Braves, 10; Franklins, 2.
On the South End League diamond last evening the Pirates defeated the Franklins by a score of 10 to 2. There was a large gathering of fans to witness the game, and much interest was displayed. Miller, for the Pirates, did some good pitching and had several strikeouts. Diggs also pitched a good game, having three strikeouts. His team mates, however, did not give him the support that he needed and after the sixth inning they lost heavily. The game was marked by the heavy hitting of Knodell, and the catching of R. Harper, shortstop. Sage umpired the game, and A. Kearns umpired the bases. K. Steele acted as scorer. The line-up was as follows:

Pirates.	Franklins.
E. Cox	Pitcher.
H. Miller	First base.
C. McGowan	Second base.
R. Kerr	Third base.
M. Knodell	Short stop.

Recollections of One of The Visiting Players of Those Days

WRITES OF SOME OF THE MEN

Jim Sullivan, Joe McNamara, Frank White and Robinson—Some Experiences as a Member of the Moncton Team

Old time baseball fans in this part of the country will be interested in an article written for an American syndicate about players and conditions here, written by A. G. Doe, who was one of the first professionals to be brought to this province in baseball, in the old days of Wagg and Larabee, Seaton and Howe, when the Nationals and Shamrocks were engaged in their historic series of games. Mr. Doe's recollection is probably at fault regarding the statements attributed to some of the St. John players, like Frank White, but the article is published because of its historic interest and in order to give an outsider's impression of local conditions in the old days, even if some of those impressions are careless or false.

(By A. G. Doe.)
(Copyright, 1919, by E. Anthony & Sons, Ltd.)

In the summer of 1889 I was engaged to play with the Moncton club of the Province of New Brunswick. Baseball was very popular in the provinces, and while they did not have an organized league they had five clubs which played a series of games with each other on the same basis as if it was a regular organized league.

St. John, N. B., had two clubs, the Nationals and the Shamrocks. Fredericton, N. B., Moncton, N. B., and Halifax, N. S., were represented. Halifax did not last very long as the jump was too long for the other clubs to make. The only player on the Nationals who later became famous was Bert Abbot, a pitcher, who came from the University of Vermont, and later was with the Chicago Nationals and the Brooklyn club. The Shamrocks had two boys, the late James Sullivan, a pitcher, who afterwards became famous with the Boston Nationals, and later with the Providence Grays. Joe McNamara was a few years ago with the Phillips Exeter team.

We had on our club the late Teddy Webster, catcher; Robinson, pitcher, who later was famous in the Maine State League; Al Wagg, outfielder, who is now master of the Girls' Junior High School in Boston; Captain Harry Soule, second baseman and later famous in the Maine State League. We game throwers, who made some money, and he told them to bet all they could because we would lose, and he went to the manager of the Amherst club and explained to him just what he had done. They seemed to feel that they were so over the devil and the deep sea, but told Captain Soule they would be satisfied if they could win enough to pay the Moncton club for our services, which was $100. When the game started their mind were soon set on that. With a couple of men on base, Wagg hit one to the outfield and the next inning Soule did the same thing and at the finish we won the game 13 to 2. The Amherst club was so overjoyed at winning that they gave us a little banquet that night and we never heard from some sweet things said about ourselves before or since.

As usual the players enjoyed playing jokes on each other. Robinson and Webster were the worst. Of course he lost, and I don't believe he knows to this day what was done to him. The only thing he said was that they had the damndest man in Moncton that he ever saw.

New Brunswick Customs Puzzled Doe.
A custom strange to me was the manner in which they addressed each other when meeting on the street. Instead of saying good-evening, how-do-you-do or hello, they would say good-night. I landed there early in the evening and curiosity to see the new player brought quite a gathering to the railway station. Upon being introduced to the gentlemen interested in the club they would say good-night, and all the way to the hotel everybody said good-night. I asked the Captain Soule what the deuce was the matter with everybody and he said that this was only a custom but it certainly had me beat because I thought that they were landing me my passport on my arrival.

Our season ended the latter part of September after playing two games at Fredericton and the players were paid off and everybody departed for home but myself. The three weeks' lay off had put a crimp in the treasury of the Moncton club, so that I had to wait several weeks to get my money. In the meantime they suggested that to help matters out I should solicit some advertising for a directory that was being compiled in the town. As I was a long way from home I was very glad to do most anything to get my money so I put in two weeks working for my board and the balance of my salary, filled the spaces up in the directory, received my pay and started back to the States pleased to get back to God's country where Old Glory waves a welcome to all good citizens.

Hunt Cook, superintendent of Chautauquay, spoke before the Czecho-Slavic luncheon yesterday on Czecho-Slavic. Sir J. D. Hazen presided.

Sidelights On Sport

Dave Robertson, former star outfielder of the New York Giants has signed a two year contract with the Chicago Cubs. Robertson refused to sign with the Giants two years ago and has been out of the game since. He should prove a valuable addition to the Chicago roster.

John Durnan of Toronto won the Junior singles championship at the Canadian Henley Regatta at Port Dalhousie, N. S., yesterday. He has since been out of the game. His nose was broken and he was felled like an ox. A short while ago he was struck with a ball, and had two ribs broken.

Two boxing titles will be at stake on next Monday evening. In Jersey City Jack Britton and Ted Lewis will battle for the welterweight title, while in Philadelphia Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, will defend his title against Joey Fox, a clever Englishman. If he is as clever as his name, Kilbane will have to keep his eyes wide open.

