PUBLICITY MIGHTIER THAN LAW IN WAR ON THE VICIOUS

Julian Hawthorne Declares Young People are Safer in Reading of Recent Crimes Than in Facing Similar Dangers Unwarned - Points out Futility of Trying to Secure Testimony Against Wealthy Moral Lepers.

(By Julian Hawthorne, in New York American.)

That Thaw killed White, we know; whether or not he murdered him has still to be proved. Doubtless he believed he had justifying provocation; for the scene of the crime is not such as would be chosen by a deliberate and prudent assassin. Thaw may, indeed, be some sort of a homicidal maniac, and White have been but a benevolent, easy-going elderly gentleman, seeking distraction from intellectual preoccupations in harmless social diversion, and we may admit, in any case, that private killing is not the right form of retaliation for private wrongs in a civilized community, but whether the victim in this particular case turns out to have been guilty or innocent of what Thaw thought he killed him for, there is no doubt that there is a strong feeling in the community that a strong practice of which White is accused is intolerable in any society, and need detail to the existence of society than murder itself.

In the midst of the agitation caused by Thaw's deed, that even more revolting case of Sheret has emerged; and the intimation is patent that things are doing beneath our relatively smooth surface too wicked and loathsome to be publicly discussed. But how are they to be checked? They are necessarily veiled and secret, and those who could testify to them are inevitably the very persons who will best consult their safety by keeping silent. And without legal evidence the law cannot indict, much less convict. Thousands may know the truth; tens of thousands may have been credibly informed of it; but the first will not tell, and what the others may tell has no value in a court. So that the very depravity of the crimes may render them unpunishable.

There is only one way to check them, and perhaps to stop them, and that is by the terror created in the minds of the public by the publicity afforded by the public press. The innocent whose name gets into print is done for. He can stand up against private gossip; he may even survive a trial in court; but newspapers, served by trained reporters, making investigations, publishing results, unscrupling facts, penetrating, printing, and inaccessible to tribes - are the most effective discouragers of vice in the world. And the greatest danger is in the world of vice and crime is the man who would suppress discussion of these things (so far as they may without too much offense be publicly discussed) in what he calls the interests of pure-mindedness.

The devil loves such a man more even than he loves the unnatural profligate. All the devil asks is to be let alone, and if he can persuade you that, unless he be let alone, he will make a devil of all our innocents, he strikes with joy. The newspapers are very shocking, to be sure; they publish shocking things; we do not like to see our own and our children's faces in such things. But is it not infinitely better that they read such things, than run the risk of suffering each thing as they read of? The devil hates newspapers; and the "yellow" they are, the worse he hates them.

Some innocent persons may indeed be corrupted by reading of wickedness; but innocence is negative; good persons will not be corrupted for goodness positive. Those who fall had the propensities for evil in them, ready to emerge at the first opportunity. Far better that the publicity which acts as an incentive to them should act, at the same time, as a deterrent to the actively criminal and vicious, than that it should come to them in the form of a secret enticement, to vice, which destroys them without helping or terrifying them.

There are eruptive diseases of the body, which can be driven in by the application of certain lotions, and the skin left smooth. But the eruptions, driven from the skin, attack the vital organs, and become promptly fatal. If there be no eruption in our community, our only salvation is to force it to the surface. It will not make us look pretty, but it will save our souls alive. If we suppress it, we may wear a comely appearance for a while; but the price will be that paid by Sodom and Gomorrah.

WILL FINISH TOMORROW

Mr. Foster Pleads for Retention of Pensions to Ex-Ministers.

OTTAWA, July 11.-Premier Laurier announced yesterday that the house will prorogue on Thursday. Everything is passed except the third reading of the repeal of the pensions bill and the supply bill. Mr. Turff suggested that it should stand over.

Mr. Foster admitted that it might be wiser for him not to say anything. He did not think there was any more opposition to the pensions bill than to the other salary votes.

Mr. Foster then proceeded to make a strong plea for the retention of pensions by pointing out the apprenticeship that men had to serve in the best interests of the country before they could attain a cabinet position. When he became a minister the expenses were such that he could not save anything out of his $7,000 salary if he were not to be mean. If he were not mean he could not save a single cent.

It was absolutely impossible to fill the position of a minister and carry on any private business. The minister would have to devote himself to his work. If his salary was increased by $2,000, which would be made more than he would have anything left. But put $2,000 a year away for the minister and he would have it when the day came for his retirement.

Mr. Foster said that Canada would not object to giving a pension to those who require aid after serving the country. "I would limit it," said Mr. Foster, "to a point of service, to a point of age and what was reasonable and the country would not object."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that the bill was objectionable to the people. He was personally willing to have it stand over until next session to give an opportunity for discussion.

It was decided that the bill would stand for its third reading today.

THE LORD'S DAY BILL

Lively Discussion in the Senate Yesterday - Many Amendments Offered.

OTTAWA, July 11.-The Sunday bill again occupied the attention of the senate yesterday afternoon and was discussed at length. The clause permitting railroads to operate on Sunday was amended to authorize a railroad to do any work necessary to keep its lines open.

The clause permitting the operation of ferry boats or boats authorized to carry passengers was amended to allow of the operation of toll bridges or draw bridges.

Senator Kerr, of Toronto, offered an amendment to the clause authorizing "any work which the board of railway commissioners, having regard to the object of this act, deem necessary to permit in connection with the freight traffic of any railway." As the "object of this act" was, he said, the observance of the Sunday law, the railway board might regulate to restrict rather than permit freight work on Sunday. He therefore moved and carried that the clause should read, "any work which the railway commissioners, having regard to the object of this act, and which the object of this act, deem necessary to permit in connection with freight traffic."

