NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Despatches Dun's Review from branch offices of R. G. Dun and Company in leading centres of the Dominion of Canada report steady improvement in nt, altho distribution of seasonable merchandise has been much starded by unusually warm weather. Retail activity at Montreal has been restricted by the weather and sorting up business at wholesale is slow. There is a fair demand, however, for groceries and provisions, and dry s salesmen are receiving good orders for spring. The footwear fac-tories are not quite as busy, and domestic demand is rather light. Wholesale business is in well maintained volume at Quebec, but the retail movement is hardly up to the average in Toronto Finds Improvement. Toronto reports that the weathe has not been favorable for either retail or jobbing trade, but there is an optimistic feeling and improvement is expected with the advert of seasonable temperatures. Nov. 7, will say: Trade in Canada is deemed to be satisfactory in view of present extra-ordinary circumstances. Orders for war supplies make for a certain degree of activity, but more seasonable er is needed to stimulate retail trade. Reports as to collections vary considerably, improvement being in evidence at Winnipeg, but payments at Calgary are very slow, and in other parts of the Dominion settlements are not better than fair. Weather onditions enable farmers to prosecute field work, the temperatures in Alberta are lower, and consequently trade in winter goods has improved. Wheat Acreage Increases.
