

Aquaforte, which does great credit to the zeal, and liberality of the Missionary (the Rev. Mr. BAYLY) and the Church members generally, in that small settlement. His Lordship has also this week consecrated Grave-yards at Belle Isle Beach, in Conception Bay, and at Portugal Cove. And the Committee are given to understand that two new Churches on the Labrador, and some others on the North East Coast of this Island are awaiting consecration in his Lordship's approaching Visitation.

With regard to the question of education in the country missions there has been no alteration. Generally the Schools in the Island are practically exempted from that control and supervision of the Clergyman which are so very necessary to their well being. This, we trust, may in some degree be remedied whenever the income of the Church Society shall justify the Committee in taking the subject of general Education under their care. They are most anxious to do so, and earnestly trust that ere long they may be enabled to place the instruction of our children under the guidance and supervision of the clergy.

The Academy at St. John's still continues in a flourishing and efficient state under the management of the Rev. G. P. HARRIS; and it is earnestly commended not only to the town of St. John's, but to the country generally as a place of superior education, where boys may be placed, and receive such instruction as will fit them for any position in life. In a community like this, it must be of great moment, and will eventually exercise a great influence upon the colony, if only our youth have the opportunity of receiving that training both secular and religious, which is necessary for them on going into the world to encounter the difficulties and responsibility of life. The completeness of this Institution can only of course, be fully tested as years pass away, but it is not too much to say that its present state of efficiency
