LONE TRAIN ROBBER'S FEAT

Almost Gets Away With Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars in Cash.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 31.—Train No. 33, the Pittsburgh and Northern Express, on the Pennsylvania Road, was held up near Levisville early this morning.

Then the sharp explosion of a dynamite cap on the track was heard and the train was brought to a standstill.
A masked man stepped out of the bushes along the tracks and covered the engineers with a revolver. Threatening them, the highwayman moved along to the baggage car, but could not open it.

He then went to the express car and compelled the messenger to open the door. The safe in the car contained $25,000 in money and bullion. The robber coolly called to the fireman of the train for help and the robber, still wearing his mask, gathered up some bags of money and with the fireman in the lead, and also carrying bags of coin, started up the mountain side.

Three hundred yards of the incline had been covered when the train stopped. At this juncture several passengers came on the scene and encouraged the trainmen to offer resistance.
The robber opened fire, sending a bullet thru the head of the conductor. He then grabbed a bag of money and fled to the mountains, leaving practically all his booty where the fireman had deposited it for him. Not more than $100 in pennies was taken.

Bloodhounds have been placed on the trail and a posse is in pursuit.

ped his action against Canon Henson chapel in defiance of his inhibition.

DRANK ADMIRAL'S HEALTH Joyous Crowd Gives Bent to Enthusiasm in Star Beer.

"All the world loves a hero"—and this was demonstrated without a doubt yesterday afternoon at the exhibition grounds, when nothing short of a cordon of police could keep the people from crowding into the dairy building to get a glimpse of "Condor Charlie."

There was a look of expectancy on every face, and as the admiral came down the steps to his automobile, after pressing the button that set all the wheels in motion, a genuine British cheer went up that must have made the feet proud of Toronto. And the crowd—they simply didn't know what to do to show their enthusiasm.

Somebody was there with a suggestion—to drink the health of Britain's navy and Britain's popular admiral.
The idea seemed to suit the people, and when the word was passed around, everybody started off to find the most refreshing liquid. There it was, right in front of the grand stand, in a tent which flew a streamer emblazoned with the well-known name of O'Keefe. As soon as the rows of bottles of "Star" beer were seen, there was a rush.
The waiters got to work with a vim and attended the eager crowd as best they could.

The scene was really remarkable, and shows how this popular brand of temperance beer appeals to people. The beer was good and served the purpose well. "The Stein Song" was on every lip. This "Star" brand is an excellent drink for every occasion, and the people have begun to realize it already, as was shown by this unique incident.

INJURIES FROM FIGHT
WERE CAUSE OF DEATH Medical Evidence at Resumed Inquest Into Bolland Affair—Another Adjournment.

PETERBORO, Aug. 31.—(Special.)— That the injuries received by Arthur Bolland in the fight with Fred Jopling on Monday night of last week, were contributory to his death was the opinion of Drs. Scott and Greer at the inquest to-day. Adjournment was made till Sept. 12.

Miss Ada Minns, aged 13, who saw the fracas, said that later in the week Blake Cullen, who had been with the Joplings, and apologized to her for his having been there, and had stated that he had been sent for.

Cullen, who lives at Bridgenorth, denied that he had said he had been sent for, but that he had said the Joplings had told him Bolland was going to give Harry a beating. The Joplings ran after the Bolland party while he followed at a walk until he heard yelling. He had heard Harry cry out, "You are choking me." He had interfered when Marks tried to stop the fight, saying it was "man for man."

Bolland had said afterwards that he didn't get a fair shake.

To lawyer O'Connell, Cullen said he had heard Bolland threaten to trim Harry. Peter Cornell and Charles Forsythe had seen the fight, but all were there from curiosity and not by prearrangement.

Coroner Gray told Cullen to try and get some one to corroborate his statement that Bolland had said he was going to trim Harry.

Miss Minns, recalled, stated positively that Cullen had said he had been sent for by Harry or he wouldn't have been there.

Gordon Lord, a friend of Bolland's said that the second wrestling bout seemed to start in a friendly way.

Miss Muriel Burrett said Bolland had told her next night at a dance that it was an unfair fight, that he had his fingers bitten and that they had tried to bite his arm and had done "a dreadful thing" to him. He mentioned the Joplings.

David Tully said Bolland had remarked: "Fred, you pinched (or "pitched") me too hard."

Dr. Wm. Scott, who performed the post mortem, said there was a general discoloration of the body, and three slight abrasions on the right knee and out on the right hand.

"In our opinion the direct and immediate cause of death was gastroenteritis with septic infection," the doctors said.

"I can't feel any other way about it but that this fight, or whatever you like to call it, and the fact that his mother told me that he ate most heartily on Tuesday and Wednesday than he ordinarily did, taken along with the shock that he received that night, and that the vomiting that took place all this rendered him liable to an invasion of any germs that might have been in his system."

County Crown Attorney Wood said to-day that there would be no prosecution. He said: "It seems to me that the two youths went into the fight with their eyes wide open, and knew what they were doing. Neither of them had any idea it would prove so serious. It unfortunately did, but even if the doctors who performed the operation are firm in their opinion that the injuries received caused death, I do not think any grand jury would consider for a moment bringing in a true bill."

A TWENTIETH

CENTURY WONDER

The Miniature Food Factory at the Toronto Exhibition, Making Shredded Wheat Biscuits, the Centre of Attraction.

The exhibit of the Canadian Shredded Wheat Co. at the Canadian National Exhibition is both unique and interesting and is attracting large crowds to the process building, where it is located.

A miniature factory has been erected and is in continuous operation, showing the entire process of manufacture of this popular cereal, just the same as in the $2,000,000 home factory on the Niagara River, from the time the whole berry starts on its journey until it arrives in the form of Shredded Wheat Biscuits.

No human hand touches the wheat during the whole operation—the steam cooking, the shredding and the electric baking being all accomplished by delicate machinery. Nothing is added to the wheat—nothing is taken away—all the rich nutritious qualities of the whole wheat are embodied in the finished product—Shredded Wheat.

Liberal samples of this cereal are being served to all visitors to the exhibit—one of the pleasant features of exhibition-time.
