REQUESTS OF LABOR MEN ARE APPROVED

Council Grants $500 for Labor Day Expenses.

FAIR WAGE CLAUSE

Sacred Concerts on Sunday Will Be Allowed—Meeting to Discuss Teamsters' Stand—Await Reply From the Mill Men

At the adjourned meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon the fair wages question for men employed by the city on day work and indirectly on contract work were discussed informally and two or three departmental matters were disposed of.

The commissioner of public safety, in referring to complaints made to him that the blasting for the new post office foundation was injurious to adjoining property, said that there was no by-law to limit the charge of explosive used in each blast and that proceedings he had taken on similar complaints about the blasting in Courtenay Bay had been of little avail. He said that more he could do in the matter as contractors seemed to think that if the city asked for a certain degree of safety it was an attempt to obstruct the work.

With reference to the petitions for and against the use by teamsters of the north side of King Square as a stand, Commissioner Agar moved that representatives of both sides be heard by the commissioners on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Carried.

Commissioner Schofield recommended that three sheds on the wharves, the McLeod and Pettigill sheds and the Potato warehouse, be freshly painted at an estimated cost of $400 either by tender or by the city employees.

In the same connection Commissioner McLellan remarked on the extreme smokiness of St. John considering the small number of factories in the city, and said that his intention was to bring in a resolution as soon as possible to force some of the larger factories to use smoke condensers.

The application of the Trades and Labor Council for a grant of $800 towards the expenses of the Labor Day parade was then discussed and it was decided that the city should pay certified bills to that amount. E. J. Tighe, who was present said that this grant was only asked for general expenses outside those involved by separate trade organizations.

The council was resolved into a committee of the whole to consider the request of the Trades and Labor Council that the fair wage clause be inserted in all city contracts. Considerable informal discussion of the matter with E. J. Tighe and James Sugrue, who were present, followed. It was finally decided to return the petition to the committee.

Commissioner McLellan moved that permission be granted to the commissioner of public works to allow the use of the King Square bandstand to any band which would volunteer to play sacred music on Sundays between the hours of 8.30 and 5.30, and that a committee be appointed to select the band if more than one volunteered for any day.

In moving his resolution, the commissioner said that he thought some harmless recreation should be provided for the large number of citizens who were unable to leave the city on Sunday. He would move no resolution for music that would in any way conflict with church services or Sunday schools. Commissioner McLellan had inquired as to the feelings of the clergy in the matter, and could state that some of them were in no way opposed to concerts of sacred music at the time mentioned in the resolution. He emphasized the fact that the city would be under no expense as the concerts would be entirely voluntary.

Commissioner Schofield, who expressed himself in favor of the resolution, suggested that a band might also play in Rockwood Park, where large numbers of the citizens gathered on Sundays, but no decision was made in this matter.

The letter from J. Fraser Gregory, on behalf of the lumber mill owners in reply to the city's invitation to meet the men at city hall for a discussion of the strike situation, was referred to, but reply was deferred until the reply from the men is received.

William Maynes took the stand and told of going to the fire and of returning about nine o'clock when John Maynes went out.

The hearing was adjourned until Tuesday afternoon when it is expected that F. E. Williams will be called.

DEVELOPMENTS IN FIRE INQUIRY WERE INTERESTING

Interesting developments arose yesterday afternoon in the investigation into the fire in the old dist mill in City Road. Fred Forrester, for many years and still an employee at the mill, when he went on the stand made the statement that John Maynes in speaking to him previous to the last night of the fire said that he had set the mill afire. Such an offer, he said, had been made him by a local man.

Recorder Baxter asked Maynes to take the stand and explain this. He did take the stand, but denied that he had told Forrester any such thing. F. E. Williams, he said, had offered him $2,000 to close down the mill and convert the plant to other use. He emphatically denied talking of an offer to set fire to the plant.

Mrs. Quilty gave evidence that she was engaged as a nurse in John Maynes' home, that she was there on the night of the fire and that Mr. Maynes came home about nine o'clock and did not leave for the fire until about midnight. William Maynes returned from Quispamis about ten o'clock and was in the barn attending to the horse when the alarm rang.

