> 77 Cases of Damaged Goods, and Which Will Be Offered for Sale To-day. These 77 Cases Comprise the Shipment Which Went Astray in Transit.

And the goods include just the very things that ladies will be figuring on buying now, viz., Dress Silks, Dress Goods, Sheeting, Table Linens, Towels, White Quilts, Lace Curtains and a collection of other every-day necessities. We may say that because FIRE, WATER AND SMOKE have touched these goods in most cases the evidence of damage is very slight, of course the greatest being from wetting, there having been tons of water poured on the goods, until there was a perfect deluge. Every one knows that water will not injure the texture, so that customers are perfectly safe in buying water-soaked goods. We mention a few of the prize bargains. There are many others.

Thousands and thousands of yards of Black and Colored Silks, suitable for Blouses, Morning Wrappers, Evening, Street and Reception Dresses, will be sold at reckless prices on Monday.

Cornwall, Ont., April 1.—The delegates from Point St. Charles, Montreal, Valleyfield, Iroquois, Chesterville, Finch and Cornwall met here on the holiday, and formed the Eastern Football Association. The area was limited to the territory extending from Kingston to Montreal, inclusive, and the following officers were elected: President, Edwin Smith, Cornwall; vice-president, W. M. Hills, Valleyfield; secretary-treasurer, B. W. Collison, Cornwall. Two districts were formed, the Western being composed of Iroquois, Chesterville and Finch, and the Eastern of Cornwall, Valleyfield and Point St. Charles, the winners of the Western and Eastern to play off in home-and-home matches, and the final, if necessary, to be played on neutral grounds. A good schedule of summer games was drawn up.
