

A Fine Line of Goods.

A Commercial representative had the pleasure a few days ago of being shown through the extensive range of samples of fall and Christmas goods, now being shown by Clark Bros. & Co., wholesale stationers, of this city. This popular firm have greatly extended their business since moving in the new warehouse on Bannatyne Avenue, something over a year ago, and have made every effort to secure and place before the retail trade of the west the latest and best in every line of goods which they handle. The new warehouse has such splendid facilities for handling and shipping goods that they have been able to more than double the volume of their business since moving into it. In fall and holiday lines they are this year offering a bigger range than ever. There is an endless variety of mechanical toys, blocks, dolls, books and playthings. In dolls alone they are showing over 180 different kinds. Besides these distinctly children's goods they have in stock a very complete range of fancy goods, albums, writing materials, glove and handkerchief boxes, cuff and collar boxes, hand mirrors, dressing cases, etc. These are all of the newest designs and sure to sell well when the season opens.

Besides these season lines Clark Bros. have a complete range of staples such as wrapping paper, bags, fine linen and flat papers for stationery and book uses, envelopes, pens, pencils, inks, office specialties, pipes, purses, etc. Their business in this is always large and is constantly increasing.

The Cosmopolitan for August 18, as usual, rich in fiction, remarkable both for its vivid interest and its great variety. Irving Bacheller writes a refreshing story of the Canadian big-timber region, and Herling's drawings catch the spirit of the scene perfectly. A. T. Quiller-Couch's ("Q.") pathetic little tale cannot fail to enlist our sympathies with the French exile who broke his parole for love. Richard Le Galliene tells the most charming and least known of the quaint "Old French Romances"—the love of honest Squeule Robin for the Fair Jehanne. "The Temple of Fate," the late Grant Allen's clever satire on modern society, is certain not only to entertain the reader, but also to set him thinking. Francis Willing Wharton writes a pretty story of fashionable Newport society, a subject with which she is thoroughly at home; while Phoebe Lyde and Egerton Castle handle strong subjects in a masterly manner.
