

Proceedings on Adjournment Motion

in the way spoken of tonight but also in those areas where we have pre-release centres in the cities. The inmates prior to release are placed in these centres; then they are sent out to look for work, or perhaps begin work if jobs have been obtained. This takes place before their sentences have expired or when they are out on parole. Sometimes they attend universities and schools. We have done this with what promises to be considerable success in some cases with very young offenders—

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Béchard): Order, please.

Motion agreed to and the House adjourned at 10.20 p.m.
