ELECTION AFTERMATH.

Republicans Likely to Capture Everything,

INCLUDING THE SENATE.

How the Different Papers of New York Look at it.

The Sun Gives McKinley 397 Electoral Votes—A Battle of Patriots Against Partisans. Says The Herald—Get to Work, Says The Times—The Tribune Speaks of the "Grand Triumph" and The Journal Talks Resignedly—Comments of the English Press.

New York, Nov. 4.—Along with the Presidency and a large majority of the House of Representatives, the Republicans seem to be in a fair way to secure a majority of the Senate in the 56th Congress. Certainly there will be a majority for sound money, and inferentially a majority in favor of a revenue measure intended to enable the Government to meet its expenditures. The 59 hold-over Senators are classified as follows: Republicans on the St. Louis platform 27, McKinley Republicans 5, sound money Democrats 2, silver Democrats 18, Populists 2, unclassified Democrats 2. Successors to retiring Senators have already been elected in five States. Four of these—Alison of Iowa, Morrill of Vermont, Foraker of Ohio and Wellington of Maryland—are sound money Republicans. The other, McKinley of Louisiana, was elected as a free silver Democrat. Georgia and Alabama will send free silver Democrats. The Arkansas Legislature will return Senator Jones, a free silver Democrat. The Legislature in Florida will probably send a sound money successor to Senator Call.

The Oregon Legislature is in the hands of the Republicans, and Senator Mitchell believes he will be returned. He is now on the Chicago platform. The Kentucky Legislature at its session last winter failed to elect a successor to Senator Blackburn. It is understood to be the intention of the Governor to call an extra session in January, when the Republicans expect a man. According to despatches of the United Associated Presses, the following States will elect Republican Senators: Connecticut, Indiana, Illinois, New Hampshire, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Wisconsin. The following will choose free silver Republicans: Colorado, Idaho, Nevada and Utah. South Carolina will choose a free silver Democrat.

MR. DAN'S PAPER SPEAKS.
The Sun's extra says: "The State of Delaware gets into the Republican column, and so does Kansas, making the total electoral vote for McKinley 397, Texas goes into the list of doubtful States, and so does Virginia. The early returns indicated they voted for Bryan. The total electoral vote, it appears, at this writing will be: For McKinley 397, for Bryan 86, doubtful 44."

"In New York State the plurality for McKinley was 29,827. Black Republican candidate for Governor, carries the State by a plurality not much less than for the plurality for McKinley in New Jersey is increased to 62,000. All the later returns tend to swell the Republican pluralities rather than diminish them, and it is more than likely that all the first estimates will be increased."

"The Republicans seem to have about 100 majority in the Congress, and the Senate will also be Republican."

"The Assembly of the New York State Legislature will stand 114 Republicans to 38 Democrats."

"The Tribune's latest edition says: McKinley and Hobart swept the country yesterday, winning at least 307 out of 447 electoral votes. There will be not less than 250 Republicans in the House of Representatives, more than a two-thirds majority, and a sound money majority in the Senate. On the great battlefield of the middle west the enemy was routed. Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, and probably Kansas were all won by pluralities ranging from substantial to stupendous."

"The solid South was split wide open. Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky, West Virginia and probably Tennessee joined the ranks of honesty and order. In the far west, California and Oregon are claimed for McKinley. The northwest furnishes McKinley electors from Minnesota and probably from both Dakotas."

"New England is solidly and overwhelmingly Republican, redeeming the September promise of Maine and Vermont, and New Jersey rolled up an unprecedented majority. New York and Pennsylvania competed for the glory of leading the Republican hosts. They both broke all records. New York by 250,000 plurality and Pennsylvania by 240,000. The permian her the red, white and blue ribbon."

HERALD'S REMARKS.
The Herald, in its leading editorial, says: "The victory of the republic, not in favor of a party. It is a victory of patriots against partisans, and the patriots have won a signal victory. At such a time a party cannot count for anything. The permanence of the Government counts for everything. The emergency has been met promptly and effectively, and there need be no misunderstanding of the result. The people can be trusted to choose their presiding officer, and to London Papers Generally Commend the Decision of the Electors.

London, Nov. 4.—The Star, in an article under the caption: "The United States repudiate currency juggling," says: "It is creditable to the American Democracy that they fastened upon the paramount issue, disregarding all others."

The St. James Gazette says: "Behind the silver movement there was a doubtless feeling of popular discontent with the existing order of things, which is likely to become more desperate through defeat. Indeed, it looks more like the beginning of a great social and economic struggle than the end."

The Fall Mail Gazette says: "The decision of the American electors will be universally accepted as most creditable, and implies that the democracy when confronted with vital issues, will rally in reality and repudiate sham."

The Globe says: "From an official standpoint the most satisfactory thing is the crushing blow which the result strikes the cause of confiscation of the world over."

The Westminster Gazette, in a leader headed: "The great secret of a civilized people," says: "Whatever its grievances, it will not accept repudiation. As a matter of policy, The Gazette advises Mr. McKinley to leave the tariff alone."

Commercial Circles Pleased
London, Nov. 4.—Liverpool commercial and shipping circles are well satisfied with the result of the Presidential election in America. When the extent of the majority received by McKinley was made known in the Stock Exchange this forenoon the speculators became greatly excited. The exchange was crowded at an early hour and the bidding was very active, resulting in advances in prices of from 1 to 2 points.

In Glasgow mercantile circles it is believed that the result of the election will stimulate exports to the United States, and there is a desire to rush export trade as much as possible before McKinley takes his seat, the general expectation being that a high tariff of at least two cents will be imposed upon sugar.
