PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

"THE BOHEMIAN GIRL." Michael William Balfe's romantic opera, "The Bohemian Girl," for many years the foremost favorite in the repertoire of the best opera companies of America and Europe. It has gathered additional popularity during the past few years thru the most elaborate presentation that has ever been given to this work by the Grand Opera Company, which will present it at the Grand Opera House this week, opening on Wednesday, Sept. 6, at 8 p.m.

Among the compositions presented under the general head of standard opera there is not another that has endured as this classic, which has been established for all time in the realm of music as Shakespeare's works have been in the drama. The genius of this masterpiece are the kind that do not lose, but rather increase, their hold upon the popular affections by repetition, while its story is most romantic, colorful and full of dramatic interest. Besides the matinee today, the regular matinee on Wednesday and Saturday will be given.

"ON TRIAL"

"On Trial," the Cohan and Harris success, which will inaugurate its first Canadian engagement at the Alexandra Theatre with a new production, has been aptly called "a play that moves backward." The drama is set in a court room where a man is on trial for murder. As the leading witnesses appear and begin their testimony, the lights are lowered, the scene shifts and the various incidents described by the witnesses are enacted. As the trial goes forward the events described carry the audience backward, yet in this curious fashion the action interest is always cumulative. In addition to the special matinee today, the regular matinee will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

LOEW'S.

The big Broadway favorite, Miss Betty Morgan, and her company, in "Youth," a comedy play by Edgar Allan Wolfe, will head the bill at Loew's this week. Leona Guernsey will furnish a real treat for lovers of good singing and dancing, possessing one of the most remarkable voices in vaudeville.

Arthur Wenzler and Maybelle Palmer will bring their original sketch, "The House of the Future," which has been a great success in New York. Bertie Fowler will bring a new line of comedy and songs. Other acts on the bill will be Tom Ward and J. Hunter Wilson, Benson and Moore, and the Standard Brothers, thrilling acrobats, besides the latest release of Charlie Chaplin, in "The Count."

SHEA'S.

George Kelly will head the bill at Shea's this week, in the amusing comedy play, "Finders-Keepers," replete with bright, amusing situations and wholesome comedy. Annes and Winthrop will present their original sketch, "A Cafe Episode." "The Volunteers," a quartet of splendid singers, have a pleasing song novelty, in which they introduce the season's new numbers. The "Conin-Parks" Trio have a bright singing, dancing and "chatter" melange. Loney Haskell introduces new material in his up-to-the-minute monologue, the Natalie Sisters have a smart singing and dancing offering. Frank Wilson is a comedy cyclist, D'Amore and Douglas in a feature equitainment offering, and comedy films complete the bill.

HIPPODROME.

For the closing week of Exhibition the Hippodrome management offers, as a headline attraction, that powerful character actor, William S. Hart, featured in the latest "Triangle" release, "The Apostle of Vengeance." Howard, Kiebel and Herbert are three versatile comedians, with a variety offering said to be a genuine surprise. Mito Beldor and company will be featured in the pastoral playlet, "The Free Concert."

Kennedy and Melrose provoke laughter with their satirical absurdities, while Alvin and Williams have a bright melange. The Dunn Sisters, singing and dancing comedienne, The Tossing Austins, comedy jugglers, and "Key-stone" film comedies complete the bill.

AT THE GAVETY.

Harry Hastings' Big Show, which is in two acts and ten scenes, will be the offering next at the Gavety Theatre. Dan Coleman, America's foremost Irish comedian, is the chief fun-maker. His support is the best that is known in burlesque, being such well-known comedians as Phil Peters, Alma Bauer, Elsie Meadows, Ethel Lytle. The show affords many new specialties, among them being Annette, the Grecian violinist, who renders some beautiful selections. There are also about half a dozen variety acts which help complete the program of Harry Hastings' Big Show.

BIG SHOW AT STAR.

When "The Tourists" appear at the Star today the regular patrons of that house, as well as the newcomers generally, will witness a performance of burlesque and vaudeville decidedly out of the ordinary, with a complete absence of coarseness and of those objectionable elements that for so long have been associated with this form of amusement. Two one-act satires called, respectively, "A Trip to Paris" and "The Millionaire," and a long and diversified program of vaudeville specialties, make up the program. The company is headed by Gus Fay, a

ELIZABETH SPENCER, NOTED SOPRANO
SINGER, TO BE HERE TUESDAY

Complimentary Tickets Can Be Secured From the R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Ltd.

Miss Elizabeth Spencer, probably the soprano singer best known among thousands of music lovers who own Edison Phonographs, will sing here on Tuesday at Foresters' Hall, giving a most unique program.

This will consist of vocal selections in direct comparison with her recreated voice on the new Edison.

Miss Spencer has presented similar concerts from the Pacific Coast to the Atlantic Coast before thousands of America's critics. How sensational and has not only delighted them with her wonderful quality of expression, but which her voice has been recreated by Mr. Edison.

Miss Spencer was to have appeared here last spring, but owing to the death of her mother cancelled the engagement until this fall, and the many people who were anxious to hear her then will be glad to come to this concert and to know that complimentary tickets can be secured from the R. S. Williams & Sons, Limited, 145 Yonge street, whose show-rooms will be open on Labor Day until 1 p.m.

