A MARK TWAIN JOKE.

Rome, Nov. 29.—In a recent interview with an Italian journalist Mark Twain had this to say:

"The principal reason I came to Italy is that next year I intend to be a candidate for election as President of the United States. Now, as you know, the Italian vote in my country is very large, and I desire to be able to address your countrymen in their melodious language on my return home in order to persuade them to vote for me.

"Besides, here in Italy everything and everybody is so jolly and happy; I want fun and jollity even in politics; I desire to see a Congress brimming over with fun and jokes; I wish that even bankers and banks would instil a sense of fun into their employees and dependants. This brought me to Italy, where I can learn how to be jolly, and I have no doubt that under the circumstances my candidacy will be very acceptable."

HOW TO PREVENT A "COLD" ATTEND TO LITTLE THINGS

Take up the Toughening Process of Immunity Against Changes of Weather.

New York Herald: With the approach of winter weather and with the lowering and changeable temperature of the season the usual "colds" are sure to come. Already catarrh prevails to an alarming extent and most of the attacks are of a decidedly grippy character. From the experience of past years it is safe to say that a veritable epidemic of such affections must be expected.

How to prevent a "cold" is at this time a matter of no small importance. The question resolved itself into an attention to little things in the beginning rather than more weighty ones at the end. The weak mortal is most apt to suffer from any epidemic influence. The overwrought individual is relatively in the same category. Thus it happens that the "cold" seizes the victim when he is tired and a draught that would not affect him under other circumstances is quite sure to show its malignant influences within a few hours after the slightest exposure.

The shiver and chill are nature's first warnings of the trouble, then follow the irritations of the chest, the harassing cough, the sneezing, nasal discharge and stuffy frontal headache. The careful man heeds these symptoms at once, takes to his room and uses his home remedies, but the daring and thoughtless one trusts to the vain chance of roughing it thru. Then also in turn comes the old story of "the neglected cold" and long list of lung affections that follow in its wake.

Catarrhal pneumonia, a most fatal ailment, almost invariably commences with the simplest warnings. Altho the disease is considered infectious and due to a specific microbe, the latter organism never attacks previously healthy tissue. The initiative cold places the mucous membrane of the air passages in a properly receptive condition for the effective invasion of the waiting organism.

Rapid changes of temperature, especially with increased humidity and raw winds, are always dangerous. To overcome them man conserves the heat of his body with woolen underclothes and suitable outside covering. He must needs be always on the defensive. The lack of precautions is what must eventually shoulder the blame.

The best defence against cold is what might be called the toughening process of immunity against changes. The person who is accustomed to the cold plunge the year round is seldom surprised by a frosty snap or a sneezing draught. On the other hand, the one who overheats his house and bakes in the dry and suffocating atmosphere of most apartments is sure to suffer from the slightest exposure.

It is truthfully said that American houses are for the most part hot air ovens during the winter time. There is no doubt that this fact explains in a great measure the well known prevalence of American catarrhs. The English, for instance, with a more humid and equally changeable climate, are wonderfully immune against "cold," as Americans view it, and this is due in no small measure to their cooler and better ventilated homes, their outdoor habits in facing storms and in their ability to react by vigorous skin circulation against any degree of cold or wet.

Who knows how many colds might be prevented during the coming winter by following these few simple suggestions? Each man should be able to manufacture his own animal heat, and a reasonable amount of clothing and ordinary warmth within doors should do the rest in the hardening process that will in the end give him the best of all protections.

FROM THE SUNDAY WORLD.

It is said that the date of the Dominion election depends on the putting up of the $5,000,000 deposit of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which, in accordance with agreement, should have been made within 30 days after the passage of the Act. The money market is tight and the loan is difficult to make.

The slogan of the Democrats in next year's presidential campaign, according to a special from Washington, will be reciprocity with Canada. Leader Williams is authority for the suggestion, in order to check Chamberlain's success.

An attempt was made to assassinate by shooting and burning, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, of Roxham, Que.

