. Lawreuce for one of the most troublesome sections of the Cornwall Canal.

The scheme is to raise the water of the St. Lawrence by the construction of two dams across the northern channel, near Dickenson's Landing, giving 2½ to 3 miles of river navigation.

The construction of these dams will raise the water to such a height as to drown a considerable stretch of country along the bank, but as most of the lands affected are Government property, the claims for damages will be inconsiderable.

THE ERIE-ST. CLAIR CANAL.

The First Move Made in Regard to Purchasing Right of Way.

DETROIT, June 5.—The first move in regard to the purchase of the right of way for the proposed canal from Lake St. Clair to Lake Erie was made when C. C. Wyatt, the chief promoter of the scheme, secured an option for the property that is to form the Lake St. Clair outlet and inlet.

The property has a lake frontage of over one-eighth of a mile, just west of Stoney Point, Ont.

Mr. Wyatt says that the money required for the canal from Lake St. Clair to Lake Erie has already been subscribed by capitalists from Minneapolis to New York, and that the necessary legislation has been promised them by the Dominion Government. The canal will, it is estimated, cost $3,000,000.

TWO RAILWAY WRECKS.

Seven Persons Hurt—Many Head of Stock Killed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 5.—The southbound Cannonball train on the Iron Mountain Railroad, which left this city at 9 o'clock Saturday night, was wrecked at Leeper station. Seven passengers were injured. All traffic was delayed for 12 or 14 hours.

At 6 o'clock last evening a freight train collided with a fast stock train near Pine Bluff. The engines and cars were piled in a promiscuous heap and upwards of a hundred head of valuable live stock killed. The loss will reach $75,000.

THE CANADA-AUSTRALIAN BOATS

No Imperial Subsidy For the New Line At Present.

LONDON, June 5.—In the House of Commons to-day, in reply to a question as to whether the Admiralty would give a subvention to the steamers engaged in the Australia-Canada trade, Sir U. J. K. Shuttleworth said that the Admiralty at present were unable to add to the list of armed cruisers, but he had no doubt their claims would be considered in the near future.

Canada's Schoolboy Soldiers.

Nature never smiled more graciously than upon Arbor Day, with the spring-tide at its full. It was a fitting day for the decoration of the monument erected to the memory of Canada's heroic dead. Toronto is justly proud of its schoolboy soldiers, and as they put their best foot forward Friday they were admired unstintedly. After the procession passed down King-street the onlookers naturally turned to quinn's window to take a look at those famous one-fifty shirts with colored bosoms and cuffs.

DOWN WILL GO THE RATES.

CHEAP TRANSPORTATION TO CHICAGO IN A DAY OR TWO.

Round Trip Rates to the World's Fair Likely to be Reduced Within a Day or Two by Both the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways—A Single Fare Likely to Be the First Cut.

Rates to Chicago have got to drop. The small business being done has convinced the passenger agents, who have been endeavoring to stiffen rates and prevent any further reductions, that cheaper transportation must be offered otherwise people will remain at home.

During the next day or two, therefore, the prospects are that World's Fair rates will tumble and the public will be smiling broadly. At present tickets cannot be purchased for less than $19 from Toronto, while the one-way fare is $12.40.

It is probable that the first cut will be single fare for the round trip, and though this reduction may not be as great as is desirable, the announcement of a reduction of any dimensions will be welcomed as the precursor of some dizzy little figures in the immediate background, if the Canadian railroads wish to get even the narrow end of the World's Fair trade.

The new rate, when it is announced, will be supposed to remain in effect for three months, but will be considerably reduced before long unless the two roads decide to give cheap excursions issuing tickets for a limited number of days. There are two reasons why the roads shun a very great reduction which would apply to the entire World's Fair season. In the first place, the cut rates might be used as basing rates to intermediate points, and the loss on local traffic would be great. In the second place there would be considerable difficulty experienced in bolstering the rates back to their original basis after the World's Fair was over.

A FATAL FRIGHT.

