OF HOSPITAL SHIP

Britannic Clearly Marked to Show Service She Was Engaged in.

MINES SOWN FREELY

London Papers Believe, However, Steamer Was Victim of Torpedo.

London, Nov. 22.—Some of the London morning papers, commenting on the reported torpedoing of the Britan-nic, denounce this alleged act, and contend that the ship's markings would prevent the possibility of any mistake.

A despatch to The Daily Mail from Athens says: Admiral Du Poutet, commander of the Franco-British fleet in the Mediterranean, announced Tuesday that two German mines had been found off the coast of Greece, southwest of Piræus. He warned navigators that a submarine apparently was sowing mines broadcast.

The latest information suggests that the Greek steamer Patria, which was sunk Tuesday, struck a mine and was not torpedoed.

WAR IS NOT AFFECTED BY DEATH OF EMPEROR

Austria-Hungary is Too Completely Under Sway of Germany.

LIFE A TROUBLED ONE

London Papers Comment on Ill-Fortune of Hapsburg House.

London, Nov. 22.—The evening newspapers, commenting on the death of Emperor Francis Joseph, express the opinion that it can have no effect upon the war because, as they say, German domination of Austria-Hungary, both militarily and politically, is too complete to be affected by the death of the emperor. The Pall Mall Gazette says:
"It is impossible that the emperor's death will make any vital difference, political or military, in the situation.
It is true that the personal link of the throne counts for much in the ramshackle empire, and the prestige conferred by years and dramatic artificiality cannot be transmitted to the reputedly indifferent princeling who now receives the sceptre; but Austria has passed the stage in which her own interests or sympathies can count for much in the conduct of the war.
She has ceased to be an autonomous factor in the struggle. German leaders command her armies, German politicians direct the course of her government and the program is drawn up already by which she is to walk in the event of a victory or a respite for the central powers. The dual monarchy is at an end in every sense in political reality."

Referring to the emperor's career, The Pall Mall Gazette says that even across the chasm of warfare some sense of pathos must still attach to the figure of a man who has all his life borne the chastisement of fate, and who, it comments, passed away leaving the dynasty in even greater jeopardy than when he became its head.

The Standard says: "It is too early to assess the specific responsibility of the late emperor for the crime of 1914.
Whether he was forced into that crime or gave himself willingly, there is at present insufficient evidence to determine, but it is certain that the woes descended upon Europe were the direct result of the subordination of Austria to the ambitious rulers of modern Germany. The senility of the emperor facilitated the evil work, just as it assisted later in the process of subjecting all the Hap-sburg dominions to Prussian control."

Expressing the opinion that the death of Francis Joseph will have no effect on the war, The Standard continues:
"Austria-Hungary is too completely under the German thumb that it is difficult to see how the transfer of nominal authority from a nervous old man to a characterless young one can affect the conduct of the war. Under Francis Joseph, Austria blundered into ruin, bankruptcy and a brief reprieve.
There is no sign that his death will relieve Austria of its more virile forces, or assist in the salvation of the imperiled monarchy."

HUNS MUST FOREGO
PLANS TO ANNEX

Maximilian Harden Does
Some Plain Speaking in Journal.

WHAT ALLIES WANT

Would Introduce Real Parliamentary Government Into Germany.

London, Nov. 22.—The Amsterdam correspondent of The London Times writes that in a new article in Die Zukunft, Maximilian Harden condemns German efforts to provoke peace discussion as insincere and useless.

He argues that for Germany to say "we do not want annexation," but to reject the independence of every state meanwhile, because annexation nowadays is possible in forms not covered by the ordinary accepted meaning of the word, and under the appearance of independence a state may, nevertheless, be handed over to the power of its strongest neighbor. Moreover, the statement that Germany fears no tribunal of inquiry does not mean that Germany is willing to submit her case to an impartial jury for trial of all causes of the war.

Harden urges Germany to understand the real objects of the entente and say that they are, first, to bring Germany into line with the political system of western Europe, and to end what the entente vital in Germany is belittled, secondly, to introduce in Germany a parliamentary government, so that the people shall really have something to say in the policy of the country; thirdly, the establishment of the central idea of German preparation for the determination to keep the peace, and not, as hitherto, the determination to be ready for war; fourthly, to restrict armaments in proportion to the population; and, fifthly, to establish real international arbitration based upon such guarantees as will insure the punishment of the rebellious.

Harden indicates that an offer to endeavor to fulfil these conditions would find a fruitful response before Christmas. Meanwhile he prides himself that the German preparations for a spring campaign are following the lines which he recommended "immediately after the disaster of the Marne and Kitchener's sober three-year prophecy."

Believes She Was Saved From Stroke of Paralysis

All One Side Was Cold and Powerless When She Began Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

A dead nerve cell can never be repaired. In this way it is different from other cells of the human body. But feeble, wasted nerve cells can be restored, and herein lies hope.

In this fact is also a warning to take note of such symptoms as sleeplessness and loss of energy and ambition, and realize the vitality to the nervous system before some form of helplessness results.

Nervous prostration, locomotor ataxia, and paralysis are the natural results of neglecting to keep the nerves in healthful condition. The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when you suspect there is something wrong with your nervous system, and thereby prevent serious disease.

SERBS HOME AGAIN

King Peter's Army Receives
Great Triumph With Pathetic Joy.

London, Nov. 22.—A despatch to The Daily Chronicle from Athens, Nov. 20, says:

The great victory at Monastir already has had far-reaching results. The enemy is in disorderly retreat along the whole left front, abandoning dead and wounded and enormous quantities of material, and the still-advancing Serbs are emphasizing the heroic nature of their triumph.

