(Continued) "You'll think you way through it, if anyone can," he remarked. "I don't expect anything of course, that would enable me to afford cigars like this, but I'd be glad to find some work to do, and I'd be glad to be paid something for it." The Duke was silent for a moment. He looked down at his cigar and then suddenly up again. "Has that young idiot of a brother of yours been making a fool of himself?" he asked. "Cecil is never altogether out of trouble," Andrew answered dryly. "He seems to have taken bridge up with rather unfortunate results, but there are some other debts which had to be paid, but we needn't talk about those. The point is that we're jolly well mixed up for a year or two. He's got to work, and so have I. If it wasn't for looking after him, I should go to Canada tomorrow." "Do you mean to say," the Duke asked, "that you've spent his own money and yours too, I suppose. Never mind, my boy's gone."

J. HARRY FINN IS RELEASED ON ORDER OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL

An unexpected development in the case of J. Harry Finn was his release from custody last night on the strength of a telegram received by Chief Clark from Inspector Watson, of the Royal North-West Mounted Police at Edmonton, to the effect that the attorney-general of Alberta had ordered Mr. Finn's release. No further particulars were received but a report about last night was to the effect that Mrs. Rose Finn, mother of Mr. Finn, had settled the claims against her son. This, when brought to the notice of Mr. Finn's counsel and friends, was promptly denied. Another report was that west of people who purchased land from Finn and who claimed he did not deliver to them the titles to their land, which claim is said to have formed the basis of action against him, found they did not have as good a case as they at first believed and, consequently, had dropped proceedings. As to the truth of this report little could be learned.

A HORSE IN A LAUNDRY

New York.—A horse, attached to a laundry wagon, became frightened and made a wild dash up Broadway, and a sign with a shirt on it, the horse plunged into the laundry, and, riding itself of the wagon, landed with all four feet upon the lingerie and shirts that a dozen laundresses were sorting. When the horse went through the door the laundresses went on the windows and amid a shower of hot irons, starch and blueing bottles. When the excitement was over the horse was found calmly munching a bundle of laundry tickets. It is a "horse of another color" when it is in pain in the stomach is upset and there is indication of kidney trouble. "Fruit-atives," the famous fruit juice medicine, is giving wonderful results in all cases of weak and strained kidneys. "Fruit-atives" acts directly on the kidneys, relieving the inflammation, and at the same time regulating bowels, stomach and skin.

ROBS BANK, ROUNDED UP, ENDS HIS LIFE

Chicago, Oct. 13.—A fashionably-dressed bandit who early this afternoon robbed the savings bank of D. M. Erskine & Company, in Highland Park (Ill.), an aristocratic suburb on the lake shore, twenty-five miles north of Chicago, committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth when driven to bay by the Highland Park marshal and a posse of city cops. A companion of the robber who had driven him to the bank in an automobile was captured immediately after the robbery, forcing the principal perpetrator of the daring daylight crime to flee on foot. He was engaged in a running duel with town constable John Sweeney, who was the target for many bullets from the fugitive bandit's revolver; one of which went through the sleeve of his coat. After running several blocks and failing to drive back his pursuers, the robber ran into a shed closed followed by Sweeney. When he saw Sweeney enter the shed with his revolver leveled at him, the fugitive put the muzzle of his own revolver into his mouth and fired a shot which resulted in his death almost immediately. Neither he nor his companion is known. The man arrested, who appeared in the guise of a chauffeur, positively refused after his arrest to discuss anything concerning his or his companion's identity. The robbery was conducted in a deliberate and sensational manner. The bandit stole about $500 in gold coin and a bill book. He forced John C. Duffy, cashier of the bank; Miss Nellie Fitzgerald, the bookkeeper, and Joseph E. Richards, receiving teller into the cashier's cage just after business closed for the day.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS, CHATTY NEWS OF THE GREEN ROOM

Miss Percy Haswell, favorably known here as a leading role in the new play by Booth Tarkington and Harry L. Witson called "Foreign Exchange," the drama deals with the much discussed subject of international marriage. Miss Haswell is supported by a strong company. The New Theatre, New York, will inaugurate the first season of a production of Anthony and Cleopatra on November 8. Invitations have been issued to a number of guests to attend a reception at the theatre on the Monday previous to the opening, when a reception will be held in the auditorium and a full dress rehearsal will be given. Three of the prettiest chorus girls appearing with Sam Bernard in "The Girl and the Wizard" have been enrolled as honorary members of the Bricklayers' Union. Each of them earned $5 wedding the trowel and working with the wheelbarrow last week in one hour, on a date, Forbes-Robertson in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" is attracting the attention of the clergy of New York and a number of them took the play as the subject for a sermon last Sunday night. The Western Union messenger boy, Robert Mantel, a wine merchant's apprentice; Kyle Bellew, a newspaper man; Sir Charles Wrayburn, a student of the clergy; James K. Hackett and H. B. Irving, law students; Frank Daniels, a wood engraver; James O'Neil and "Nat" Goodwin, day goods clerks; Bruce MacRae, copywriter; Raymond Hitchcock, a shoe clerk. Chicago managers are in hard luck these days, due to the fact that the bill-posters for more wages. They also have a music war on their hands. Little Otto and H. J. Goodwin are said to have made a great hit with their skit, "Who Discovered the Pole." The new show at the New York Hippodrome are taking the Metropolis by storm and are driving critics to desperation for want of superlatives which would suit the spectacle, which they style the most magnificent performance of their kind that New York has ever seen. The spectacle in "A Trip to Japan." "The Emerald of Jewels" and "Inside the Earth" are described as being the most astonishing yet seen in the great theatre. Little Otto and H. J. NEXT SESSION OF HORNBUCK INQUIRY, IN ST. JOHN

