Invasion of Zululand

Natives Will Be Encouraged and Assisted in Defending Themseives.

Statement by Hon J Chamberlain in Imperial House of Commons.

Roberts Will Force Boers to Fight Under Very Unfavorable Conditions

(Associated Press.) London, Feb. 15 .- Intense satisfaction continues dominant in consequence of Field Marshal Lord Robert's pan of operations, as revealed by dispatches published this morning.

There is no further news of the British advance in the Orange Free State or activity at Modder River, but a feeling of quiet confidence prevails that the strong hands of "Bob's" and the hero of Khartoum are shaping matters towards a much needed decisive victory.

As the St. James Gazette says: Roberts, with his own line well guarded and having little reason to fear only a move which would be deadly, viz, a counterstroke attacking his long line as it swing round, will be able to force the Boers to fight under very unfavorable conditions or abandon their heavy guns and stores, and seek a seek as Colonial Scouts in Zululand.

The fears regarding a Boer attack on Zuruland are somewhat allayed by a dispatch from Durban which says column of Colonial scouts, after a forced march, have arrived at Eshowe. It is reported they are in spendid fighting trim. They were pursued several times by Boers during the march.

Casualties at Rensburg. The official list of casualties at Rens-

Wounded, 6 officers and 14 men. Missing, 2 officers and 8 men.

Killed, Col. Ingham, Worcester Regiment; Major G. Reddy, and Lieuts. J. Powell and J. C. Roberts, all Austral-

Boers and Zululand. London, Feb. 15. In the House of Commons to-day, during the course of a reply to a question relative to the probable Boer invasion of Zululand, the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Jos. Chamberiain, said that the government were invaded by the Boers, the natives will be encouraged and assisted in every way in defending themselves."

Mr. Chamber ain's reply confirmed the reports of the invasion of Zulnland, and showed the consequences could not fail to be serious throughout South Africa, as the alarm and unrest of the Zulus was bound to spread to the Natal natives.

The colonial secretary also said that the Natal ministry had notified the home government that it cold not any longer be responsible for the peaceful attitude of the Zulu, as the invasion of their country was contrary to a tacit arrangement that the natives should not be dragged into the war.

ROBERTS'S OPERATIONS.

Line of Retreat of the Boers to Bloemfontein is Intercepted -Burghers' Left Wing Threatened.

New York, Feb. 15. Specials from London to New York papers this morning all tend to the idea that the English military critics believe Roberts has Cronje's forces in a tight place. They look for a decisive battle before the end of the week. The exact situation as seen in London is put by the Herald in these

"Roberts has begun his operations against the Boer army between the Modder River and Kimberley by initiating a flanking movement, which, up to the present time, has proved successful. The drifts referred to in Roberts's messages are all to the east of Methuen's camp on the Modder River within Free State

If he stays he will have to entrench in his rear, or his works will be carried. If his rear is entrenched he will probably be held in check in the present position while Kim-eriey is relieved." news of Roberts's move was not given out until 11 o'clock last evening, out even at that hour the telegraph boards at the clubs and hotels were quickly surrounded by men, who discussed the new advance which is felt to be Energy and Rapidity that augurs well for the events that are going to follow. The Standard's military expert says: "Clip drift appears to be just above David's Graaf. By holding this point Roberts has penetrated the Boer position, which extends from Magersfontein to Jacobsdal. Any Boer forces that may be at Jacobsdal have been isolated from Cronje's main body. The British commander can develop his flank attack against the Boers' left, and a further point in his favor is that the line of retreat of the Boers to Bloemfontein is intercepted. Through the gap which French holds with some 8,000 men, the 6th and 7th divisions will advance and move against the Boer flank." The Tribune says this entire movement with its concentration of nearly all

Cancer Runs In Families.

Those With Hereditary Predisposition Should Take Trea men: in Tim .

The writer on cancer in the British Encyclopedia says that nearly half of all the cases can be traced to hereditary predisposition. Nearly every authority on maligant growths emphasizes the fact that in a large proportion of cases it will be found that either the father or mother grandfather or grandmother, died of the disease. This hereditary tendency to cancer shows that the disease must be of a constitutional nature, and it should also put those persons whose progenitors have died of the disease on their guard to take treatment on the very first indication of its approach. And now light has been shed on the methods of treating this serious malady. The barbarities of the knife territory. With this huge British force and plaster, with their overwhelming percentage of failures and recurrences, have been superseded by a constitutional remedy, that bullds up the depleted strength searches out the cancer poison in every part of the system, and without any cutting or suffering, radically and permanently
