OF NEWFOUNDLAND CONFESSES UNCROWNED CZAR

Now Government Can't Really Explain Why They Have Refused a Rigid Enquiry.

OTTAWA, June 2 .- (Special.) -- Morning sessions began to-day, but little headway was made. As soon as preliminaries were disposed of this morning, Mr. Foster brought up the question o fthe admiistration of the Yukon, occupying more than two hours in reading unprintable charges made by Rev. John Pringle of Dawson City, against the character of the government officials, Girouard and Lithgow, and the reply of Gold Commissioner Congdon thereto.

Mr. Oliver replied, regretting that were not found fair grounds for

A Montreal despatch says that Robert Answering Mr. Pringle's statement that the waters of the Yukon had been alienated from the people for the benefit of the grafters, the minister said the Treadgold concession was never taken advantage of. Mr. Pringle was mistaken when he charged that the concession was to the disadvantage of the people. He had invited Mr. Pringle to appear take peofife charges. The charges were only "tolerably specific."

That was a queer rule to lay down, in Dr. Sproule's opinion, who pointed out that the Hodgins' charges of a general character were being investigated under oath.

Mr. Oliver claimed there was less crime in the Yukon, man for man, than in Ottawa. Why should not parliament concern itself with the morals of Toronto or Ottawa?

Mr. Borden observed that the power to examine witnesses under oath was a greatly lessened by the Bond regime.