Senator Landry moved that the committee rise, which was defeated. At the evening session amendments were carried giving to the previous the authority to legislate on the question of Sunday performances, amusements, excursions, etc.

The third reading of the bill was fixed for today.

A BIG AERIAL ACT

One of the season's big aerial acts which seem to have attracted unusual attention and comment is being given in the Barnum & Bailey circus by an imported company of high-air gymnasts, who have won the title of Europe under the name of the Imperial Viennese Troupe of Aerialists. The troupe comprises ten artists, and the feat they perform is that the six are said to be little short of marvellous. Single, double and even triple somersaults are accomplished with apparent ease. These mid-air vaults also start from one trapeze to another over an open space of sixty feet, landing on the opposite bars, or being caught by one of their number at the moment of descent. The Imperial Viennese Troupe are said to receive over a thousand dollars a week.

What the "Canada Lancer" says about Abbey's Effervescent Salt.

"Many physicians of Canada are now prescribing ABBEY'S SALT. It is particularly useful in cases of obstinate Constipation and chronic liver trouble. It is especially effective in kidney trouble. It corrects acidity of the stomach, making it a specific in certain forms of dyspepsia and in gout and rheumatism.

We consider Abbey's Salt absolutely the best effervescent salt made in any country."

Boils and Pimples

Red Rash, Eczema, in fact any skin disease, disfigures the complexion because the bowels are constipated - or because the kidneys do not rid the system of waste - or because the skin itself is unhealthy.

Ointments, salves and soaps are useless. Because the trouble is with the blood.

Owing to defective action of bowels, kidneys or skin, the blood becomes laden with impurities. It is these impurities - deposited by the blood - that make boils, pimples, and painful, disfiguring skin diseases. It is because the trouble is with the bowels, kidneys or skin, that FRUIT-A-TIVES cure these diseases.

Fruit-a-tives

act directly on the eliminating organs - correct their irregularities - strengthen them - and thus clear the skin and make the complexion clear and soft.

If you have any skin trouble - or any fault with constipation, liver trouble, biliousness, headaches, indigestion, rheumatism - cure yourself with Fruit-a-tives. They are made of fruit juices and tonics - and never fail to cure.

GRAND LODGE, I. O. G. T.

Fredericton, N. B., July 10.-The thirty-second annual session of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. G. T. opened at Fredericton today with the grand chief templar, Rev. Theo. Marshall, in the chair.

Sixty delegates were in attendance, including J. A. Simpson, of Amherst, fraternal delegate from Nova Scotia, and Miss Jessie Foraythe, international superintendent of juvenile work of Boston.

The grand lodge decided to pay the grand secretary $300 per year, providing he can spend the whole time at the work; otherwise his salary will be $100.

For juvenile work $80 was appropriated. The committee on organizing the order reported recommending the organization of a national grand lodge of Canada similar to the one organized in the United States.

On recommendation of the committee it was decided to publish an official organ in union with the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia - a weekly paper. The committee on political action recommended that all matters of a political character be referred to the New Brunswick Temperance Federation, and that the grand district superintendent should establish a branch federation in all the counties.

The meeting was brought to a close this evening after an interesting and profitable session. The election of officers, which took place this afternoon, resulted as follows:

Grand Chief Templar - J. O. Jackson, Moncton. Grand Councilor - M. G. Hamer, Moncton. Grand Vice Templar - John Crandall, Moncton. Grand Superintendent of Juvenile Work - Mrs. J. B. Jackson, Moncton. Grand Secretary - L. R. Hetherington, Chipman. Grand Treasurer - R. H. Ellsworth, Chipman.

Grand Elector Superintendent - A. C. M. Lawson, Havelock. Grand Chaplain - Rev. F. G. Bolster, Gidley.

Grand Marshal - W. F. Bowley, St. John. Deputy International Chief Templar - Wm. Burns, Hillsboro. Delegates to Supreme Lodge - John Jackson, Moncton. Alternates - Rev. Theo. Marshall, St. John.

Grand Messenger - H. C. Bicker, Upper Harncliffe. Grand Grand - J. Baxter, Fredericton. Grand Sentinel - John McNameara, Gidley. Young's Cove Road. Grand Deputy Marshal - Mrs. G. L. Dakin, Grand Harbor. Grand Assistant Secretary - Miss Annie Valle, Jerusalem.

The above officers were installed by Miss Jessie Foraythe, superintendent of juvenile work, assisted by J. A. Simpson, G. G. Y. of Amherst.

A resolution was passed thanking Rev. C. Hill, Rev. E. A. Simpson, G. G. Y. of Amherst, and A. C. M. Lawson for their work as organizers.

It was decided that St. John be the next place of meeting.

BAPTISTS IN SESSION

Ministers Conference Opened Union Baptist Convention Yesterday.

The meetings of the Union Baptist Association opened at Brunswick street church yesterday. A ministers' conference was held in the afternoon and an evangelistic service in the evening, both having been largely attended.

There was a large congregation at the evangelistic service in the evening. On the platform, besides the pastor, Rev. H. A. Grant, were Rev. Mr. Currier and Rev. Mr. Hughes. After devotional exercises, Rev. Mr. Grant gave a very earnest address on St. Paul's words, "Therefore let no man glory in men."

Among all the reverend gentlemen now in the city attending the meetings of the United Baptist Association undoubtedly Rev. John H. Hughes and Rev. Joseph Nobles, of Woodstock, are the most striking. Before the union of the Baptist and Free Baptist churches each was the pastor of his particular denomination in his province, and the object of the esteem and veneration of all.

Rev. Mr. Nobles expressed gratification at being present. In Woodstock street church yesterday afternoon a private meeting of the board of management of the Free Baptist Women's Missionary Aid Society was held. The business done was entirely routine and preparatory to the purging of the two societies this afternoon. Two lady missionaries lately returned from India were present.
