RUSE THAT FAILED.

Some authorities trace the expression "scraping an acquaintance" back to the Roman Emperor Hadrian, and an incident which is reputed to have occurred during his reign. It is said that the emperor visited the public baths in Rome and saw an old soldier scraping himself with a piece of broken bath tile. Recognizing the soldier as a former comrade, and feeling pity for him because he could not afford to purchase a flesh-brush, the emperor sent him a sum of money and some bathing garments.

The next time Hadrian visited the bath he found it filled with old soldiers, everyone of whom was massaging himself with a piece of tile. The emperor appreciated the ruse, but laughed and said:

"Scrape yourself if you wish, but you will not thereby scrape an acquaintance with me."

Epstein Has Moved From Union Street

All business for Messrs. K. W. Epstein & Co. will now be concentrated on one centre, namely, 4 King Square. This up-to-date optical parlor was opened last September under the management of K. W. Epstein & Co. The premises at 193 Union street which they have occupied for so many years have been vacated and all efforts will be directed towards their more modern store on the Dufferin Hotel block.

BETTER THAN HARD COAL

Soft coal so free from soot that it does not make whiskers on stove covers or pipe and does not mat or cake when burning, is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. Such a coal is Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. No other soft coal burns just like Broad Cove. You will know it by the above characteristics. tf

TAKE NOSE-PRINTS OF CATTLE TO IDENTIFY THEM

Chicago, May 5—Many an old cowboy will smile when he reads this story. He may scoff at the new-fangled ideas, but the old sizzling branding iron may be a thing of the past if the plan of taking the "nose-prints of cattle for identification purposes becomes general. The plan was instituted in Minnesota three weeks ago, and already more than 2,000 prints of cattle noses have been filed.

A. L. Dunlop, Chairman of the International Association of Identification, and Editor of The Detective, said that the plan is receiving much favorable support. "A cow's nose never changes," Dunlop said. "It is much the same as with finger-prints. So many purchasers have been swindled by substitution of low-grade stock for pure-blooded that the wise purchaser hereafter will look for a nose-print identification."

BOY HANGING IN BARN; SUICIDE, SAY POLICE

Detroit, May 5—Following an investigation yesterday into the death of Robert Salaaman, aged 14, whose body was found hanging in a barn, police expressed that death was due to suicide.