Crazed With Terror on Learning Her Sisters' Murderer Was Alive.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 5.—Word comes from Buckingham that a bride of a week, Mrs. W. Jackson, died Saturday, crazed with terror at the report that a man named William Forde, who murdered her two sisters, Mrs. Forde and Miss Busby, three years ago, is still living.

He was supposed to have killed himself at the time, but a week ago a neighbor told Mrs. Jackson the day after her marriage that Forde had been seen in Montana this spring.

Mrs. Jackson brooded over this till brain fever set in within a couple of days.

FRIGHTENED TO DEATH.

Lightning so Terrifies a Man That He Jumps From a Window.

MEMPHIS, June 5.—During a violent thunderstorm yesterday John P. Carey, a suburban grocery keeper, was frightened to death. He had been ill and was lying on the bed with his head close to a window.

A bright flash of lightning, followed by a deafening peal of thunder, frightened him so that he jumped up and rushed into the next room.

He jumped through a window to the ground. He had a fall of only six feet and ran 40 feet after striking the ground, but fell and was carried into the house unconscious. He died almost immediately.

The Dead.

Miss Fanny Small Richardson, youngest daughter of the late Mr. E. T. Richardson, died at the residence of Mr. A. B. Lee, 414 Jarvis-street, on Saturday. She was a member of St. Peter's congregation and was widely known for her kindness to the sick and suffering. The funeral, which was private, took place yesterday afternoon.

Horning's Mills has suffered a great loss in the death of Mr. Robert McGhee, who died on Sunday. Deceased was reeve of the Township of Melancthon at the time of his death and had filled the warden's chair, besides the honorable position of M.L.A. for the County of Dufferin and a number of other important offices. He leaves a wife and large family to mourn his loss. The remains will be interred in the Horning's Mills burying ground. The members of the A.O.U.W. will attend in a body.

The Late Mrs. Cattanach.

This lady, relict of the late Donald Cattanach of Laggan, Glengarry Co., died at her late residence, 230 Richmond-street west, on Sunday.

Mrs. Cattanach was a native of the island of Skye, Scotland, and a direct descendant of Flora Macdonald, whose love affair with Prince Charlie the Pretender made her famous. She was the daughter of the late John Mackenzie, the well-known Glengarry pioneer, who came out from Skye in the early part of this century, and settled at Kenyon in that county. Mr. and Mrs. Cattanach and family resided at Laggan, Glengarry, until 11 years ago, when they removed to Winnipeg, Man., where on May 29, 1883, Mr. Cattanach died. For the past seven years deceased made her home in Toronto. Three daughters survive—Mrs. A. W. Ross of Winnipeg, Mrs. E. A. Perry of Winnipeg, and Mrs. M. A. Maclean of Vancouver, B.C. The late Mrs. J. Hayes Panton of Guelph was also a daughter. Mrs. Cattanach was a member of Knox Church. The remains will be interred in the family plot at Dalhousie Mills, Glengarry, to-morrow.

Three Years' Prosperity.

The third anniversary of the opening of Bloor-street Presbyterian Church was celebrated last night. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. J. F. Ockley and the Rev. A. Gilray. Mr. A. H. Greene presided at the organ. The choir, conducted by Mr. Charles J. Baguley, sang the sacred anthems "God is a Spirit" and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." Miss Edith Miller, Miss Agnes Forbes and Mr. Baguley rendered several solos artistically. Refreshments were served in the lecture room after the concert. The collection will be devoted to the aid of the furnishing fund.

A Premature Ascension.

BERLIN, June 5.—An aeronaut named Behrens undertook to make a balloon ascension yesterday, assisted by Rositta Calvarina. The balloon was prematurely liberated and Behrens was carried off clinging to the ropes. The balloon descended between Oldesloe and Segeberg, in Holstein, about 26 miles from Hamburg.

THE QUEEN'S EXHIBIT.

Together With That of Marguerite of Italy Arrives at the Chicago Exposition—Rich Laces and Tapestries.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The individual exhibit of Queen Victoria arrived at the World's Fair grounds this morning. Along with it came the individual exhibits of Marguerite, Queen of Italy.

