

GALT'S GRANDLY SUCCESSFUL SHOW

Big Days With the Horses at Canada's Best Outdoor,
Early Summer Exhibition
—Some of the Prize-Winners.

GALT, June 10.—Galt's annual horse show in many respects is the best held in Canada, and in saying this no reflection is meant on Cobourg's fashionable turnout. Galt's show is older than Cobourg's, and the town has the advantage of being a better horse centre. Then a more picturesque, better chosen spot for a horse show could not be chosen than that of Galt. Entries are always good, both in numbers and quality, while the management leave little or nothing to be desired. This year the attendance on each of the three days was exceptionally large and the show was of extra merit. Toronto had a large contingent present, both of horse and visitors. Motoring to Galt, if the weather be fine, has evidently become a pleasant occupation—a kind of vogue in fact, for there was quite a line-up of travel-stained machines outside the show grounds. A great deal of taste was displayed in the decorations.

Prize Winners.
Nearly all the stables represented at the Canadian show in Toronto are represented here, with not a few additional. Sir Henry Pellett has scored several times, too, has Hon. J. R. Stratton, but perhaps the most noteworthy incident was the defeat of Miss Wilks in the Canadian-bred harness class by A. Yeager of Simcoe. Hugh S. Wilson's English representatives had eminent success in the hunting classes, Mr. Hume Blake having to content with second and Irving Milne's crack that was so successful in Toronto, third. Here it should be mentioned the hunters are put to a practical test. They not only have to jump on the flat, but are required to ride up and down along the top of a steep grass-covered bank. Galt is noted for its standard-bred and roadsters. It is not to be wondered, therefore, that the classes devoted to these types were exceptionally strong. They were grand in fact. Miss Wilks, of course, was in evidence, but she was by no means as successful as usual. Burns & Sheppard (Toronto) and William J. Crosson (Cobourg) both beat her in one class on the first day, as well as A. Yeager, as already mentioned. In another, James Cromarty, the worthy, clever and ever-courteous secretary of the show, was on the job with saddle horses, and carried off several well deserved prizes. J. C. Dietrich, another owner of a famous, was also a good deal in evidence, but with roadsters, Ed. Warren and Aemilius Jarvis, both of Toronto, figure among the prize winners in the saddle classes. An especially interesting exhibit was the somewhat novel unicorn class, in which the three competitors were placed like this: A. Yeager first, Hugh S. Wilson second and Miss Wilks third. It is to be feared the judge had a leaning to the hackney rather than to the trotter. But the trot made a spanking display and one could not help reflecting how much preferable grass and the open were for a horse show to the glaring artificial light of a city.

A Storm Intervenes.
On Friday a heavy thunderstorm interfered to prevent a repetition of the success of the first day. The attendance was not all that was expected, but still there was a good crowd. Toronto exhibitors were again very much to the fore, among them being Sir Henry Pellett, second in fours and singles over 15.2, and first under 15.2. Hume Blake was first in lightweight hunters and Ed. Warren second. Wilson made a clean sweep in the jumping classes. Irish Lady cleared 6 ft. 3 ins. in the high jump. The ground was slippery. should be bought of diamond dealers and not of jewelers, who carry only a few stones. Our advantages over such dealers are made manifest AT ONCE for the following reasons, viz.:
First, ours is essentially a diamond business.
Second, our associate diamond cutters are always on the spot in Antwerp to buy the snags in rough stones, that are constantly to be had for cash.
Third, our setting of stones is done by an expert, and when we sell a stone as perfect, you will find it so.

Polo on the Cheap.

Another determining factor of the match was the lack of good mounts by the English players. Captain Lloyd, the English commander, played six of the eight periods with two ponies, and Lieut. Edwards was astride three of his horses in the last period. What the visitors would have done with a string like that, which paled and stamped at the American stable, and which outgalled the visitors' mounts on every occasion, can only be conjectured.