William B. Ellis, to whom "knock-out drops" were to be administered in Toronto, claims that he is the victim of a conspiracy in New York to "railroad" him to an asylum.

Arthur Harvey on Saturday night addressed the Canadian Institute on Auroral Phenomena. The lecture was thoroly comprehensive, and was illustrated with fine views.

Surgeon Major W. Culver Jones, of the Honorable Artillery Co., has presented a solid silver cup to the Queen's Own Rifles, for shooting competition during next season.

Frank Hall, a Guelph barrister, has sailed to take possession of an 800-acre estate in Nottingham, England, yielding a yearly revenue of $375,000. He succeeds on the death of a brother.

A settlement has been arrived at between A. E. Ames and Co. and the Atlas Loan, by which the Toronto firm pays $84,341 in settlement of all claims. The amount will be paid in four instalments, and the first instalment was paid on Saturday.

MOAT AROUND LOUVRE.

Excavations Show Substructure That Has Been Hidden for Years.

Paris, Nov. 29.—M. Redon, the architectural expert of the Louvre Museum, has made the sensational discovery that the Louvre Palace lies buried to a depth of 7½ metres (over 24½ feet), which is nearly one-third of its entire height. M. Redon had a trench dug in the garden adjoining the Louvre, and brought to light a magnificent stone work substructure before reaching the foundations. The buried portion is described as being fully as fine as the basements of the grandest Florentine palaces.

Such stone work was obviously not intended to be below ground, and M. Redon concluded that the original scheme was that a moat some 50 feet wide was to have surrounded the palace, but the necessary excavations could not be made to the full width, as at that time the building was surrounded by a number of houses. When the latter disappeared the original plans had been forgotten. The level of the soil gradually rose to its present height.

The committee for the preservation of old Paris has taken up M. Redon's discovery with enthusiasm, and the excavation of the moat will be begun as soon as funds are available.

A REED SHAKEN WITH THE WIND

Without Will Power, Courage, Ambition, Energy or Hope, the Dyspeptic is Willing to Give Up the Struggle.

The confirmed dyspeptic has as little interest in life as any human being. He is unfitted for its duties and is indifferent to its charms. He is unable to enjoy the business and social relations that constitute the life of the average man. All his hopes are absorbed by the one hope to get well and again be able to enjoy the good things of life. Until this is realized, he is sick at heart and feels himself to be of little use.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the sufferer's tree of life. They will cure him and bring him health and happiness just as sure and certain as he takes them. They are sure because they are natural and no other cure but a natural one is sure. They act on the food and digest it just as well as a stomach would. They contain exactly the same chemical properties as the digestive fluids of the stomach.

By putting Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in a bottle or jar with any kind of food, meat, eggs or vegetables, with sufficient amount of water, the process of digestion is carried out just as it is in a healthy human stomach and in the same time. There is consequently no unnatural disturbance of the digestive organs resulting from the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They relieve the weak and worn out stomach of its work and permit it to rest up and recuperate and regain its normal health and strength.

A well-known Buffalo physician says: "I prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on all occasions as a relief for weakened and rundown stomachs. I find they contain all the ingredients necessary for the proper digestion of the food and will do more to give the stomach the needed rest than any medicine I could prescribe. They have never failed to give immediate relief in all my cases and I do not hesitate to recommend them to all sufferers from dyspepsia."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents per box. 135

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Princess, "The Sleepy King," comic opera.
Grand, "More than Queen," romantic drama.
Majestic, "Searchlights of a Great City," melodrama.
Shea's, High Class Vaudeville.
Star, Thorobred Burlesquers.

Walter Jones, who will be remembered as having been here in "The Chaperons," will be seen at the Princess tonight in his starring venture, "The Sleepy King," a western enterprise that has been favored with most flattering notices elsewhere, and is heralded as a gorgeous spectacular production and full of good music and humor. The book is by George V. Hobart and the music by G. E. Conterno. The cast includes Ed. Redway, George Henery, Nellie O'Neill, and a host of others. The engagement is until Wednesday night only.

