Clergy Ordination Proved Fraudulent NO DIVINE AUTHORITY FOR IT

Christian People Humbugged — Dignities, False Pretence — Christ's Kingdom Thereby Injured — Shackles of Ignorance and Superstition Forged — The Start of the Error — Its Motive — Its Bad Effects — The Proper Remedy.

Speaking at the New York City Temple, Pastor Russell took for his text "CHRIST LOUD, spare not him; show no people their transgression." He prefaced his address with some remarks respecting the unpleasant duty implied in the text, declaring that he would rather speak only smooth, pleasant and sympathetic language well supported by kindly tones. He speaks from the heart and carries conviction as respects his sincerity. He said in part:

Every unbiased student of the Bible surely will agree that our Redeemer and His disciples manifested great humility, in contrast with the clergy of our day and of centuries past. None were Reverends. Right Reverends. Most Reverends. Very Reverends. The distinction between clergy and laity which subsequently developed, indeed received its origin, about the year 1000, was not the result of any divine authority, but of the ambition of the clergy and the ignorance of the laity.

It is but reasonable to assume that many Christian ministers have neither studied deeply nor thought carefully on this subject. They have merely followed the beaten path of their various denominations without enquiring for the Divine authority of their ordination, titles and honor of men as titled ecclesiastics. But our sympathy should not hinder us from freeing our minds from the shackles of superstition, nor from helping others to the liberty wherewith Christ makes free.

The persecutions of the Second and Third Centuries undoubtedly tended to keep the Church humble and free from hypocrites, but the property doctrine from the beginning of the Fourth Century had a bad effect. Many of the bishops, according to the property doctrine, neglected to follow the example of the Lord and the Apostles, and became lords, dignitaries, in the Church, seeking to improve the worldly and especially the rulers, with their impotence.

In the year 330 A.D. under the patronage of the Emperor Constantine, all Christians who acknowledged the Nicene Creed were not only protected, but honored. The Emperor sought to strengthen his political power thereby. By him the Bishop of Rome was granted special honors, and gradually the doctrine of a fiery Hell of torture was one of these, followed later by a theory that men were to be saved from the torments of which were the church a second chance for purification and preparation for Heaven.

The clergy gradually grasped more power in this world and beyond. Their marriage not performed by men would be invalid. Those who married otherwise would be living in sin. The theory of infant damnation made the ministers additionally necessary to sprinkle the babies, to preserve them from eternal torture. Then followed classification of sins and the fixing of penalties and arranging for masses for the souls of the departed. All of these served to bind the people to the clergy, and more and more separated them from the simplicity of the original message of the Bible.

A Point Not Generally Known. Favored by conditions prevailing, the Bishop of Rome became more and more prominent, while the Roman Empire gradually went to pieces. The Bishop of Rome took to himself the title Pontifex Maximus, a title previously held by the Caesars. Another step in the wrong direction, which utterly separated the clergy from the laity, was the doctrine still held by the Church of Rome, namely, that the clergy alone constitute the church, and that the common people are the children of the church. Many Catholics are not aware of this fact, but they are the children of the church, Catholic Church. They forget that while they are privileged to call the unordained student by the title brother, all the ordained number must be recognized as father.

BULK OF CATTLE OF LOWER GRADE

In Fat Classes Only Few Were Choice or Even Good.

EASIER AT CLOSE Less Activity Prevailed as Day Advanced on Local Yards.

Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards on Thursday were 82 carloads, 778 calves, 1917 hogs, 158 sheep and lambs, 63 calves, and 420 hogs.

In the fat cattle classes on sale there were 2853 choice or even good, the bulk again being of common and medium quality.

The market opened up in the morning, dealers paying about steady values with a tendency to quotations, but as the day advanced, prices were generally lower.

There was little demand for stockers and feeders, and values were barely steady. Milk and springers were slow sale for any but the choice fresh milkers, and extra quality forward springers.