Queen Victoria's exhibit consists of a great variety of tapestries, some of which have hung in the Royal Palace for centuries. These are of great value and have their safety guaranteed by a bond of $100,000.

The exhibit of Queen Marguerite consists largely of laces. Some of them are centuries old, while others are of modern make, but from ancient patterns.

The process by which they were made and by which their texture is rendered practically indestructible was for many years a lost art. It was but recently discovered, and is known only to the lace makers employed in the Royal household. Consequently the exhibit is almost priceless in value. The laces were loaned to the exposition by Queen Marguerite, and a bond of $100,000 was given guaranteeing their safe return at the close of the fair.

THE CANOE OVERTURNED.

James Drake Drowned At Strickland's Point, Near Lakefield.

PETERBORO, June 5.—Last night at Strickland's Point, near Lakefield, James Drake and a man named Freeborn were out in a canoe, when Drake was seized with a fit, and in falling overturned the canoe.

The doctors say he was dead before he went into the water, so sudden and fatal was the shock that seized him. Freeborn was in the water for hours before his cries were heard and assistance came to him and rescued him from the stump to which he was clinging.

Search was commenced for the body of the unfortunate man and it was found this morning. Drake was in the employ of Mr. Guy, whose business is to supply Toronto restaurants with frogs' legs.

Drowned At Chatham.

CHATHAM, Ont., June 5.—Eli Currier was drowned this morning while crossing the river near the wagon works. He was on his way to work, and in attempting to change his seat upset the boat.

Deceased was about 22 years old. The body was recovered about 10 o'clock.

DELIBERATELY SHOT HIMSELF.

The Boy Who Disappeared From Havelock Committed Suicide.

HAVELOCK, June 5.—The mystery attending the disappearance of the boy Giles has been cleared up. Last night, after searching for four days, his body was found in a swamp with three revolver wounds in his breast.

There is every indication that he deliberately planned his own death. His coat and vest, neatly folded, were laid upon an adjacent stump together with his monthorgan. Close by his body lay a 36-calibre Colt's revolver with three empty chambers. The body was slightly decomposed and was buried soon after being found, an inquest being deemed unnecessary.

Toronto Voters' Lists.

How to deal with 18,000 appeals was the problem set before County Judge Macdougall when he took his seat at the Court House yesterday morning.

The judge was told it had been arranged between the political agents that each party should investigate the names sent in by the opposite party and allow them when correct without further evidence, leaving the judge to deal only with the personal appeals and those on which the agents could not agree. In no other way was it possible to expeditiously dispose of the 18,000 names which had been appealed.

Parties attending the Court of Revision in person are taken first, and no one is kept waiting more than a few minutes.

The court adjourned at 11 o'clock, having disposed of Ward 1, in which the names sent in were as follows:

Independent appeals	73
Conservative appeals	889
Reform appeals	593
Total	1555

Mr. Thomas Mitchell and Mr. Summerhayes represented the Conservative Association and Mr. W. H. Cahill and Mr. Elgin Schoff the Reformers. Among the interested spectators of the first day's proceedings were Dr. Ryerson, M.L.A.; Mr. Joseph Tait, M.L.A., and Mr. Alexander Wheeler, president of the Reform Association. If the same accommodating spirit is shown in the other wards as was evinced yesterday it should be possible to close the revision next week. Without an understanding between the parties the work will take at least 30 days.

No. 2 Ward will be taken up to-morrow morning at 10.

The Philharmonic To-Night.

The Philharmonic concert to-night, judging from the rehearsal last night, will be a pronounced success. "The Golden Legend" is one of the most famous cantatas of the kind. Its popularity is assured in England, and no doubt will also be assured in Canada after to-night.

A few good seats may still be had in the reserved sections at Nordheimers'. These sections are famous, and no more tickets will be issued for them than they will comfortably accommodate.

The public will enter to-night from Dalhousie-street, the chorus and orchestra from Mutual-street.