Sussex, N. B., Oct. 13.—This morning evidence for the defence in the Hornbuck inquiry was given by James M. Cole was called in regard to a claim made by former Inspector Wyman that two fines had been collected by Cole which had been collected. The error was explained by two entries of fines made by Wyman on June 24 and July 3, 1908 on the former date there had been an advertisement of the case. Mr. D. Turner was called and gave evidence relating to certain information supplied to Magistrate Hornbuck as to the Scott act case against Geo. Doherty, and James M. Cole. A. Freese called to say that J. M. McIntyre, Doherty's counsel, to Joseph Hornbuck then took the stand on his own behalf and swore that he had never given out information of a confidential character. When he mentioned the mechanism of sea power, the paper had been served. He also repudiated the suggestion that he had given to Doherty's counsel, in which a copy of his court he had always endeavored to base his findings on actual evidence. At this point, the Myers Scott act case was brought in and Commissioner Hazen suggested that counsel for Hornbuck should go into this case fully, as in his Doherty case, in which an order was issued should have placed Myers on his defence. Mr. Wilson joined issue with this view and the subject will be fully taken up on the question of his accounts. Mr. Hornbuck explained that confusion had arisen over the bill of costs which he paid to different parties. If there was any discrepancy in his accounts he was willing that the fullest inquiry should be made. He had been accused of a serious offence, but he had done what he thought was right and was prepared at all times to pay to the county any amount due to it. In regard to the fine of a man named Walsh, he had been requested by the sheriff to pay the fine, but he had refused to do so. He had been ordered to pay the fine, but he had refused to do so. GERMANY'S NEW DREADNOUGHT EXCEEDS DEMANDS

Bremen, Oct. 13.—The battleship Westfalen, the first of the new German Dreadnought type built for the German navy, in a trial trip exceeded her contract requirements, developing a speed of twenty knots, while her engines indicated 24,000 horsepower. Her contract calls for a speed of nineteen knots with 20,000 horsepower. New York, Oct. 11.—I. N. Ford, London correspondent of The Tribune, discussing the competition for naval power, writes: "A dozen Dreadnoughts in four months! That is a proof of reckless competition in the mechanism of sea power. The high power battleship or armored cruiser, with turbine engine and 12-inch guns, is the most expensive and costly as well as costly ship ever designed, and its resources for defence or attack are capable of vast expansion from rapid progress of invention. The Super-Dreadnought is already knocking out the Dreadnoughts, although only three of them have been launched, and the entire class of battleships and cruiser-battleships is so new that only a few advanced nations have experimented with them or possess the mechanical plant requisite for constructing them. It is the maddest race of modern times, and hardly more than a duel. Of the dozen Dreadnoughts and Invincibles taking the water within four months, two are Japanese, and one is French. The remainder are German and British, five under one flag and four under the other; and every one is so markedly superior to the vessels of the same class launched within four years as to justify the name of Super-Dreadnought or Super-Invincible, whether admiral experts claim distinction or not. There was never so extraordinary a duel! Not a shot is fired yet the warfare is so destructive that the new ships are discredited by superior designs as soon as they are commissioned, and if they are not prematurely 'scrapped' they are virtually outclassed. Germany's Navy—and Why An exposition of Germany's motive in building Dreadnoughts has just been written by Prof. Debruck, editor of The Freussener Jahrbuch and a personal friend of Prince Buelow's. He says: "The German navy is not and never has been sufficiently strong directly to menace England, yet it's strong enough to necessitate a cautious English policy, and to compel England continually to reconsider her relations with Germany." He argues that if Germany had not built her great fleet England's power on the sea would be boundless. France, Russia, United States, as well as Japan, would all be under her sway."

CANADIAN EXPORTERS ARE DISAPPOINTED

Expected Big Hay Trade With Holland But London Secured it Montreal, Oct. 13.—What looked like a promising source of export trade for Canada, and for the men who deal in hay and fodder, has rather disappointed the expectations of the exporters. Early in the summer cable messages were sent to a number of the hay exporters here from firms in Holland, stating that the hay crop had failed completely and that a serious shortage was anticipated. As Holland is a great dairying country the local exporters had rosy visions of a big trade with Holland this year. As a matter of fact the early prices offered were quite "fancy" as much as one hundred shillings (twenty-four dollars) a ton being tendered. When the hay came to be shipped, however, it was found that the prices were not quite so good as that. Add to this the fact that the freight is twenty-five shillings a ton to Holland, and the exporters, although shipping some hay, began to come down out of the clouds. Last week one firm had an offer of seventy-seven shillings. The "hay" member of the firm, however, says that there is not going to be the demand expected, as London is in a position to supply a considerable portion of the hay required, and hay is also obtainable from the Argentine. Another exporter states the second crop of hay is better than the first and that it relieves the situation there considerably.

ELEVEN LIVES LOST IN MARINE DISASTERS

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 13.—In the wreck of the steamer George Stone, of Cleveland, Ohio, on Point Pelee (Ont.), today, upper Lake Erie added a gruesome chapter to the history of marine disasters on the Great Lakes. Six lives were lost and twelve lives were saved and the end of the recent lake is tonight lashing a hopelessly broken vessel which was not insured and belonged to M. A. Bradley, of Cleveland. The six victims lost their lives when Captain Paul Howell, Peter Duryk of this (Pa.), who was a passenger, and six of the crew were capsized in the surf attempting to go ashore for assistance. Two of the crew clung to the overturned boat four hours until they drifted ashore, six were drowned when the lifeboat capsized, and the remaining ten of the crew were taken off the wreck about noon by the steamer F. M. Osborne, of Cleveland, and brought to Detroit today. One of the ten brought to Detroit, John Theodorik was knocked into the Detroit river by a crowd of strikers on the docks and narrowly escaped drowning after his arrival here.
