

EXPLANATORY NOTE.

Section three of the Public Printing and Stationery Act is obsolete and should be repealed. It reads as follows:—

“3. In all cases in which any duty is by this Act assigned to the clerk of either House of Parliament, the same shall, in respect of all matters within the jurisdiction and under the superintendence of the joint committee of the two Houses on printing or its officers be performed by the clerk of the committee, or other officer specially designated by the committee.”