At the Grand, lovers of romantic drama will be treated to Julia Arthur's gorgeous production of "More than Queen." Emile Bergerat's play of the Napoleonic period is described as an assembling of historic episodes, interesting in its literary sense for reflecting the abortive development of the ambitious Bonaparte. With Anne Sutherland as Josephine and William Humphrey as Napoleon, supported by a strong company and with the original stage embellishment, the presentation should prove popular.

At Shea's the headliner of a fine bill will be Edmund Day, the actor-author, in his own sketch, "Shipmates," a comedy creation that is said to be one of the very best on the stage. Adolph Zink, the diminutive comedian who was featured with "Foxy Quiller," will be seen in an ingenious vaudeville novelty. Billy Clifford will tell funny stories. Others are: Charlotte Guyer George, contralto; Sullivan and Weston, comedians; Gallagher and Barrett, comedians; Robertus and Wilfredo, European gymnasts; Robbins, the trick bicycle rider; and the kinetograph in the new pictures.

The crowds that flock to the Majestic will be regaled this week on that stirring melodrama of New York life, "Searchlights of a Great City," which when here last year won any amount of favor for its variety of interest. A feature this season is its interpolated musical specialties and moving pictures of the big yacht races last fall.

Carr's Thorobreds has the reputation of being one of the very best shows in the burlesque circuit and should be sufficient to please the patrons of the Star Theatre in the way they delight. Two smart burlesque offerings and an olio that includes half a dozen strong acts, introducing up to date songs and comedy, are promised.

For the latter part of this week at the Princess, Sadie Martinot will appear as Paula in "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray."

After a ten weeks' tour, the play, "The Fools of Nature," which has been running in St. Louis one week, was discontinued by Miss Julia Marlowe, with Saturday night's performance.

For their annual concert on Saturday, Dec. 12, J. D. A. Tripp is holding three rehearsals of the Hale Chorus Club each week. Never before has the chorus been in such excellent shape, tho not of such considerable strength. The sale of seats will begin on Monday next at Massey Hall.

The Last Opportunity.

Adelina Patti, the world's greatest singer, is sure of a magnificent reception on Thursday, when she sings for the last time in Canada at Massey Hall. In Buffalo (where she sings to-night) the immense Convention Hall was nearly all sold out on Saturday. There are still some good seats for the Toronto concert to be had at Nordheimers', where the plan is.

PERSONAL.

John Morley will deliver the address at the opening of the Technical College in Pittsburg in the autumn of 1904.

Col. Robert Hunter of the judge advocate's department of the United States army has been placed on the retired list for age.

Emperor William of Germany has four light brown dachshunde of which he is fond. These dogs live in a stone, ivy-covered house.

Mrs. W. E. Chisholm of College Point, L.I., has a burial plot on her estate for her dogs. She is related by marriage to the Duke of Marlborough.

Annie Crosby Emery, dean of the Woman's College at Brown University, has been granted leave of absence for the winter term and will go to Europe.

Cyrus W. Field's country place, Ardsley, overlooking the Hudson River, has been sold for $75,000. Many of the most distinguished men of the nation have been entertained there.

A Paris paper says that "M. McClellan, the newly-elected mayor of New York, is the son of the famous Confederate general of that name." By the same token it will be remembered that Victor Hugo never forgave Gen. Grant for hanging John Brown.

Bible Class Banquet.

The Executive Committee of the Progressive Bible Class gave a dinner to its members and their friends Saturday evening at Webb's. Over a hundred were present. Clarence Bell, superintendent, was in the chair. Among other distinguished guests were Rev. Anthony Hart, rector St. Mary's Church, ex-Mayor Howland, W. J. C. McCrea, N. Barber, Alex. MacGregor, B.A., LL.B., William Barber and W. E. Robertson. The toast list included The King, Our Church, Our Country, Our Class, Absent Members, Our Workers, Our Visitors, The Press and The Ladies. During the evening selections were rendered by the Crescent Male Quartet and Walworth McLean.