The New York despatch above carries the consolation to the many Canadian horsemen and polo enthusiasts, who hoped to see the world's championship cup return to the old land.
If the English team had been beaten on solely thru the superior work of their adversaries, it would only have been fair sport, but that their defeat should have been arrived at thru some preventable cause is most humiliating. It was understood in Canada that no expense was to be spared in making the English team perfect; the first short of ponies that the same mounts went into the game as often as three times, facing on every occasion absolutely fresh American horses.

Why the English were so negligent in not providing their team with ponies is hard to understand. Surely it was not the score of poverty. We repeat on the score of poverty. We repeat on the score of poverty. We repeat on the score of poverty.

Even Canada, a comparatively poor country, would have made a better effort for the empire, at least, so far as equipment was concerned.
Wake up England!
Mimico Lawn Bowlers Elect Officers.

Shephard. It was also decided to hold the opening game on Wednesday evening, June 14, 1911.

Polo Teams to Play Again

Farewell Match Will Be Played Monday With Nothing at Stake.

NEW YORK, June 10.—With the international polo cup games over for another year, the polo players from England and the Meadow Brook four made plans to-day for a third match. This final contest, of sort of stirrup cup, at stake, is looked upon with much interest, for it was intimated yesterday that the English players would be the use of some of the American players, whose speed was one of the controlling factors in settling the question. It is likely also that the expert English players, Capt. Barrett and Lieut. Palmes, may be given a chance to show their skill at Meadow Brook before Monday's match is finished.

Amateur Golf Champs Win Again.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 10.—By playing sensationally well, the 21st hole afternoon W. C. Fowles, Jr., national amateur champion of the United States, defeated E. M. Evers, a former national champion, in the semi-final to the cup offered by the Allegheny Country Club. J. K. Sole of Cleveland, Ohio, the Ohio State champion, went down to defeat before J. E. Porter of the Allegheny Country Club.

Fowles and Porter will now play for the cup.

"BOWERY" ROBERTSON DEAD.

OTTAWA, June 10.—Alex. S. (Bowery) Robertson, for many years one of the foremost of Canada's lacrosse players and the mainstay of the defence of the Capital team, died at his home here this morning after an illness of several months from tubercular troubles. The funeral takes place on Monday afternoon at 2.30. He was in his 28th year, and is survived by a widow and two young children.
"Bowery" Robertson began his athletic career in the early nineties, graduating from the old Ottawa lacrosse team to the Capital team, with whom he played until 1907, when he retired from active participation in the game, but remained on the executive of the club. As a referee he was also noted within recent years. Deceased was esteemed as one of the most gentlemanly lacrosse players in the Dominion. He was in fact, a life an active worker in Presbyterian Church circles.
Lacrosse fans will learn of his death with regret, as "Bowery" was one of the best liked players in the game.

Baseball Gossip.

Plays come up now and then which better scores and peeps result in which they are fully entitled. There was such a play at American League Park the other day. With Hogan of the Browns on second and two out Clarke hit a grounder toward short. The ball touched Hogan on the trouser leg, went on to Johnson, who threw back out at first. The moment the ball touched Hogan's clothing Umpire Evans called him out for being hit by a batted ball. The general supposition was that Hogan was called out for interference, but such was not the case. He tried to avoid being hit by the ball. Evans himself is authority for the statement that he called Hogan out for being hit, and therefore Clarke is entitled to a base hit. Incidentally an odd phase of the play was that, two men were retired on it. Hogan was out when the ball touched him, and Johnson had ruled Walter out, but it so happened that there were four in that inning. Evans tells of a case in the west in which Harry Walter was a victim of circumstances twice. The first Highlander knocked a grounder, and each time reached first as soon as the thrown ball reached there. It happened in each case that the first baseman dropped the throw, but Evans had ruled Walter out, not on the strength of the muffs, but because he had beaten the ball. Yet errors were charged to the first baseman in the scores and the hits not given to Walter, hits to which he was entitled.

The Giants played for a month at American League Park and didn't have a postgame, except on the last day. The Highlanders have played in a game in which they had a month and already have had five postponements, two with Washington, one with the Athletics, one with St. Louis and one with Chicago.