The Saratoga Handicap for $7,000, which is to be run on August 1, Sir Hildreth's Purchase is rated best among the three-year-olds; and we have to shoulder 118 pounds. Sir Barton, a great Canadian three-year-old, is not named.

The game in the St. John League this afternoon between the Y. M. C. I. and St. Peter's should draw a record crowd. Both teams will present their strongest line-ups and a good game is anticipated. The game between the Y. M. C. I. and Fairville this evening should also prove a good attraction. The afternoon game will start at 7 o'clock and the evening game at 9 o'clock.

The St. John horses have not been making much of a showing so far this season. There is a good deal of time for them to come to the fore and win some of the money.

BALLOT A GREAT SIRE
His Offspring Have Won Total Of $49,000 This Season

The successes of the sons and daughters of Ballot, son of Voter and Cerito, and one of the greatest three and four year olds of his time, now the head of Charles H. Berryman's Elmendorf Stud in Kentucky, is one of the salient features of the current racing season. Although there is no great stake winning two or three year old among the two dozen money winners that are keeping Ballot's name before the public this season, the gross sum of legitimate earnings accredited to them is $49,000. Ballot stands second among the stallions of the country in active stud service as regards the earnings of his progeny in stakes and purses.

Star Shoot alone leads him, and Star Shoot's pre-eminence is owing entirely to the amazing successes of Sir Barton the best three-year-old special of the early spring—the $25,000 Preakness, the $20,000 Kentucky Derby, the $15,000 Belmont, and $8,000 Withers.

Ballot's biggest money winner is the accomplished Midway, which defeated a first-rate field in the $10,000 Kentucky Handicap. And Midway's gross earnings are only about $16,000. Ballot stands high among the stallions that sire money because of the general service ability of his progeny, a fact that buyers of budding racers will take into account when the yearlings claiming Ballot for sire that are coming up from Kentucky for the August sales are led to the auction block. If Lord Brighton, the best of the smallest two-year-olds of the season of 1918 and a consistent stake winner, had not suffered an accident in training, it is possible that Ballot would be on even terms with Star Shoot as a sire of winners.

Samuel C. Hildreth thinks mightily well of Lord Brighton. "I think he is a box constrictor—he, at least fifty feet long and two feet thick," came the answer.

The veteran campaigners that have been winning for Ballot are Ballard, Basilus, Buford, Bribe, Voter, Breze, Trophy, Bally and Valor. Valor and Bally look like first-rate handicap prospects just now. Valor has improved under the training of William Martin, and Bally only recently trimmed Samuel C. Hildreth's brilliant colt Lucille.

An ardent fan and outdoor sportsman, has become a dependable member of equine society. Andrew Miller is thinking of having Tippet trained for the great Kentucky distance races that are to be decided on the Kentucky tracks in the autumn. Midway also will be trained for these great Kentucky distance races, but he will race at Saratoga in August. He is already at the up-state track, where he was campaigned successfully last summer.

Brookholt, whose dam was Graecula, a daughter of the family of De Mund, Clapton, and Graziallo, is the only Ballot two-year-old that has shown conspicuously good form this year. Brookholt sold for $35,000 a few weeks back, and he is to start in the Saratoga Special.

Ballot will be sons and daughters of Ballot among the yearlings of many Kentucky consignments in the Saratoga sales. But the greatest number will be in Mr. Berryman's Elmendorf shipment. Mr. Berryman will offer a Ballot colt from Rosa Marie and filly from Basilus, and a Ballot colt from Daisy and Paterprise. The Basseting filly is a half-sister of both Waterbass and Waterbush, and is the only one of the family of the ill-starred Ceramic.

Major Thomas Clay McDowell declares that there are no better-looking yearlings in Kentucky than Mr. Berryman's Ballot colts and fillies.

Fred A. Campbell, president of the Trades and Labor Council, last evening installed the officers of the newly formed Blacksmith's Union as follows—J. J. Gibbett, president; D. H. McNutt, vice-president; S. F. Dick, corresponding secretary; A. H. Bunting, financial secretary; J. F. Blake, sergeant-at-arms.

Outing At Coney Fatal To Big Snake
Came Out of Garage to See the Sight and Met Bullets—Police Reserves Called
A snake described by the police as a python, "twelve feet long," emerged unexpectedly yesterday afternoon from the cellar of a garage at Surf avenue and West Fourth street, Coney Island, says the New York Times. After various policemen had fired twelve bullets into the reptile and Police Lieutenant Frank Kenny had dropped a large rock on its head, it was pronounced dead.

It is the opinion of the police that the snake was one of many that were features of a side show at Coney Island last year. The building where the snakes were exhibited was torn down a year ago and a garage erected on the site. The snake is believed to have made the garage his winter quarters. A better behavior or more kindly disposed snake was never seen on Coney Island, but this fact did not prevent a panic on the part of about 200 persons who were within sightseeing range at the time. The women screamed, the men yelled and ran and the children did everything that their elders of both sexes did.

One man had sufficient presence of mind to send in a call for the reserves from the Coney Island police station. "Hurry up," he shouted over the telephone, "for there is the biggest snake in the world running around in Surf avenue."

"What kind of a snake is it?" asked Lieutenant Kenny, who received the call. "I think he is a box constrictor—he, at least fifty feet long and two feet thick," came the answer.