Carriages should approach from the north and pass along to the south, and may be ordered for 10 o'clock.

LIZZIE BORDEN'S TRIAL.

Crowds of People Rush to Hear the Opening of the Case—History of the Murder.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 5.—The long anticipated Borden murder trial has begun. At an early hour this morning every available shady spot in County-street near the Court House was crowded. The talesmen filed into their places at 11 o'clock.

It is expected that the trial will be a long one, and it is bound to attract the attention of the country.

History of the Crime.

Mr. Borden and his wife were killed with an ax or a hatchet. There were at least a dozen cuts on the head and face of each.

Mr. Borden and his wife were murdered on the morning of Aug. 4, 1892, in their house, No. 92 Second-street, Fall River. The crime was committed, it is supposed, between 10.30 and 11.15 o'clock. There were that morning in the house, which is in the heart of the city, five persons—Mr. Borden and his wife, Lizzie Borden, the servant, Bridget Sullivan, and John V. Morse, Lizzie's uncle.

Morse, who was a guest of the Bordens, left the house early and did not return until after the murders were discovered. Emma Borden, Lizzie's sister, was away on a visit to New Bedford. Thus it is known that at the time the murder was committed there were four persons in the house, Lizzie Borden and Bridget Sullivan are the only survivors, the other two having been Mr. Borden and his wife.

Borden Returned Home.

The movements of Mr. Borden that day have been learned from the testimony of Bridget Sullivan and others. The murdered man, who was President of the Union Savings Bank, left the house to go down town at 10 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 4. He went to the postoffice and his bank, and stayed but a very few minutes talking to the cashier. From the bank he started back home. Bridget Sullivan was washing windows when he reached the house.

She said that a few minutes before Mr. Borden's arrival she looked at the clock to see if it was time to begin to prepare dinner. Very positively Bridget declared it was 20 minutes after 10 when she looked at the clock. Mr. Borden was at the front door a few minutes after that.

The front door was kept locked because the Borden house had been ransacked in broad daylight within a year. Bridget, when she heard Mr. Borden at the front door, went down and let him in. She calculated that was about ten minutes after she looked at the clock.

Mr. Borden, according to Bridget's story, was in the house at half past ten. He went to the dining room, sat down and took a key and went up stairs by the back way. He returned in a few minutes, placed the key on a shelf and sat down in the sitting room. Bridget says she remained down stairs until five minutes to eleven o'clock, when she went up stairs to lie down.

Bridget saw Lizzie Borden pass through the sitting-room into the dining-room carrying an ironing board a few minutes after Mr. Borden went into the sitting-room. Bridget declares that all this time she did not know where Mrs. Borden was. Lizzie had told her Mrs. Borden had gone out or was preparing to go out.

Lizzie Called Her.

The servant said she had been lying down only 10 or 15 minutes when Lizzie called her. Lizzie's voice told her that something had happened. She sprang from the bed and hurried downstairs. She says she found Lizzie leaning with her back against the back door. Lizzie, according to Bridget, said her father was dead. There is considerable dispute as to whether Bridget meant that Lizzie had said her father was hurt and not dead.

Lizzie hurried Bridget after Dr. Bowen, who lives diagonally across the street Dr. Bowen was away from home, and when the frightened servant came back Lizzie sent her after Mrs. Russell, who lives in Borden-street. When Bridget came back with Mrs. Russell Dr. Bowen and Mrs. Churchill were in the house.

Mrs. Churchill and Bridget went upstairs to look for Mrs. Bowen, who they believed had come in while they were downstairs. On the floor of the bedroom, between the bed and the bureau, they found Mrs. Borden's body. They rushed downstairs, and Mrs. Churchill told Dr. Bowen that Mrs. Borden had been murdered.

According to Bridget's testimony, when she went upstairs to lie down Mr. Borden was in the sitting room alive and well. From 15 to 20 minutes later, that is at from five minutes before eleven to fifteen minutes after eleven, he was lying dead with about a dozen cuts made by an ax or hatchet on his head and face.

