Grand total for province $55,212,000 24.96

The following comment was made by G. H. Wood, provincial chairman for Ontario: Ontario has again come along with another good day's returns, the total from 54 units out of 58, including Toronto, being $9,537,300 for today. At the close of the fourth day in the last campaign, the total for the province was $34,820,700. Tonight it is $55,212,000.

"On the surface this looks good, but a close examination reveals the fact that the bulk of the returns have come from the special subscriptions and from the cities and towns. Up to last night canvassing teams had reached only 11.26 of their objective, when they should have reached 16.64. This means that for the first three days they were only within 60 per cent. of their objective. It is up to the canvassing teams to put on a spurt, as they have a very long way to go to produce their share of the quota. This is particularly so in the rural sections, and we are counting on a big boost from this quarter during the balance of this week. The total so far is made up of 63,000 individual applications.

The Towns of Warton and Arnprior entered the honor list today, being entitled to their honor flag for passing 100 per cent. of their objective. Sheburne put in a claim for a second crown, having passed 150 per cent. of its objective. The County of Bruce is doing itself proud, being the first to have two honor flags within its borders."

Mr. Wood received the following telegram from Sir Thomas White today: "Thank you for your telegram. Am delighted to hear how well Ontario is doing."

Toronto has passed the 20 million dollar mark on her way to the 30 million dollar objective in the Victory Loan campaign. Daily the enthusiasm is growing and the competition between teams in industrial plants is getting keener.

See Special Films.

A good-natured crowd of several thousand people gathered in front of the Allen Theatre last night to see the special pictures made by some of the film stars specially for the Canadian Victory Loan. There was a splendid picture, entitled "Money Bags." It is an entirely Canadian film, and it makes plain to those seeing it that the prosperity of the country depends to a very large extent on how well the Victory bonds are subscribed to.

The crowd enjoyed the pictures immensely and cheered each picture. Especially the pictures were made, Messrs. Frank and McGillivuddy, war-scarred veterans of Canadian contingents, urged the crowd to help.

Allen offered to buy $5000 worth of bonds if the crowd would make up that amount, and in ten minutes the canvassers had $5200. The bond sales increased and at $22,500 they stuck.

"If you'll make it $27,500, we will boost it to $30,000," said Jay J. Allen, and in a few minutes the $30,000 was added. "I never saw a finer spirit of enthusiasm than has permeated this whole crowd tonight," said Mr. Allen.

Tonight other stars will appear and the Allen Theatre again offer the same as they did last night—that to every purchaser of a $50 or a $100 bond they will give a pass for two weeks to the Allen Theatre, for each purchaser of a $500 bond a pass for one month, and for $1000 a pass for two months.