This will probably be the only opportunity to hear Miss Spencer in this city for a long time, as she is booked for an extended tour in the United States.

The concert will be held at Foresters' Hall on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. Admission, 50c; tickets only, secured either through invitation or application to the R. S. Williams & Sons Co., Limited.

comedians of unusual popularity; Ernest Schroeder, Lilla Brennan, Kitty Mitchell, Hilda Giles, William Lawrence, Anna Heidehl and Vivian Cahill, and the vaudeville specialties are contributed by La Petite Vivian, Edith and the troupe comedians with his piano, the Webster Sisters and others.

BLANCHE SWEET AT THE REGENT

Blanche Sweet, the brilliant Lasky star, who has been the idol of the screen, will be seen at the Regent, Adelaide street, west of the city, in the thrilling story drama, "Public Opinion." How sensational and how her whole future happiness is jeopardized by what is supposed to have been one false step, is shown in a gripping and entertaining manner.

The program at the Regent is changed Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

"BIRTH OF A NATION."

"The Birth of a Nation," the greatest film spectacle ever shown in Toronto, continues to play to tremendous crowds, and will run another week at Massey Hall, commencing with a matinee today. So widespread has been the discussion of this wonderful photoplay a repetition of the plot is unnecessary. It is a big theme presented in a big way. The great historical value of this spectacle is realized in the great numbers of school children attending each performance. The orchestral accompaniment is a feature in connection with the presentation of "The Birth of a Nation." Seats should be secured in advance of the performance.

MADISON.

Two stars, either of whom have been in the habit of drawing capacity audiences on the Paramount program, will appear as co-stars at the Madison Theatre the first half of this week in one of the biggest stage successes of all time, "Under Cover," Hazel Dawn and Owen Moore, two of the biggest stars of the Famous Players' Staff, are the principal players.

LONDON GUNS BRING A ZEPPELIN DOWN

Three Airships Reach London Suburbs, But Entirely Fail in Object.

Official Statement Says Only Fifteen Casualties Have Been Reported.

gaged, a great number of bombs dropped having fallen either into the sea or in remote country districts.

"It is hoped that any persons who picked up fragments of the wrecked airship will submit them to general headquarters without delay. It is of no value in the reconstruction of the airship they will be returned to their owners. It should be remembered that the retention of such articles is a contravention of the defence of the realm regulations."

"A full statement of casualties will be issued tomorrow."

Not Great Spectacle. "The zeppelin raid which lasted from late last night until the early hours of this morning, and which was on the largest scale undertaken, did not afford conditions the spectacle that did those of this time last year, when many parts of the city people who were awakened by the firing, saw one of the raiders falling in flames in the north."

News of the raid was received during the evening and people waited in expectation of seeing sights which almost given up hope when the firing of guns told them that zeppelins were making an effort to reach the city. Only three zeppelins were fired, however, as the defenses of London proved too strong for the raiders, the most daring of which had been struck and went up in loud cheers, but it was difficult to tell exactly where the airship had fallen. The people congratulated one another on the good marksmanship of the anti-aircraft guns. For some time searchlights were thrown skyward, searching for the companions of the ill-fated airship, but apparently none were found.

Immense crowds went from London and the suburban towns today to visit the wreck of the zeppelin, which was lying a heap of ruins in a field. Notwithstanding the heavy rain prevailing, soldiers guarded the wreck and removed charred portions of the bodies which were found.

Died at His Post. An eye-witness who reached the scene early said the charred remains of a big German engineer were found. The hands still were grasping a lever of the engine, the engineer apparently having clung on trying to steer the ship to ground.

Some accounts say that a number of the crew jumped overboard to save themselves from burning, but those familiar with zeppelins think it would be impossible. Escape could only have been made thru the exit and the rapidity of the descent would not have given them time.

Fell Upon Villa. The remnants of the destroyed zeppelin form a heap of tangled wires of fused metal. The charred bodies of the men who manned the airship were seen by the correspondent of the Associated Press lying, covered with a tarpaulin, in the field where the airship fell.

There was no sign of life to be observed among the members of the crew when the airship reached the ground, and it is probable that all had a quick death after the liquid fuel took fire.

All that was left of the engines were quickly detached and removed on military lorries for inspection. The crowds which gathered were not permitted to obtain a close view of the bodies of the raiders, which were closely guarded by soldiers.

PRESENTS AIMS OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Lecturer of Mother Church, Boston, Delivers Two Addresses in Toronto.

"Christian Science" was the subject of two interesting sermons delivered at the Toronto Christian Science Church by Virgil O. Strickler, C.S., a member of the board of lectureship of the mother church of Boston. Mrs. at two meetings, one Saturday night and the other Sunday.

"As it becomes generally understood that thru the ministry of Christian science people are being healed of sickness, worry, fear and other discordant condition, declared Mr. Strickler, 'there is an ever-increasing desire on the part of the public to learn how these results are accomplished.'"

"Christian science aims to destroy erroneous religious beliefs by substituting a knowledge of truth in the place thereof, and to destroy out of the human mind all evil qualities by planting good qualities in their stead, it seeks to substitute love for hate, unselfishness for selfishness, etc."

"It shows that the cause of all disease and sin is mental and not physical."
