ROY M. WOLVIN ON FUTURE PROSPECTS

German and Belgian Competition Big Handicap at the Present Time.

(Montreal Gazette)

Roy M. Wolvin, president of the British Empire Steel Corporation, who has just returned from a two months' visit to Great Britain and the Continent, stated that in his judgment the most serious feature in connection with conditions in Great Britain was the strike of coal miners. "Fortunately," however, said Mr. Wolvin, "this seems to be drawing to an early conclusion, and it is remarkable how the people of Great Britain are accepting the situation brought about by such a serious strike. Everyone appears to be carrying on more or less in the usual manner, and apparently with full confidence that matters will eventually work out right, the tendency with the masses of the people being to wait whatever sacrifice may be required to this end."

Mr. Wolvin's observations was that the consensus of opinion appeared to be that the highly organized condition of labor in Great Britain was a serious

THE LUMBER MARKET.

(Boston Commercial Bulletin, June 26)

It looks as though the timidity about building in this state that has for so long been held in check the demand for spruce frames, is disappearing. This is certainly a reasonable inference from an announcement made this week by the Division of Statistics of the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industry which reads:—

"Building department officials of twenty-eight cities of the commonwealth have reported to the department the value represented by applications filed for permits to build in their respective cities. An encouraging improvement is noted. The May, 1921, aggregate of $5,841,696 is $1,222,011, or 37.2 per cent, more than the aggregate of $4,619,685 for the same cities for the month of April, 1921, but is 84.7 per cent of the May, 1920, aggregate. there were increases during the month, many of them large, in seventeen of the twenty-eight of the cities named. The aggregate for Boston for May was $2,119,933, or almost twice that for the previous month.

"It would seem that the settlement of the question of wages of building tradesmen throughout the state is resulting in an increase in activity in the building lines, which has long been delayed and has been the cause of much unemploy-

Moreover in a letter sent to the mayors of cities and selectmen of towns by the Commission on the Necessaries of Life the following encouraging paragraph ap- pears:—

"The drift towards tenantry has been checked and more people are buying homes. Home ownership is the only sound solution of the housing problem, and therefore at this time we want to call your special attention to this phase of the question. Thrift and desirable families should be given every assistance in buying or building homes by the local banks. Chambers of commerce, boards of trade, real estate operators, builders, etc., should be assisted in disseminating accurate information upon this subject."

It must be admitted that the demand for frames, although better recently, does not yet show the increase that the statistics would suggest as probable. The reason is believed to be that, because of the wide gap between the price of dimension and random, the retailers have bought so much of the latter that they are able to select what is needed for a frame from their piles.

It is feared by some observers that if a duty on lumber is imposed it may in- terfere with this growing tendency to erect dwelling houses. Late advices from Washington do not indicate that the lumber section of the tariff is sure to pass.