Miss Geldart told of seeing a man breaking a window in the great mill and entering the building. He came out in a few minutes and walked down the track, brushing off his coat. He turned and again entered the mill and a few minutes after he left she saw the flames.

Her mother went to ring the fire alarm. She could not identify either J. Harvey Brown or John Maynes as the man saying that he was shorter and darker than the other.

William Maynes took the stand and told of going to the fire and of returning about nine o'clock when John Maynes went out.

The hearing was adjourned until Tuesday afternoon when it is expected that F. E. Williams will be called.

MR. FOSTER'S PERIGRINATIONS

(Charlottetown Patriot.)

Hon. George E. Foster is now in China and will leave for Japan about the end of this week. It is stated that when he returns to Canada he will resume by cable the negotiations which he was unable to carry on while in Australia because Mr. Borden was so anxious to get him away from Canada that he sent him to Australia in the midst of a general election there. Mr. Foster has been on the road as Canada's commercial traveller most of the time since he was appointed Minister of Trade and Commerce. So far his greatest achievement has been to make unimportant trade arrangements with countries whose trade with Canada for a year would not suffice to pay Mr. Foster's travelling expenses. Mr. Foster, however, has had a whale of a time as a traveller de luxe at the country's expense, and he has been kept where he could not bother Mr. Borden.

If Mr. Foster were a traveller for a business concern his job would have vanished long ago as a losing investment. The Borden government, however, is a business concern, and they evidently consider Mr. Foster's absence cheap at the price.

BROWNTAIL ITCH SOURCE OF DANGER

A Warning in Bangor Which May Be Applicable in St. John as Well

(Bangor Commercial)

The brown tail moth plague that descended upon Bangor about ten days ago, shows no sign of diminution, the poisonous moths still flying around in thousands every night. Bangor people are becoming aroused to the danger of these insects, both to the fruit and shade trees and to personal health.

A number of local people have been afflicted with the brown tail moth itch, which is an extremely painful malady. There is also danger of inhaling the fine hairs from the moths, which causes a rash and there is imminent danger to all children in this city, who are not acquainted with the harmful character of the brown tails.

Park Commissioner Iverson came into the Commercial Monday morning with brown tail nests, which he discovered four miles out of the city, proving that the pest is not confined to the city limits, and must be fought desperately. He says that the wild cherry trees are most infested with them and advises cutting down all this variety of trees. Next to the wild cherry, the apple trees are covered with the brown tail nests, all ready to hatch out in the month of August.

Commissioner Iverson is of the opinion that Bangor must get into the brown tail fight this fall as soon as the leaves are off in a manner such as the city has never done before. There should be no delay until fall. The fight against brown tails has been going on in a desultory manner for several years, but they are increasing year by year, and the indications are that the greatest fight of all must be carried on from this time forth. Recognizing the danger of the pest is not confined to the city limits, and must be fought desperately. He says that the wild cherry trees are most infested with them and advises cutting down all this variety of trees. Next to the wild cherry, the apple trees are covered with the brown tail nests, all ready to hatch out in the month of August.

Danger to Health
A Bangor physician, in talking with a Commercial reporter on Monday said that one of the worst dangers to the brown tail itch is the possibility of foreign infection getting into the blood by reason of the weakened condition of the skin from the disease. The brown tail itch, he said, generally occurs on the face, neck or wrists or other exposed portion. It lasts from two or three days to a week. If the skin becomes broken serious disease may be introduced into the system.

THE CROWN LANDS

Buy Week at Fredericton Office Under New Act Coming Into Force

(Fredericton Gleaner)
This week promises to be the busiest week of the year in the provincial crown lands department office, in fact it is likely to be the busiest period in the history of the department.

The new crown timber lands act comes into force this week with the consequent changes of the licenses from the old to the new form and the annual payments of renewal mileage, stumpage and bonuses are all due on August 1. This will bring in hundreds of thousands of dollars this week.

Premier Flemming, minister of lands and mines, returned to Woodstock on Saturday evening and it will be in Fredericton again this week. Of the 10,000 square miles of crown timber lands under license in the province, upwards of 7,000 acres have already been applied for under the provisions of the new act. Practically all of both the big and small concerns have notified the minister of their intention to come in under the provisions of the new act, most of them with saw mill licenses.

The August meeting of the provincial government will open here on Tuesday, August 5.
