

CHICAGO MARKET.

PROVISIONS STEADY — WHEAT OPENING STRONG DEVELOPED WEAKNESS — WHEAT NOW SAID TO BE CONTRABAND OF WAR.

Chicago, Jan. 8.

Cabled quotations from Liverpool showed no change. Opening for March wheat was $\frac{1}{2}$ lower, but later cables said both were unchanged. March 5-10 $\frac{1}{2}$, May 5-10.

At New York March wheat opened unchanged at 75 $\frac{1}{2}$, May $\frac{1}{2}$ up at 74 $\frac{1}{2}$, July $\frac{1}{2}$ lower at 74 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Unlike Liverpool and New York, Chicago market opened with both May and July wheat $\frac{1}{2}$ higher, but beyond the strong opening there was no evidence of strength but of the reverse. Both wheat and corn were heavy.

Provisions opened steady and seemed to have opportunities for some good selling.

A year ago the first shipment of wheat or any amount was not until the middle of February. The steady feature in the situation is the falling off in the aggregate world's exports to below the estimated requirements and the decrease in stocks abroad if not in America. Bradstreet says that while stocks of wheat have fallen off in Europe and shipments thereto in December were the lightest recorded for many years past, still stocks have increased in this country to nearly as great an extent. World's stocks on Jan. 1 as shown by telegraph and cable to Bradstreet's aggregate 171,587,000 bushels, a very small falling off from Dec. 1st 1899, but this decrease is notable because Decembers of recently preceding years have witnessed considerable increases. Exports for week are the smallest for the corresponding period since January 1894 when May wheat was selling at Chicago at 60 cents a bushel.
