

Our Faith, 'tis our birthright bequeathed by our sires,
 Purchased and sealed by their lives and their blood;
 If 'tis worth half the price they so nobly have paid,
 O, let us preserve it through fire and through flood,
 And seek for protection and wisdom on high—
 Up, up and be ready, the day draweth nigh!

Shall the memory of William be ever forgot?
 Shall the deeds of the Boyne be recorded in vain?
 Are Enniskillen and Aughrim once more to be fought?
 Or Derry, brave Derry, defended again?
 Let each Protestant freeman and Brother reply:—
 Up! up and be ready, the day doaweth nigh!

Let us stand by our faith as our forefathers stood;
 Let us walk in the paths they so nobly have trod;
 Let us boldly stand forth in defence of the good,
 With our Bible our guide, and our trust in our God,
 Then the minions of Popery we'll dare and defy—
 Prepare and be ready, the day draweth nigh!

ADDRESS TO THE REV. D. F. HUTCHINSON, A. M.

(From the Nova Scotia Farmer and Bridgewater Times.)

At the Annual Session of the County Grand Lodge of Loyal Orangemen, held in Bridgewater, N. S., on the 1st day of February, 1869, the following resolution and address were ordered to be forwarded the County Master, the Rev. D. F. Hutchinson, in relation to his recent bereavement.

"That whereas it hath pleased Almighty God to afflict our respected brother the Rev. D. F. Hutchinson, the Worshipful Master of this Lodge, by removing from him by death, the wife of his bosom, we feel it our solemn duty and privilege to offer to him our deepest sympathy in his sad bereavement.

"Therefore resolved, that this County Grand Lodge appoint the following gentlemen as a Committee, viz.: Rev. A. C. McDonald, Andrew Taggard and Joseph C. Morgan, Esquires, to prepare an address of condolence, and present the same to our bereaved brother."

The following is the Address which was unanimously adopted by the Lodge and ordered to be most respectfully presented to the Reverend gentleman:—

BRIDGEWATER, Burnet I. O. L. Room,
 February 1, 1869.

To the Rev. D. F. Hutchinson, A. M.,
 P. C. A. C., and Worshipful Master
 of this Lodge:

WORSHIPFUL SIR AND BROTHER,—
 We, the Officers and Members of this County Lodge of the County of Lunenburg and Province of Nova Scotia, having just heard of the grief and sorrow in which you are at present overwhelmed, occasioned by the death, on the 27th ult., of the early companion of your youth, your beloved wife, desire to approach you at this, the season of your excessive sorrow, expressing our heartfelt sympathy for you in this, your sad bereavement; but we have that blessed assurance that you are not called upon to mourn and weep as those without hope, for the loved one