When Lizzie Borden was called upon to testify she said her father complained of being ill and lay on the sofa. She adjusted the pillows for him. She was preparing to do some ironing, and as her flatirons were not hot enough she went into the barn to pass the time she would have to wait before she could use them.

That was the first time in three months she had been in the barn. Up stairs in the barn she ate four pears and returned to the house. When she got there she found her father murdered and summoned Bridget.

Their Heads and Faces Chopped.

The heads and faces of Mr. and Mrs. Borden were so chopped and hacked that they were beaten almost out of human resemblance. If Lizzie is guilty she must have killed her father within 20 minutes and then appeared before her neighbors without a spot of blood on her clothing and without any sign that she had hastily adjusted her dress. In that time also she must have concealed so effectively that it has never been found the blood-covered weapon with which the deed was committed, and she also disposed of every scrap of direct evidence that would connect her with the crime.

Lizzie Borden wore a blue dress when the neighbors entered the house and found her father and her stepmother murdered. She wore a blue dress about the house in the morning. In two rooms blood from the murdered ones had spattered and spurted over everything for many feet around the dead bodies.

In the minds of the authorities there never was doubt that the murderer of Mr. and Mrs. Borden was smeared and splashed with blood. With the exception of a single drop of blood the size of a pin's head on her white underskirt not a speck of blood was found on the clothing Lizzie wore before or after the murder.

Take It Pure.

Some may doubt the possibility of having a good, clear, pure, cool and refreshing drink of city water in its natural state. Let those doubting ones take no risks—there is a way to purity. Experts have been looking about and have given testimony of certain artificial means of purifying, and testimony is at hand that the "Climax Natural Stone Germ-proof Filter" is really a reliable article. Six dollars for one at R. Walker & Sons', King-street east, will be a satisfactory investment. "Before and after taking" is clearly exemplified in two large glass jars seen as one enters the eastern door.

CHARGE OF INTIMIDATION.

ALD. LESLIE GETS BACK AT THE CONSTRUCTION CO.

The Otto Guelich Contract—The Question of Sureties—Animated Debate—Street Railway Service — The Salaries of Numerous City Hall Clerks Are Raised—Other Business.

The City Hall clerks are jubilant this morning, as all the recommendations for raises in salary were passed by the council last night.

Nearly all the increases in the salarics date back from the first of the year.

Otto Guelich's Contract.

During the evening Ald. Carlyle introduced a motion necessitating the signing of the contract for the paving by Otto Guelich by Wednesday next, failing which new tenders should be advertised for.

Ald. Leslie objected to such a motion as this being brought before the council, as he knew that the reason for the delay was caused for one thing by the fact that the construction company had intimidated the sureties who were going to back Mr. Guelich. He was making statements which he could prove and knew perfectly what he was saying when he cast this reflection on the Construction and Paving Company.

Ald. Hallam thought it any of the City Hall officials had given away the names of the sureties to outside parties that a motion for the dismissal of the offender was in order.

Ald. Hewitt knew the names of the sureties, which had been proposed in secrecy to the Treasurer Saturday.

The Mayor vouched for the fact that the letter containing the names in question had never left the Treasurer's hands.

Ald. Crawford urged that the Engineer use all caution in awarding this contract and accepting the security for the performance of the same. If Guelich's bondsmen went back on him on the representations of a rival firm, Guelich must indeed be "a man of straw," and additional security proffered by this man of straw could not be too carefully dealt with.

Ald. Carlyle's motion was finally patched up by the Mayor in such a manner that Guelich's name was left out entirely and the matter was left to be dealt with by the Board of Works at its discretion.

They Want Street Railway Service.

Ald. Crawford introduced a petition signed by almost 1000 ratepayers of Ward No. 5, asking for a street railway line along Arthur-street.

This petition will be nullified by the fact that the Mayor moved against the rebuilding of Arthur-street bridge at the last meeting of the Executive.

Ald. Jolliffe also had a heavily-signed petition for the amendment of the bylaw affecting the parks, so as to allow temperance speaking. A notice of motion to this effect was also read.

