

CHAPTER X.

DAWN OF THE 18TH CENTURY.

The Colony visited by famine, sickness and war, p. 107.—Maladies in the Convent, 108.—Other epidemics, 110.—Consolations in the midst of trials, 112.

CHAPTER XI.

THE THREE CAPTIVES.

Allusion to early times, p. 115.—The family Wheelright, 116.—Esther among the Indians, 117.—The Black-robe, 118.—The Captive rescued, 120.—She enters the Convent, 121.—Takes the veil, 123.—Is admitted to profession, 124.—Two other Captives, 125.

CHAPTER XII.

THE MONASTERY ENLARGED.

The Nuns note the signs of the times, and resolve to build, p. 132.—Their ardor, 135.—Their Church completed, (1723) 137.

CHAPTER XIII.

QUEBEC IN 1720 : THE NOVITIATE OF THE URSULINES.

Charlevoix's picture of life and manners, p. 139.—Our Novitiate at the same date, 141.—The novices introduced : Miss Wheelwright, 142.—Miss de Muy, Miss de Boucherville and Miss de Ramesay, 143.—Miss des Meloises, 146.—The Misses Gaillard and other novices, 151.—More young ladies from Montreal, 152—and from the environs of Quebec, 154.—Thoughts on the Religious life, 155.—Recreations, 159.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE CHAPEL OF SAINTS.

Description of the Chapel, p. 162.—The relics, 163.—Other sacred objects, 166.—Ex-Votos, 169.—