THE OHIO FLOODS.

Many have been reading and talking of the most terrible disaster that has ever visited the Ohio Valley. The waters lifted up their voice and proclaimed that the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. In this great disaster which came upon our neighbors is there no lesson for us as well as them. What mean his wondrous dealings, who can withhold or pour out the water at his pleasure? God has been working the elements of this earth on a grand scale since the beginning of the year 1884, and to his voice we ought to give due heed. To Sabbath desecrators especially he speaks impressively in the Ohio floods. A late writer seeks to improve this visitation as follows:—

"For more than 60 years this great river has been made the instrument of Sabbath desecration. When a child our church service would be disturbed by the booming cannon announcing the arrival of a steam-boat. After a while the steam whistle took the place of cannon and the hills and valley for a thousand miles are made to echo and reecho with the noise. No Sabbath, no God, no Bible, no Saviour, but gold, gold, gold. Give me gold or I perish! God's law from Sinai, his glorious promise by the mouth of his prophet Isaiah 58: 13, 14, are counted as the mere utterance of a novel writer both on river and land. Without a sacred Sabbath there can be no pure and undefiled religion, and the church can make no real progress without upholding this great gift of God to man which of itself is one of the strongest proofs that the Bible is from the Creator of all things and truly divine. Would that all the people might bring to the Lord the tithes of a well kept Sabbath, and prove if God would not take away the awful scourges that the elements are bringing upon so many."

Let Sabbath desecrators in these Maritime Provinces ponder over these words and hearken to God's voice lest he visit us with his sore displeasure. COM.

THE BIBLE.

The Bible embodies all that a Christian can need. It is his only chart through this tempestuous life; in trouble it is his consolation; in prosperity, his monitor; in difficulty, his guide; amid the darkness of death, and while descending into the shadowy valley it is the day-star that illumines his path, makes his eye bright with hope, and cheers his soul with the prospect of immortal glory.—Rev. Dr Waterbury.