The Road Will Be Watered.

Ald. J. E. Verral introduced a resolution providing for the watering of the Lake Shore-road, from the intersection of King and Queen-streets to High Park, which was carried.

Ald. Crawford received permission to introduce an amendment to the bylaw affecting the bathing of persons along the beach so that the boys might be enabled to bathe during the day along certain portions of the shore.

Workingmen and the Half-Holiday.

Ald. Stewart, backed up by Ald. Crawford, championed the cause of the laboring man nobly last night and introduced the following resolution:

That in future all regular corporation laborers, who do not at present enjoy the weekly half-holiday, be allowed a half a day every alternate Saturday without any reduction in wages, one-half of the men to take each Saturday alternately, but this shall not apply to hired horses and carts, or laborers and mechanics employed on the new court house, as the different unions fix the wages and hours of work thereon, and no laborer will be entitled to the said half holiday who has not been in the employ of the city for at least two weeks continuously.

The question was referred back on the following vote:

Yeas—Burns, Carlyle, Davies, Hallam, Hill, Jolliffe, Lamb, Leslie, Lynd, Maloney, Murray, McMurrich, Saunders, George Verral—14.

Nays—Bailey, Bell, Crawford, Hewitt, Orr, Small, Stewart, John E. Verral, The Mayor—9.

His Worship, however, should not be credited with voting for the motion, as he expressed himself as being in favor of referring the motion back, and carefully summed up the vote before taking his stand, which could not possibly alter the condition of affairs.

The awarding of the contract for cylinder oil was referred back to the Board of Works for an independent test of the different qualities offered.

FREIGHT HANDLERS MAY STRIKE.

They Want Their Pay Increased To 12 1-2 Cents an Hour—What Mr. Wragge Says.

At a meeting of the freight handlers employed at the Grand Trunk sheds held last evening a resolution was passed requesting an increase of wages. The men now receive $1.15 per day, and after an hour's discussion a resolution was passed deciding to request $1.25 per day, or 12½ cents per hour. One of those present stated that in event of an unfavorable reply from the company a strike similar to that recently inaugurated at Montreal would probably be the result, as many of the Shedden & Hendrie teamsters were present at the meeting and agreed to stand by the freight handlers in their demands.

Local Manager Wragge left for Montreal last evening. He stated that the G.T.R. employs no permanent staff of freight handlers, that the laborers are picked up when wanted and constantly vary in number. He says he does not see how a strike could be organized very well, and claims that he has heard no demand for increased wages.

PYKE REMANDED.

The Imperial Bank Accountant Arraigned in the Police Court.

George Pyke, the fugitive accountant of the Imperial Bank, who returned from El Paso, Texas, to answer the charges of embezzlement preferred against him, was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday. Four charges of embezzling sums aggregating $3700 were preferred against him, being the peculations which immediately preceded his flight.

Of Pyke's total defalcations of $12,000 nearly $4000 was abstracted within three weeks of his flight on Oct. 10 last and more than half of it within a day or two of his departure. The report that he had gone away empty-handed does not therefore appear to be borne out by the facts.

Pyke was not asked to plead to the charges preferred against him, but was remanded for a week.

Pyke had charge of the call loans, hence the opportunity afforded him to get possession of the funds.

Most of his money was lost in wheat speculations in Chicago. In one deal he is understood to have dropped $4400.

The Sunday World.

It should not be forgotten that The Sunday World seeks to be a newspaper and not a mere purveyor of individual opinions. It contains a variety of special articles on topics appropriate to the times, besides departments that comprise about everything of interest to any number of people. It is, moreover, not all secular, for each number contains matter of moment to the churchgoer. The object is to make the paper interesting to all classes, but ponderous to none; entertaining, but not sensational; bright, but not trivial. If you know of anything not exactly weighty enough for the average daily paper, that is yet worthy of being given to the public, no better vehicle was ever offered than The Sunday World. Correspondence and information on any subject will always be welcomed if properly authenticated with the name and address of the sender, the latter not being for publication unless desired. The sub