BARRICADED IN HOME.

Insane Mother and Daughter Shoot at Everyone Near.

Tamaqua, Pa., Nov. 29.—Barricaded in their home in McKeensburg, in the country district near here, Rebecca Holland and her daughter, both believed to be insane, keep guard at the doors and windows with revolvers and shot guns, and defy anybody to come near the house. On Sunday night they fired at people on their way home from church, and since then all the residents of the little village have been giving the house a wide berth.

To-day James Albert, an Arabian peddler, visited the town and knocked on the door of the house. In response, five shots were fired thru the panels of the door, one of which inflicted a slight wound on his right hand. Albert came here this afternoon to swear out warrants for the arrest of the women. It is not believed they can be taken without strategy.

The women are suffering from hallucinations, believing that everybody who comes near the house means to do them harm. For the past five years they have lived as recluses, seldom leaving their home. A few weeks ago the driver of a grocery team stepped in front of the house and was about to enter the gate when he was fired upon from a window on the second floor, the bullet grazing his head.

Appendicitis at 74.

St. Mary's, Ont., Nov. 29—Patrick Whelihan died today from an attack of appendicitis at the age of 74 years. Deceased was one of the pioneer settlers of this town, and has always taken a very active interest in public affairs. He was registrar for the South Riding of Perth at the time of his death.

Belonged to Mabel.

When George Fley was arrested a few days ago for being drunk, he had in his possession a number of silk handkerchiefs, silver trinkets, etc. Detective Mackie took the stuff to the Mercer, where Mabel Brown of 30 Charlotte-street is doing six months. She identified the goods as hers. This makes the third time her house has been broken into since her incarceration.

Woman Drops Dead.

Port Colborne, Ont., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Clarence Neff, wife of Clarence Neff, farmer of Burnaby, dropped dead of heart disease yesterday morning.

Good Blood Makes Strong, Steady Nerves

And Ensures the Regular and Healthful Action of the Various Organs of the Body.

That the nervous system is dependent on the blood for its nourishment and life is best evidenced by the fact that about one-fifth of all the blood required for the sustenance of the human body is consumed in the brain and goes to create nerve force, the vital power which runs the machinery of the body.

Because it forms blood as no preparation was ever known to do, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is of incalculable value to the nervous system, as well as to the body generally.

Neuralgic headaches, sleeplessness, languid, depressed feelings, debility of the stomach and bowels, and consequent indigestion, dizzy spells, sparks before the eyes, nervousness, irritability and general bodily weakness are indications that the nerves are starved.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food removes these symptoms, and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, locomotor ataxia, and partial paralysis by its wonderful power as a bloodmaker.

Mrs. N. W. Williams, 312 Gerrard-street east, Toronto, says: "I was very nervous, could not sleep or rest, and had several attacks of nervous headache. My system seemed to be all run down, and I lacked energy and ambition. After having used several boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I can, with perfect truthfulness, say that it has been of great benefit to me. It has strengthened and restored my nervous system and cured my headache. I sleep and rest well now, and would not be without this medicine for a great deal."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

THROAT SLOW TO HEAL.

Disquieting Reports in Berlin as to Kaiser's Condition.

London, Nov. 29.—Very disquieting are all the reports in regard to the health of Emperor William. The wound produced by the operation is, in semi-official language, slower to heal than was hoped for, and its place, upon the vacal cord, renders it liable to constant irritation.

In Berlin this week certain definite alarming reports have been discussed. It should be borne in mind, however, that such reports are practically inevitable considering the present circumstances and the history of the royal family. Nor is it surprising that the reassuring statements in regard to the non-malignant character of the Emperor's ailment do not receive the due consideration is that Emperor William is a seriously overworked man and is suffering now from the cumulative overdrafts upon his general powers of endurance. This feature of his condition alone sufficiently explains the long rest upon which his medical advisers strongly insist.