Umpires Rigler and Finerman have the unique distinction this season not to have officiated in a game in which a balk was called on at pitcher of each side, but of having had that exact same pitcher called on at pitcher making a balk in the same game. It is rare, and still more rare is it for the same pitcher to be called on at pitcher in the same game.

The new order of things in the American League regarding pitchers warming up between innings and in the middle of the game is as follows: A pitcher can do all the warming up he can get in before the man whose turn it is to bat takes his position in the box. If such a pitcher is an outfielder and the pitcher and catcher hurry to the box, the pitcher is allowed to throw as many as ten or a dozen balls. How many he throws depends on how long it takes the batter to get in position. If the pitcher is the last man out in an inning or out of the game, he is allowed to throw three balls regardless, and no more. The pitcher is also to be allowed to throw two men of his own side are out the pitcher can adjourn to one side and wait until the third man is retired. He must go to some part of the field where he won't interfere with the pitchers. In the west several clubs have taken advantage of this rule by placing a plate in an out of the way place for the guidance of the pitcher while warming up. The practice plate is in front of the grand stand and wouldn't be available for between innings practice.

Ottawa's Opinion of Tecumseh.
Ottawa Journal: Looking over the two successes of the Tecumsehs it does look as if Querre, for the second time in four years, had picked up winning aggregation, his team at present having it on anything in the big circuit. The Nationals can come back, or the Ottawas show much better form than they have exhibited to date.
The Indians, by their two victories on foreign fields over the Nationals and Shamrocks, displayed everything that goes to make up a winning team. Querre, in his game against the Shamrocks, showed that his home had the ability to bore in, while his defence, even if he had to break in a couple of new men, is every bit as strong as last season.
Two victories out of six matches away from home is a big lead, and while the season has just opened, it will make the other teams step their prettiest to overhaul the red-shirted athletes.

Toronto Chauffeurs' Club.
There are now over 600 licensed chauffeurs in Toronto and around this comparatively new calling has grown up a community of interest different from any other. More than 200 of them have formed a social organization called the Toronto Chauffeurs' Club. Handsome club rooms have been fitted up at 220 Victoria-street, where these men, many of whom work far into the night, may be sure of finding congenial companionship.

In addition to being a place of meeting, a reading room has been furnished where all literature dealing with the automobile is on file. There is also a billiard room and a music room. There is also a gymnasium.
The members were formally opened Saturday night at which there was a goodly number present. The present quarters are considered too small and the club intends to find larger quarters, where a bowling alley may be added to the other attractions.

OPENAIR HORSE SHOW.

Indications point to the Greatest Ever on Dominion Day.

Indications point to the open-air horse show and parade on Dominion Day morning being the greatest ever. Entries are coming in finely. Several new classes have been added, which are filling well. Constant meetings of the executive are being held and another is set to take place at the president's office at noon on Monday. Efforts are being made to brighten up the parade this year. The bands of the 49th Highlanders and Grenadiers will play and every exhibitor is expected to decorate his vehicle and horses with small flags. In addition, by permission of Col. Vaux Chadwick and the officers, the Mississauga Horse, from camp at Niagara, will head the procession. Subscriptions are reaching the treasurer, Dr. W. A. Young, fairly briskly, but quite a sum yet remains to be collected before expenses will be entirely met. President Marshall and other members of the executive are busy getting subscriptions and completing the arrangements. Entries close on the 15th, but everybody who is urged to send them in as soon as possible to the secretary, 56 1-2 East King-street, in order to facilitate getting out the program, etc.

LEAF'S FAIL

im Jordan Well-Inj Weakener for Rest

The Leafs have been playing well, being far experienced. The trip to Toronto, as four of the four games, 22 hits made 21 runs, only one of the Leafs, still in the game of June 10, was unable to play. The absence of "E" from the team severely affected the Leafs. While the Leafs have not had much success, they have not had any of the Leafs. The Leafs have not had any of the Leafs.