All reports agree that the enemy's losses must be enormous. For example, two regiments sent to reinforce the troops defending Hill 215 were in two hours slaughtered to a man.

The great triumph has been received by the Serb army with pathetic joy. "Now," said an officer who has just come here from the front, "we have a home again." He told me a story of Col. Vassiloff.
The invalid colonel took Monastir from the Turks just over four years ago. He was all the world known, held on to Be-dun with 4000 men, and was fighting against vastly superior enemy forces. He had a reputation with his men of always being first in to the enemy's position.
The 11th, he is with the forces at the front, and a day or two ago, when it was suggested that he should go to the hospital, he replied: "Not only let me enter Monastir, if it be but to die there."

PASSING OF EMPEROR

News of Franz Josef's Death Not Expected by Public.

LOOKED FOR RECOVERY

Non-Alarming Character of Bulletins Misted the Country.

London, Nov. 22.—The death of Emperor Francis Joseph has caused no noticeable emotion in Vienna, says the Exchange Telegraph Company's Vienna correspondent. The general public was not aware of the serious nature of his illness, according to these advisers, because of the non-alarming character of the bulletins issued.

The emperor, the despatch added, was feverish yesterday afternoon, being unable to eat his evening meal and refusing at seven o'clock, assisted to his bed-chamber by his daughter, Archduchess Valerie.

He found himself unable to sleep and asked that his physician be summoned.
At nine o'clock the emperor appeared to be in a more rational state. A few moments later, according to the details received, the doctors saw him, and he made a gesture, pointing to his throat. A second afterward he was dead.

The members of the imperial family were immediately summoned, as were the officials of state, who prepared an announcement of the death.

the latter caused the chief of the civil

UNUSUAL WAYS OF SERVING CEREALS

Household Hints By Isabel Brands

Hot cereals—cornmeal, oatmeal, far-ina, etc.—are on most breakfast tables during cold weather when we need these "heating" foods. But they grow monotonous all too soon, especially to the younger members of the family, and so the homemaker finds it necessary to ring a few changes in the method of cooking and serving to tempt the morning appetite.

There are a few small hints that help to make perfect oatmeal, but which are not always observed. In the first place, the water should always boil before the oatmeal is added, and then the oatmeal must be stirred in slowly, and the homemaker finds it necessary to ring a few changes in the
the morning appetite.

The serving of mushy cereals, like cornmeal, farina or oatmeal should be watched. Although it is the custom in many families to serve cereal a deep cream color, in small bowls, this really detracts from the appetizing appearance of the dish. If served in shallow dishes instead, it will be calling for second helpings instead of the half-finished bowls being left.

Farina should be prepared by stirring two tablespoons of farina in one cup of boiling salted water in a double boiler. After 15 minutes of boiling, one cup of milk is added, and then the dish is boiled for 15 minutes longer.

Cornmeal is prepared like oatmeal, the meal being added to boiling water very slowly and stirred well constantly to prevent any lumping. Here are a few suggestions for varying the usual plain-boiled breakfast cereal: Baked Cornmeal and Cheese.

and add two tablespoons of grated cheese to each cup of cornmeal.
Mix and bake in oven 20 minutes.

Farina Breakfast Pudding.

1 tablespoon of farina
1 cup of milk
1 tablespoon of sugar
1 teaspoonful of vanilla

Dash of salt.

Mix the milk and the farina and stir until smooth and thick, then add salt and sugar, cover and cook half an hour. Just before removing from the fire add the beaten egg and the vanilla.

This dish can be made the day before it is used. Pour the mixture into little cups or ramekins dipped in cold water and allow them to become cold.
Serve with hot milk or with cream and sugar.

A good left-over hot breakfast dish can be made by utilizing left-over cold milk and oatmeal of the day before.
This dish must be prepared partly the night before, by putting left-over oatmeal in small ramekins or custard cups to grow firm. In the morning, remove the centre of the oatmeal in each ramekin, mix with left-over chopped meat, replace the mixture in the centre of ramekin again and put in a hot oven until slightly browned on top. This can be served with cream sauce if desired.

ACTION WILL FOLLOW.

An Inquiry Into High Costs of Foodstuffs
May Be Looked For Shortly.

That an investigation of high prices of foodstuffs will follow the passage of the recommendation of the board of control that the Dominion order-in-council be made operative in Toronto, was indicated by Mayor T. L. Churn Saturday.

He intimated that all dealers suspect-or selling at prices in excess of a reasonable profit would be subjected to questions and perhaps prosecution.

ARE MAKING A MISTAKE.

A. G. McIntyre of Toronto, who is now the newspaper expert of the American Publishers' Association, in an interview regarding the present high cost of newspapers, stated that the manufacturers are showing a short-sighted policy in taking advantage of the present abnormal prices.
The attempt to put the responsibility on the publishers will result in future over-production, as new capital will be invest-

The attempt to make publishers raise the subscription and advertising rates is made without realizing the difficulty of

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent. In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses?
Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored to normal vision by using Dr. Lewis' free prescription. One man says:
"I was almost blind; I could not see anything without my glasses. Now I can see without any glasses. At night my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The attack of eye strain which I had for years disappeared after using this prescription.
I can even read fine print without glasses."
It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Non-Opto tablets. Drop one Non-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this water bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and instantly will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now, before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eye in time.

Another prominent Physician is whom the above article was submitted, said:
"Non-Opto is a very remarkable remedy.
Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely respected. It is a strengthening agent and it is to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent.
In one week's time in many instances, it has saved the money. It can be obtained from any good drugstore and is one of the best eye preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." G. Tamblin writes it.—(Advertisement)
